Resource Guide

Generated November 29, 2026 · 1 open facilities · closed facilities are not listed · call before you go: details change quickly

Haiti

COOPI – International Cooperation

Info/Hotline · Open

70 Rue de Tabarre, Tabarre

Phone Italy 39.02.3085057
Web www.coopi.org
Service Temporary

HAITI –

(partial translation)

Oct. 29,2010
Haiti: Emergency cholera

..."where COOPI continues actions to sensitize people about the possible risks of the epidemic: it stresses the vital importance of washing your hands (fortunately our camps are equipped with soap stock in all the basin, located outside the toilet), and drink 'global traité' (water treated with chlorine, purified water)."
...

Oct. 26, 2010
...
COOPI has stepped up activities in the fields during the weekend, through promotion of good hygiene practices tent to tent and camp to camp to educate people about the possible risks of the epidemic. ...

===

http://www.coopi.org/it/cosafacciamo/nelsuddelmondo/dove–interveniamo/paesi/52/haiti/

The earthquake of January 12, 2010 in Haiti has led to very serious consequences both at the infrastructural level psycho–social and economic development. There are nearly a million homeless people living in a camp situation well below minimum standards. The already precarious economic and social system has been further damaged, with consequences that, in all likelihood, will have an impact for years, mostly to the detriment of the most vulnerable and with fewer resources to respond quickly to what happened.

COOPI provides a detailed answer and cross to support the Haitian people hit by the earthquake is not limiting the action to the first emergency response but also focusing on the prevention of future disasters.

Follow all the updates on our site.

Services offered: Medical, Education, Cholera Awareness / Prevention
Campaigns: 2010 /2011 Haiti Cholera Epidemic; 2010 Haiti Earthquake
Updated Dec 15, 2010 · https://reliefdb.org/shelters/7258