These two women are inspiring! They've both lost homes due to wildfire but in all of the chaos, they've helped create the Santiam Canyon Wildfire Relief Fund and are working with Santiam Hospital, Stayton, Oregon to do it.

The idea: People living in Santiam Canyon helping others living in the same community. The goal is to connect families in need, to people who can give, with a team at Santiam Hospital serving as a go–between. The beauty of it? The hospital already has a team dedicated to helping fill needs in the community. Now that team will help people in the canyon rebuild.

Starting 9/12 donations can be made online at www.santiamhospital.org.

Monetary donations can be mailed to:
Santiam Canyon Wildfire Relief Fund
