CWS Situation report: Spring storms 2011
Thursday, April 14, 2011

A series of disasters in recent weeks have marked the end of winter and beginning of spring in the continental United States.
Situation:

A series of disasters in recent weeks have marked the end of winter and beginning of spring in the continental United States.

Among the disasters CWS has been tracking:

* Flooding in several New Jersey counties, with major damage to some 400 homes.
* A tornado in Greensburg, PA, south of Pittsburgh; some 60 homes affected, half of them destroyed. As well, a tornado in Rayne, LA, damaged about 100 homes.
* Wildfires in Colorado; New Mexico; Oklahoma; Texas; Washington.
* Preparations underway for spring flooding in the Upper Midwest, including the Red River Valley, particularly Fargo and Grand Forks, ND, as well as Devil's Lake, ND. The lake at Devil's Lake is close to overflowing and has no outlet; it has quadrupled in size in the last 20 years.
* Preparations are also under way for possible spring floods in Iowa where the Mississippi River may exceed 1993 record levels at Davenport and elsewhere. The citizens of Iowa were also impacted by severe storms and tornadoes on April 9th and 10th.

CWS response:

Partners in Fargo, including the American Red Cross, Lutheran Disaster Response and UMCOR, have asked CWS for CWS Blankets as a pre–positioning move. In addition, CWS plans to allocate $2,000 for spiritual care and other community–based efforts in Devil's Lake. CWS staff are expected to assist efforts in Devil's Lake later this year.

CWS is monitoring the impact of spring storms in Iowa and elsewhere to determine if we can assist with immediate material support (CWS Emergency Clean–up Buckets, Hygiene Kits, or Blankets) as well as with Long Term Recovery training and support.

HOW TO HELP: Contributions to support CWS emergency response efforts may be made online, sent to your denomination, or to Church World Service, P.O. Box 968, Elkhart, IN 46515.

Japan Earthquake and Tsunami: CWS Situation Report #2; 03–13–11

Source: Church World Service (CWS)
Date: 13 Mar 2011

CHURCH WORLD SERVICE
DEVELOPMENT AND HUMANITARIAN ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

SITUATION: Rescue efforts continue in Japan following the March 11 tsunami and earthquake that in recent days has taken another potentially deadly turn as the country tries to deal with a growing nuclear crisis.

Japan's prime minister, Naoto Kan, is describing the situation as the worst in the country since World War II, with several nuclear plants in danger of melting down.

As for the direct tsunami and earthquake responses, authorities said the official number of those confirmed dead is nearly 1,600 but is expected to rise substantially; the death toll alone in the Miyagi region could exceed 10,000.

Some 310,000 people have been evacuated to emergency shelters, the BBC reported.

The two immediate needs for affected families include rescue for those who are trapped and the mobilization of relief goods to evacuation sites. Rescue interventions are primarily being carried out by the Self–Defense Force of Japan and other specialized agencies including the Japan Rescue Association. The Japanese government has requested international assistance in response to this massive disaster.

"Although Japan is considered among the most advanced countries in terms of disaster risk reduction measures, the damage caused by the unprecedented scale of this disaster is beyond imagination," said Takeshi Komino, the head of emergencies for CWS Asia Pacific.

"The government is currently focusing on the search and rescue operations as well preventing a catastrophic nuclear crisis from two severely damaged nuclear power plants," he said. "Increasing humanitarian needs are being reported from evacuation sites including a lack of ready–to–eat food, water, health and sanitation kits and blankets."

RESPONSE: CWS has been in contact with the Japan Platform, a coalition of 32 non–governmental organizations, government service agencies and media outlets. CWS may provide support and channel contributions to individual members of the Japan Platform. The Platform has historically been a vital partner to CWS in previous lobbying efforts towards the Japanese government for disaster risk reduction activities in Afghanistan.

Eight member non–governmental organizations of the Japan Platform have already started assessing needs and initiated emergency response activities. These members include Association for Aid and Relief Japan, Adventist Development and Relief Agency, Civic Force, Institute of Cultural Affairs, JEN, Japan Rescue Association, Nippon International Cooperation for Community Development and Peace Winds Japan. CWS is also coordinating with other ACT Alliance members in the Asia–Pacific region as the international response to this disaster scales up.

"Building upon accumulated CWS and ACT Alliance experience in the region, CWS hopes to mobilize support to Japanese NGOs that are on the ground," Komino said. "Contributions from partners and supporters will be used to fill critical gaps in meeting the basic needs of victims in and around the evacuation sites."

Church World Service is also prepared to support, if needed, efforts of faith–based partners in Japan, including the National Christian Council of Japan and the United Church of Christ of Japan.

CWS anticipates issuing an appeal for this disaster once more specifics are known about precise partnerships and response efforts.

HOW TO HELP: Contributions to support CWS emergency response efforts may be sent to your denomination or to Church World Service, P.O. Box 968, Elkhart, IN 46515.

Church World Service is a member of the ACT Alliance, a global coalition of churches and agencies engaged in development, humanitarian assistance and advocacy.

ATLANTA (Sept. 22, 2009) –The Atlanta Community ToolBank is extending free tool usage to groups participating in flood related clean–up efforts. Nonprofits, neighborhood associations, schools, faith–based organizations and other eligible charitable groups can borrow equipment for up to two weeks. The ToolBank inventory includes over 150 tool types with everything from trash grabbers to large ladders ready for action.

"The Atlanta Community ToolBank is a nonprofit for nonprofits," said Patty Russart, ToolBank's Executive Director. "Our Tool Lending Program enables groups across greater Atlanta to complete more projects, while saving crucial funds for use in their respective core missions. When unexpected emergencies such as this arise, we feel compelled to help meet the urgent needs our charitable sector may not have the funding in place to support. "

The ToolBank operates as an agency membership program, with eligible groups paying a nominal annual fee to access the inventory. Typically, members pay a small handling fee to borrow tools in order to help repair and maintain tools. Due to the anticipated need for clean–up resources, all handling fees will be waived for any project directly related to the recent flood damage. Agencies will need join the ToolBank in order to borrow tools, with the added benefit of year–round inventory access!

"ToolBank membership enables eligible charitable groups to use tools throughout the year and shop our Rescue & Reuse program, which features a variety of new and gently used sundries including small hardware, cleaning products and painting accessories at 90% below retail pricing," Russart explained. "Membership is required for any tool usage in order to ensure accountability and proper tracking. Fortunately, the generosity of our community donors and corporate sponsors enables us to maintain low cost membership range of $10–$100, with annual membership dues based on each organization's individual budget."

In addition to monetary support, the Atlanta Community ToolBank accepts new and gently used tool donations year–round. "Neighbor helping neighbor is the founding principle behind all ToolBank operations," stated Jessica Pohto, ToolBank Board President. "A crisis such as the current flooding throughout Georgia illustrates why ToolBank inventory is so vital and must continue to place safe, appropriate equipment in the hands of working volunteers."

The ToolBank has developed a top ten list of available flood recovery tools which are ready for check–out:

ATLANTA, Ga. -- Recent floods were very disruptive, creating challenges for flood survivors that will continue long after the initial cleanup. The first step to recovery is only a phone call or click away.

Register For Assistance

If you have insurance, you should contact your insurance agent first. Knowing the amount of coverage your policy provides will help FEMA assist with unmet and underinsured needs. Next, call the FEMA toll-free registration number 24 hours a day, seven days a week at 800-621-FEMA (3362), TTY at 800-462-7585 for the speech and hearing impaired or register online at www.disasterassistance.gov. Registration normally takes less than half an hour.

FEMA disaster assistance will not restore individuals and households to their pre-disaster condition. It helps get safe and sanitary housing and meet other critical needs so flood survivors begin their long-term recovery. If a loss is covered by another source, such as insurance, or is taken care of by a volunteer group, donation or gift, FEMA cannot pay for that cost again. Duplicate payments are prohibited by law.

FEMA DISASTER PROGRAMS

Temporary Housing – Rental assistance for two months for those whose homes are unlivable.

Repair – Homeowners may receive a grant for minimal home repairs and replacement of essential household items that are not covered by insurance to make damaged dwellings safe, sanitary and functional.

Other Needs Assistance (ONA) – applicants receive grants for necessary expenses and serious needs caused by the disaster. This includes medical, dental, funeral, personal property, transportation, vehicle repair or replacement, moving and storage, and other expenses that FEMA approves. The homeowner may need to apply for an SBA loan before receiving this grant.

U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) Loan – After registering, many applicants, including homeowners, renters and businesses, will receive an SBA loan application in the mail. If you receive one, you are strongly urged to complete and return the application to keep the door open for other types of assistance. If a home loan is not appropriate, you may be referred to the state/FEMA Other Needs Assistance (ONA) grant program–but SBA must decline your loan application first. You are not obligated to take an SBA loan if approved, but if the loan is offered and refused, there is no referral to ONA.

FEMA assistance, also referred to as a grant, does not have to be repaid. SBA federal disaster loans used to repair or replace damaged or destroyed property are offered at low–interest rates to those who qualify.

Other Forms of Assistance

Disaster Unemployment Assistance –Workers in 17 counties may be eligible for Federal Disaster Unemployment Assistance (DUA) to compensate for loss of income directly related to the September storms and flooding. Unlike state unemployment insurance, DUA provides benefits to self–employed business people, farmers, commission–paid employees, and others not typically covered by the state unemployment insurance program. People who think they may be eligible for benefits should call the Georgia Department of Labor toll–free customer service line at 877–709–8185 or visit www.dol.state.ga.us to be directed to the nearest career center.

Disaster Legal Services – People in those same counties may also qualify for free legal help for disaster–related issues such as landlord–tenant disputes, insurance claims, unemployment benefits, consumer law and housing law. The service is provided by the State Bar of Georgia Young Lawyers Division, the American Bar Association Young Lawyers Division, the Georgia Legal Services Program and FEMA.

Apply for legal services by calling, toll–free, 866–584–8027.

Crisis Counseling – Free crisis counseling is available to anyone suffering from anxiety, depression or stress from the flooding and storms. Individuals can call the Georgia Crisis Access Line at 800–715–4225 or the Georgia Suicide and Crisis Hotline at 800–784–2433. Both lines are open 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

The counties under the disaster declaration for Individual Assistance are Bartow, Carroll, Catoosa, Chattooga, Cherokee, Cobb, Coweta, DeKalb, Douglas, Fulton, Gwinnett, Heard, Newton, Paulding, Rockdale, Stephens and Walker.

FEMA's mission is to support our citizens and first responders to ensure that as a nation we work together to build, sustain, and improve our capability to prepare for, protect against, respond to, recover from, and mitigate all hazards.

» 2009 Region IV News Releases

ATLANTA, Ga. –– A Disaster Recovery Center (DRC) operated by the State of Georgia and the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) opened today in Cobb County for those affected earlier this week by severe storms and flooding.

The DRC is located at The Threadmill, 5000 Austell/Powder Springs Road, Suite 151 in Austell, and is open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. seven days a week until further notice.

People who suffered losses can get person–to–person assistance at the centers from specialists skilled in many disaster–related subjects.

Disaster officials ask that before visiting the centers, people first apply for assistance by registering online at www.DisasterAssistance.gov or by calling 800–621–FEMA (3362) or TTY 800–462–7585. The toll–free numbers are staffed seven days a week, 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. Help in all languages is available.

Once registered, disaster recovery specialists at the recovery center can check an individual's case, answer questions about their claim, or review information needed to process their claim. Recovery specialists also can supply contacts for other programs that may be able to help.

U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) representatives will be at the DRC to answer any questions about the SBA's low–interest disaster loan program for homeowners, renters, businesses of all sizes and private non–profit organizations. These loans are to repair or replace real estate and/or personal property damaged by the storms and flooding.

Representatives will help complete and accept SBA disaster loan application. Anyone not able to go to a DRC should call the SBA Customer Service Center from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., Monday through Friday, and Saturday and Sunday, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., EST, toll–free at 800–659–2955 for information and assistance, or visit the SBA Web site at www.sba.gov/services/disasterassistance or send an email to disastercustomerservice@sba.gov.

Virtually all GEMA employees are on 24-hour call to assist local authorities in responding to emergencies. In addition, they staff the State Operations Center (SOC) when a disaster or emergency threatens, as well as prior to and during large-scale events.

When the SOC is activated, it is staffed not only by GEMA, but also by representatives of more than a dozen other organizations with responsibility for disaster response efforts including state and federal agencies, volunteer, and private sector organizations.

Disaster Relief is a ministry-based approach to impacting people for the Kingdom of God. Our motto of "Serving Christ in Crisis" has two implications:

We serve Christ to those persons who are the victims of disaster. When we minister to persons in need we are serving Christ (Matthew 25:46).

The goal of Disaster Relief is to provide some measure of normalcy for the victims of a disaster event.

Disaster Relief focuses on five areas of ministry:

Chaplaincy
Child Care
Clean-Up & Recovery
Communications
Feeding

Everyone who wants to be involved in this ministry must be "Phase 1" trained. This training is offered three times each year in various locations of the state.

The Disaster Relief Ministry of the Georgia Baptist Convention assists the victims of disaster by providing trained volunteers to man and operate 55 mobile kitchens, a capacity of 10,000 meals a day for each unit.

Georgia Baptist also provides trained volunteers to man and operate clean-up and recovery units (mud-out and chainsaw teams).

Georgia Baptist also provides trained volunteers to man and operate temporary communications units utilizing HAM radio.

Georgia Baptist also provides trained volunteers to provide chaplaincy after a disaster.

"For me, the Red Cross is more than an institution. It stands for an ideal–one in which humanity must think, feel, and act with compassion toward the world's suffering peoples…To me, the Red Cross is a light in the darkness. The recent floods in the metro Atlanta area have affected hundreds of individuals and families across the region. With your help, we can begin to address the urgent and basic needs of these flood victims.

United Way of Metropolitan Atlanta is working with a disaster network of more than 560 partners to support the community's first-responders. These partners include relief organizations that your donations help support, such as the American Red Cross and The Salvation Army. We are in constant communication with these organizations, and are providing assistance and coordination as needed.

Based on our involvement with disaster relief efforts following Hurricane Katrina and last year's Atlanta tornadoes, we know that it often takes people up to a year or longer to fully recover from a disaster. Many families will be financially devastated and will need immediate and continuing support. That's why it is so critical that, together, we plan for both the short- and long-term recovery of those affected.

Here's how you can help.

Food Crisis Ausell Nonprofit Need Warehouse In Georgia
Our nonprofit organization is seeking a conveyance of a warehouse/ and or monetary funds to purchase in Atlanta, Ga to help us assist with our on-going disaster relief efforts. We have offers of support with in-kind goods, however we are in dire need of a warehouse to be able to store and distribute these items. Our past disaster relief outreach involved 911, Hurricane Katrina, and Georgia Flood victims. Our present on-going outreach also includes the following states: New York, Virginia, North Carolina and Georgia.

DISASTER RELIEF AGENCY
Our disaster relief program is provided through in-kind assistance to individuals, and families in locations whose property has been damaged or destroyed and whose losses are not covered by insurance. It is meant to help them with household and clothing that cannot be covered in other ways.

Our crisis relief agency that was instrumental in the 911 relief efforts. Our nonprofit was awarded "New Yorker of the Week" for the efforts in which we reached out to the youths who had lost parents/and or relatives in this horrific act.
We were also instrumental in assisting Hurricane Katrina victims with clothing, books, toys, that had relocated Georgia. There are still many of these individuals who are in need of training and employment. With our training expertise we expect to be able to train and offer employment in the future.

Our P.L.U.S. (Positive Learning Understanding Self Program) is a program that we are seeking donors who will through either financial/and or new in-kind donations help us with our programs for obese public school high school young girls. There has been a rapid increase in the prevalence of youth overweight and its resulting health and academic problems have signaled an alarm for those of us who are invested in our children's health and development. The severity of the problem calls for entities to work together toward the prevention of overweight among youth and to more effectively intervene when a young person has been identified as overweight or at risk of overweight. More than 18 million young people in this country are overweight or obese. In fact, the U.S. now has the highest percentage of overweight youth in the nation's history. The excess pounds are not just a cosmetic concern. Recent research has helped us understand the multiple tolls that excess weight takes on both mental and physical health. Our after school program is designed to assist these young girls awareness in nutrition, physical fitness, self-esteem, make-up and a beauty pageant finale. Your freely willed tax-deductable donations will help us make a difference in changing the lifestyles of these young overweight teens.

Ewing Road Disaster Relief 9/30-10/3

Dear Church Family,

Let me share with you our flood relief plan of action and volunteer needs for the remainder of this week.

Wednesday thru Friday:

Serving Lunch from 11:30am-1:30pm and Dinner from 5:00pm-7:00pm ~ We need 5-7 volunteers to help serve the meals. The meals are being prepared and delivered by the American Red Cross. Our volunteers are serving the meals in our fellowship hall.

Water Bottle Distribution from 11:00am-1:00pm and from 5:00pm-7:00pm ~ The water bottle distribution is our primary contact for informing and reminding our neighbors about the meal option.

Wednesday Night ~ We would like to be able to blitz the neighborhoods with volunteers to distribute water bottles and do outreach and evangelism in the neighborhoods. This will start at 5:00pm and run until 8:00pm.
We are serving meals and distributing water on Saturday as well. However, we are being blessed by Truett-McConnell College with 20-25 college students to handle all of the relief work on Saturday! Praise the Lord!

Due to the overwhelming response of donations and where we are in the relief ministry process, we are no longer able to accept any donations of supplies or materials at this point. There may be the need down the road for more as the current supplies and materials are distributed, but for now Ewing Road and just about all of our donation organizations are full. If you have supplies or items you would like to donate, please contact the church office for information about where you take certain items.

If you have any questions, please feel free to contact the church office (770-941-2467 / erbcoffice@bellsouth.net).

With the Father's Love,

Pastor Michael

Word from Pastor Robert C. Moore, Sr.
Dear Members & Guests:

"The Latter Shall Be Greater Than the Former."

Dear Members & Friends of New Birth Community:

As many of you are aware, the Austell & Powder Springs, Georgia area experienced severe flooding Sunday (9/20) & Monday (9/21) resulting from the harsh rains and overflow of the Sweetwater Creek. Unfortunately our church property including the sanctuary and entire first floor of the building experienced flooding. Therefore, at this time, please do not attempt to drive to the church (street closed) and more importantly, do not attempt to enter the building as a safety precaution.

Like many other Austell homeowners and local businesses, we've already begun the restoration process. We've contacted our insurance company, local officials and utility companies.

For those who would like to submit their tithes and/or offerings prior to service on Sunday, please feel free to do so via credit/debit card on–line at by clicking the donation link on the right of our front page: www.newbirthcommunity.com. Church contributions can also be given to your Shepherd Leader or brought to our alternative church site on Sunday. I look forward to seeing each member on Sunday. Thank you and continue to stay in prayer as our contractors restore our church facility in the coming weeks. On this Sunday, September 27th, 2009, we will hold our 10am worship service at InfoMart at 1582 Terrell Mill Road, SE, Marietta, Georgia.

Meanwhile, should you have further questions and/or concerns, please contact your "Shepherd Leader".

Sweetwater Valley C.A.M.P. to Serve as Central Assistance Location for Flood Victims

Austell, Ga. (September 30, 2009.) On Wednesday, September 30, more than 60 members of the Cobb County community including nonprofit leaders, government and local schools, and churches assembled at South Cobb High School for the second meeting of agencies to address the needs of Cobb County flood victims. The meeting, also attended by Representative Alisha Thomas–Morgan, District 39, was scheduled to discuss the plans to ensure the immediate and long–term needs of flood victims are met.

Sweetwater Valley C.A.M.P. located at 6289 Veterans Memorial Highway in Austell has been designated as a central location for flood assistance. Starting Monday, October 5, flood victims can be seen Monday through Saturday, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Case managers from Sweetwater Valley C.A.M.P. and local agencies including The Center for Family Resources, MUST Ministries, and The Salvation Army will be present to provide resources including financial assistance, temporary housing assistance, food, clothing, diapers, hygiene items, school supplies and water.

Contact Sweetwater Valley C.A.M.P at 770.819.0662 or www.svcamp.org.

“Case managers will work one–on–one with families to identify unmet needs, intermediate and long–term needs, said Darlene Duke, executive director of Sweetwater Valley C.A.M.P. We have to be there for the long haul. We are very grateful to all the agencies supporting us and rallying behind us to make this happen.”

Donations items are needed to support the relief effort including cash donations; basic food staples; gift cards to Walmart, Kmart, Target, etc; hygiene items, diapers and cleaning supplies. Donations of furniture should be given to the Atlanta Furniture Bank. They can be reached via the web at www.AtlantaFurnitureBank.org. You can also call David DiCaprio at 404.355.8530, ext. 222.

Cash donations clearly marked with ‘FLOOD’ can be made to community partners: Sweetwater Valley C.A.M.P., Cobb Disaster Recovery, The Center for Family Resources, MUST Ministries and the United Way of Cobb County.

“I am proud to see so many local community organizations, government and churches coming together to support our community, share resources and connect with one another, said Representative Alisha Thomas–Morgan, District 39. We appreciate the outpouring of support and want people to continue to make donations and realize the support is needed on a long–term basis.”

Current volunteer needs include sorting clothes and food, crowd control, administrative tasks, mudding and construction repair. Non–construction volunteers should contact Jenaila Hawkins at MUST Ministries at jhawkins@mustministries.org or (770) 790–3873. Skilled volunteers looking to provide construction, plumbing, or carpentry expertise should contact Gene DeWulf, Cobb Disaster Recovery at gdewulf@uwma.org or (404) 589–9438.

“CFR is proud to be a part of this effort and to support Sweetwater Valley C.A.M.P as this community comes together in support of one another, Jeri Barr, CFR CEO said. The cooperative and collaborative effort of these organizations and the generosity of this community will help to ensure as many residents as possible receive the assistance they need.”

Atlanta Flood Update: Wednesday, September 23
September 23, 2009

Been on the ground today in those areas most affected by the flood in Cherokee county. Local needs have been our first priority. I was able to give away some food and gift cards to families in need as well as evaluate the true situations of the calls we received. I'm happy to say that from all the resources gathered that the need for immediate assistance in Cherokee county is low. Those that I met that are in some need are making it with the help of neighbors and other support from friends and family, which is awesome. There are five families as of today that are still looking for shelter for an indefinite amount of time. If you are interested in meeting this need contact GTN immediately and we will go from there.

Many of you are local and are looking to help and wanting to donate supplies. And since GTN is about connecting people like you to the community of need we are expanding our search for the need to downtown Atlanta. We are attempting right now to partner with a local city church that is organizing and mobilizing for flood victims (video below). So feel free to contact me for donations of all supplies: clothes, toiletries, food, etc. We will be gathering them and taking them to the church in the city. I also hope to give you more volunteer opportunities as I meet and evaluate the needs in the city.

Needed items:

– Canned foods
– Toiletries of all kinds
– Underwear, socks
– Diapers
– Wipes

You may drop off donations at any of Grace to the Nations' collection sites. Contact locations for drop off availability or hours of operation. If you have a large donation and would like to arrange for special pick–up, contact Grace to the Nations at 404.819.5520

Atlanta Flood Update
September 22, 2009

Grace to the Nations (GTN) is receiving a variety of calls from both supporters and those in need. We are not a disaster relief ministry (though perhaps we should start that ministry???), however we are doing what we can to assist and connect folks. Thanks for the overwhelming calls of support. Many of you have offered your time, services, and tools. Churches have offered space and resources as well. So thanks and God bless you.

For the most part, locally, the government services have handled the immediate needs. From the calls we've received homes are still flooded and wet and the clean up is yet to begin or in the initial stages. Families are devastated at the loss of much of their material possessions and those calling GTN have little to no support structure (church, family, etc.). So be praying for these families.

What is GTN currently doing? We are trying to focus on immediate needs of food, clothing, and shelter while the larger agencies (govt. and nonprofs) mobilize. We have already started the process of pointing people to other resources and we are trying to do this relationally and hold their hands and head up while dealing with larger nonprofits and the government, which can be very intimidating in and of itself. If you would like information about a specific family, perhaps you would like to come along beside them and personally encourage them and help them more intimately, please contact GTN. We will try to connect you.

That's it for now, I'll try to update with more information as the needs come. Follow www.facebook.com/GracetotheNations or twitter @grace2nations for more updates.

From their website:

GAVOAD: Partnership Before, During, and After Disaster

How GAVOAD Serves Its Membership:

History:

Georgia Voluntary Organizations Active in Disaster (GAVOAD) is a coalition of voluntary organizations that have a mission before, during, and after disasters that occur in Georgia.
After Hurricane Camille in 1969, many national voluntary organizations shared their mutual concern about the lack of coordination between their agencies. Representatives of the voluntary organizations began meeting regularly to share their respective activities, concerns, and frustrations. Their goal was, and still is, to jointly minimize duplication of effort and more efficiently manage activities during disasters. GAVOAD was formed to expand this movement of interagency cooperation, coordination, communication, and collaboration to Georgia.
Today, GAVOAD is the primary forum used by the voluntary organizations in Georgia to coordinate activities with each other.

Organization:

GAVOAD voting members are organizations with a statewide disaster response and/or relief and recovery mission.

GAVOAD recognizes local VOAD's as nonvoting members to provide local voluntary organizations an opportunity to work together.

GAVOAD also accepts government and corporate entities as nonvoting partners.

GAVOAD is a non–profit 501 (c) (3) corporation governed by a Board of Directors.

GAVOAD meets quarterly.

GAVOAD is NOT a service delivery organization.
GAVOAD supports its members independent relief and recovery services by providing a forum for voluntary organizations active in disaster to practice the four C's:

• Cooperation – encouraging working together and information exchange
• Coordination – fostering understanding and providing a liaison with public offices
• Communication – providing information to members and the general public through audio–visual, print and electronic means including newsletters, PowerPoint programs, brochures, electronic discussion lists, and websites

• Collaboration – encouraging members to work in partnership with each other and with other associations through joint seminars, board meetings, conferences, training programs, and meetings before, during, and after disasters

GAVOAD provides its members with a strong liaison and a common voice with state emergency management, including a seat in the State Emergency Operations Center (SEOC) and a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with the Division of Homeland Security and Emergency Management.

• GAVOAD Conference Calls – provide an opportunity for all GAVOAD and local VOAD agencies and partners involved in a particular incident to talk with each other and coordinate their work.
• Joint Training – combines the resources and efforts of GAVOAD members and partners to provide multiple opportunities to train together through conferences and exercises. Joint agency volunteer training brings in state and national experts to speak on issues of joint concern including communications, case management, response and recovery skills, and many other subjects.
• Joint Information Efforts – put GAVOAD members in front of emergency managers and other public officials on a regular basis throughout the year with forums, booths, and other efforts to jointly inform emergency managers and the public about the capabilities of all the state and local VOAD partner organizations.
• Annual NVOAD Conference – GAVOAD annually provides scholarships to send member and VOAD leaders to the annual National VOAD Conference to network and learn from other state and national VOAD leaders.

Publications and Resources

GAVOAD, in partnership with NVOAD produces resources for state and local members that are available in print or are downloadable from the NVOAD website.

• VOAD Pamphlets and PowerPoint – help state and local VOAD members explain the VOAD concept to government, response and recovery agency leaders, potential new members and partners and the public in general. Through NVOAD, GAVOAD provides templates for these resources that allow local VOADs to “personalize” the program for their specific area with a professional look that is consistent in design with both the NVOAD and GAVOAD programs
• Design for Success – an NVOAD leadership tool that details the goals any VOAD should strive for and methods for achieving those goals
• Long–Term Recovery Manual – an NVOAD tool to assist state and local VOAD leaders with preparing for cooperative long–term recovery work
• Volunteer Management Manual – an NVOAD tool to assist state and local VOAD leaders with preparing for the cooperative management of both affiliated and unaffiliated volunteers.

It's Your First Step to Recovery

Release Date: September 29, 2009
Release Number: 1858–014

» 2009 Region IV News Releases

ATLANTA, Ga. –– Recent floods were very disruptive, creating challenges for flood survivors that will continue long after the initial cleanup. The first step to recovery is only a phone call or click away.

Register For Assistance

If you have insurance, you should contact your insurance agent first. Knowing the amount of coverage your policy provides will help FEMA assist with unmet and underinsured needs. Next, call the FEMA toll–free registration number 24 hours a day, seven days a week at 800–621–FEMA (3362), TTY at 800–462–7585 for the speech and hearing impaired or register online at www.disasterassistance.gov. Registration normally takes less than half an hour.

FEMA disaster assistance will not restore individuals and households to their pre–disaster condition. It helps get safe and sanitary housing and meet other critical needs so flood survivors begin their long–term recovery. If a loss is covered by another source, such as insurance, or is taken care of by a volunteer group, donation or gift, FEMA cannot pay for that cost again. Duplicate payments are prohibited by law.

FEMA DISASTER PROGRAMS

Temporary Housing – Rental assistance for two months for those whose homes are unlivable.

Repair – Homeowners may receive a grant for minimal home repairs and replacement of essential household items that are not covered by insurance to make damaged dwellings safe, sanitary and functional.

Other Needs Assistance (ONA) – applicants receive grants for necessary expenses and serious needs caused by the disaster. This includes medical, dental, funeral, personal property, transportation, vehicle repair or replacement, moving and storage, and other expenses that FEMA approves. The homeowner may need to apply for an SBA loan before receiving this grant.

U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) Loan – After registering, many applicants, including homeowners, renters and businesses, will receive an SBA loan application in the mail. If you receive one, you are strongly urged to complete and return the application to keep the door open for other types of assistance. If a home loan is not appropriate, you may be referred to the state/FEMA Other Needs Assistance (ONA) grant program–but SBA must decline your loan application first. You are not obligated to take an SBA loan if approved, but if the loan is offered and refused, there is no referral to ONA.

FEMA assistance, also referred to as a grant, does not have to be repaid. SBA federal disaster loans used to repair or replace damaged or destroyed property are offered at low–interest rates to those who qualify.

Other Forms of Assistance

Disaster Unemployment Assistance –Workers in 17 counties may be eligible for Federal Disaster Unemployment Assistance (DUA) to compensate for loss of income directly related to the September storms and flooding. Unlike state unemployment insurance, DUA provides benefits to self–employed business people, farmers, commission–paid employees, and others not typically covered by the state unemployment insurance program. People who think they may be eligible for benefits should call the Georgia Department of Labor toll–free customer service line at 877–709–8185 or visit www.dol.state.ga.us to be directed to the nearest career center.

Disaster Legal Services – People in those same counties may also qualify for free legal help for disaster–related issues such as landlord–tenant disputes, insurance claims, unemployment benefits, consumer law and housing law. The service is provided by the State Bar of Georgia Young Lawyers Division, the American Bar Association Young Lawyers Division, the Georgia Legal Services Program and FEMA.

Apply for legal services by calling, toll–free, 866–584–8027.

Crisis Counseling – Free crisis counseling is available to anyone suffering from anxiety, depression or stress from the flooding and storms. Individuals can call the Georgia Crisis Access Line at 800–715–4225 or the Georgia Suicide and Crisis Hotline at 800–784–2433. Both lines are open 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

The counties under the disaster declaration for Individual Assistance are Bartow, Carroll, Catoosa, Chattooga, Cherokee, Cobb, Coweta, DeKalb, Douglas, Fulton, Gwinnett, Heard, Newton, Paulding, Rockdale, Stephens and Walker.

FEMA's mission is to support our citizens and first responders to ensure that as a nation we work together to build, sustain, and improve our capability to prepare for, protect against, respond to, recover from, and mitigate all hazards.

It's Your First Step to Recovery

Release Date: September 29, 2009
Release Number: 1858–014

» 2009 Region IV News Releases

ATLANTA, Ga. –– Recent floods were very disruptive, creating challenges for flood survivors that will continue long after the initial cleanup. The first step to recovery is only a phone call or click away.

Register For Assistance

If you have insurance, you should contact your insurance agent first. Knowing the amount of coverage your policy provides will help FEMA assist with unmet and underinsured needs. Next, call the FEMA toll–free registration number 24 hours a day, seven days a week at 800–621–FEMA (3362), TTY at 800–462–7585 for the speech and hearing impaired or register online at www.disasterassistance.gov. Registration normally takes less than half an hour.

FEMA disaster assistance will not restore individuals and households to their pre–disaster condition. It helps get safe and sanitary housing and meet other critical needs so flood survivors begin their long–term recovery. If a loss is covered by another source, such as insurance, or is taken care of by a volunteer group, donation or gift, FEMA cannot pay for that cost again. Duplicate payments are prohibited by law.

FEMA DISASTER PROGRAMS

Temporary Housing – Rental assistance for two months for those whose homes are unlivable.

Repair – Homeowners may receive a grant for minimal home repairs and replacement of essential household items that are not covered by insurance to make damaged dwellings safe, sanitary and functional.

Other Needs Assistance (ONA) – applicants receive grants for necessary expenses and serious needs caused by the disaster. This includes medical, dental, funeral, personal property, transportation, vehicle repair or replacement, moving and storage, and other expenses that FEMA approves. The homeowner may need to apply for an SBA loan before receiving this grant.

U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) Loan – After registering, many applicants, including homeowners, renters and businesses, will receive an SBA loan application in the mail. If you receive one, you are strongly urged to complete and return the application to keep the door open for other types of assistance. If a home loan is not appropriate, you may be referred to the state/FEMA Other Needs Assistance (ONA) grant program–but SBA must decline your loan application first. You are not obligated to take an SBA loan if approved, but if the loan is offered and refused, there is no referral to ONA.

FEMA assistance, also referred to as a grant, does not have to be repaid. SBA federal disaster loans used to repair or replace damaged or destroyed property are offered at low–interest rates to those who qualify.

Other Forms of Assistance

Disaster Unemployment Assistance –Workers in 17 counties may be eligible for Federal Disaster Unemployment Assistance (DUA) to compensate for loss of income directly related to the September storms and flooding. Unlike state unemployment insurance, DUA provides benefits to self–employed business people, farmers, commission–paid employees, and others not typically covered by the state unemployment insurance program. People who think they may be eligible for benefits should call the Georgia Department of Labor toll–free customer service line at 877–709–8185 or visit www.dol.state.ga.us to be directed to the nearest career center.

Disaster Legal Services – People in those same counties may also qualify for free legal help for disaster–related issues such as landlord–tenant disputes, insurance claims, unemployment benefits, consumer law and housing law. The service is provided by the State Bar of Georgia Young Lawyers Division, the American Bar Association Young Lawyers Division, the Georgia Legal Services Program and FEMA.

Apply for legal services by calling, toll–free, 866–584–8027.

Crisis Counseling – Free crisis counseling is available to anyone suffering from anxiety, depression or stress from the flooding and storms. Individuals can call the Georgia Crisis Access Line at 800–715–4225 or the Georgia Suicide and Crisis Hotline at 800–784–2433. Both lines are open 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

The counties under the disaster declaration for Individual Assistance are Bartow, Carroll, Catoosa, Chattooga, Cherokee, Cobb, Coweta, DeKalb, Douglas, Fulton, Gwinnett, Heard, Newton, Paulding, Rockdale, Stephens and Walker.

FEMA's mission is to support our citizens and first responders to ensure that as a nation we work together to build, sustain, and improve our capability to prepare for, protect against, respond to, recover from, and mitigate all hazards.

MARIETTA, Ga.-- It's not home, but it's dry. The 215 people sleeping on cots at the Cobb County Civic Center have similar stories: when everything you own is underwater, you pack what you can and head for safety.

The Red Cross now expects to keep shelters open for up to two weeks. Spokesman Ruben Brown says, "We'll be here as long as they need us. This is their home right now, and we want them to be safe."

There are several Red Cross Shelters up and running right now: The Cobb County Civic Center in Marietta, Clairmont Hills Presbyterian Church is Decatur, The First United Methodist Church in Lawrenceville, The Cherokee Recreation and Parks Agency in Woodstock, and the Pentecostal Worship Center in Summerville. Brown says the Red Cross will open more shelters if needed.

Cobb County Sheriff Deputies were on duty at the Civic Center. They say it was a quiet night. Just before 5:00AM, a shelter volunteer handed 11Alive's Julie Wolfe a list. "This is what they really need right now," he said. The shelter has run out of: soap, socks, towels, toothpaste, pampers, sanitary napkins, and mouth wash. You can drop off donations at the Civic Center. You can also donate money to the Red Cross at www.redcross.org.

To donate to the American Red Cross Disaster Relief Fund, call 1-800-RED-CROSS (1-800-733-2767) or 1-800-257-7575 (Spanish) or mail your donation to the American Red Cross at P.O. Box 37243, Washington, DC 20013.

ATLANTA, Ga. -- Recent floods were very disruptive, creating challenges for flood survivors that will continue long after the initial cleanup. The first step to recovery is only a phone call or click away.

Register For Assistance

If you have insurance, you should contact your insurance agent first. Knowing the amount of coverage your policy provides will help FEMA assist with unmet and underinsured needs. Next, call the FEMA toll-free registration number 24 hours a day, seven days a week at 800-621-FEMA (3362), TTY at 800-462-7585 for the speech and hearing impaired or register online at www.disasterassistance.gov. Registration normally takes less than half an hour.

FEMA disaster assistance will not restore individuals and households to their pre-disaster condition. It helps get safe and sanitary housing and meet other critical needs so flood survivors begin their long-term recovery. If a loss is covered by another source, such as insurance, or is taken care of by a volunteer group, donation or gift, FEMA cannot pay for that cost again. Duplicate payments are prohibited by law.

FEMA DISASTER PROGRAMS

Temporary Housing - Rental assistance for two months for those whose homes are unlivable.

Repair - Homeowners may receive a grant for minimal home repairs and replacement of essential household items that are not covered by insurance to make damaged dwellings safe, sanitary and functional.

Other Needs Assistance (ONA) - applicants receive grants for necessary expenses and serious needs caused by the disaster. This includes medical, dental, funeral, personal property, transportation, vehicle repair or replacement, moving and storage, and other expenses that FEMA approves. The homeowner may need to apply for an SBA loan before receiving this grant.

U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) Loan - After registering, many applicants, including homeowners, renters and businesses, will receive an SBA loan application in the mail. If you receive one, you are strongly urged to complete and return the application to keep the door open for other types of assistance. If a home loan is not appropriate, you may be referred to the state/FEMA Other Needs Assistance (ONA) grant program-but SBA must decline your loan application first. You are not obligated to take an SBA loan if approved, but if the loan is offered and refused, there is no referral to ONA.

FEMA assistance, also referred to as a grant, does not have to be repaid. SBA federal disaster loans used to repair or replace damaged or destroyed property are offered at low–interest rates to those who qualify.

Other Forms of Assistance

Disaster Unemployment Assistance –Workers in 17 counties may be eligible for Federal Disaster Unemployment Assistance (DUA) to compensate for loss of income directly related to the September storms and flooding. Unlike state unemployment insurance, DUA provides benefits to self–employed business people, farmers, commission–paid employees, and others not typically covered by the state unemployment insurance program. People who think they may be eligible for benefits should call the Georgia Department of Labor toll–free customer service line at 877–709–8185 or visit www.dol.state.ga.us to be directed to the nearest career center.

Disaster Legal Services – People in those same counties may also qualify for free legal help for disaster–related issues such as landlord–tenant disputes, insurance claims, unemployment benefits, consumer law and housing law. The service is provided by the State Bar of Georgia Young Lawyers Division, the American Bar Association Young Lawyers Division, the Georgia Legal Services Program and FEMA.

Apply for legal services by calling, toll–free, 866–584–8027.

Crisis Counseling – Free crisis counseling is available to anyone suffering from anxiety, depression or stress from the flooding and storms. Individuals can call the Georgia Crisis Access Line at 800–715–4225 or the Georgia Suicide and Crisis Hotline at 800–784–2433. Both lines are open 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

The counties under the disaster declaration for Individual Assistance are Bartow, Carroll, Catoosa, Chattooga, Cherokee, Cobb, Coweta, DeKalb, Douglas, Fulton, Gwinnett, Heard, Newton, Paulding, Rockdale, Stephens and Walker.

FEMA's mission is to support our citizens and first responders to ensure that as a nation we work together to build, sustain, and improve our capability to prepare for, protect against, respond to, recover from, and mitigate all hazards.

Joyce Meyer Ministries Sends Disaster Relief Aid to Georgia Flood Region
Water and cleaning supplies already distributed with additional loads en route

Multiple distribution sites set–up throughout northeast Georgia

10 lives claimed, more than 100 roads closed, damage estimates at $250 million

Contact: Randy L. Jones, Joyce Meyer Ministries, 636–349–0303 ext. 2931, rajones@joycemeyer.org

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 25 /Christian Newswire/ –– Joyce Meyer Ministries, through its Hand of Hope missions group, has partnered with Convoy of Hope (www.convoyofhope.org) to bring immediate short–term assistance and aid to the many families and individuals devastated by the destructive floods that have ravaged much of the northeast Georgia region.

The ministry has already sent an initial truckload of water and cleaning supplies that arrived Wednesday, as well as an on–site support team to the hardest hit area of Toccoa, GA. In addition, already dispatched and en route are three additional loads to Douglasville, GA, two of which will be going to a distribution site at Pray's Hill Baptist Church in Douglasville. The local point site is Chapel On The Hill Church who helped set up the Pray's Hill location. Distribution will begin tomorrow morning (Sat., 9/26) at 9:00 a.m.

Also on Saturday, a fifth load will be delivered to a new distribution site opening at The Pantry, a community food ministry located in downtown Douglasville. These new shipments bring the total number of loads to five –– four to Douglasville and one to Toccoa. All distribution sites are run and staffed by dedicated volunteer teams comprised of local groups who coordinated the distribution of the much–needed drinking water and cleaning supplies.

"Floods can be especially challenging as we are forced to wait for water to recede in areas and people to return to their homes so assistance –– both in supplies, support and service –– can be provided," said David Meyer, CEO, Hand of Hope. "Through our grassroots partnership with Convoy of Hope, we were able to respond quickly by sending an assessment team from their disaster response office to Georgia soon after the flooding began."

Kary Kingsland, Convoy of Hope's vice president of disaster response, emphasizes one of the biggest needs is clean drinking water. "As with all flooding conditions this is a hurry up and wait situation due to inaccessibility, however, Convoy of Hope is being proactive and is sending a tractor–trailer load of bottled water and cleaning supplies to meet the most immediate needs."

There are numerous people who still need help as many have lost everything they own. Throughout the region, boil water orders remain in affect. Compounding their crisis, a large number of them have had to wait for days to return to their homes and are only now in the beginning phases of trying to put the pieces of their lives back together. In addition to our prayers, donations, more supplies, and additional volunteer support are greatly needed.

MARIETTA, Ga.–– It's not home, but it's dry. The 215 people sleeping on cots at the Cobb County Civic Center have similar stories: when everything you own is underwater, you pack what you can and head for safety.

The Red Cross now expects to keep shelters open for up to two weeks. Spokesman Ruben Brown says, "We'll be here as long as they need us. This is their home right now, and we want them to be safe."

There are several Red Cross Shelters up and running right now: The Cobb County Civic Center in Marietta, Clairmont Hills Presbyterian Church is Decatur, The First United Methodist Church in Lawrenceville, The Cherokee Recreation and Parks Agency in Woodstock, and the Pentecostal Worship Center in Summerville. Brown says the Red Cross will open more shelters if needed.

Cobb County Sheriff Deputies were on duty at the Civic Center. They say it was a quiet night. Just before 5:00AM, a shelter volunteer handed 11Alive's Julie Wolfe a list. "This is what they really need right now," he said. The shelter has run out of: soap, socks, towels, toothpaste, pampers, sanitary napkins, and mouth wash. You can drop off donations at the Civic Center. You can also donate money to the Red Cross at www.redcross.org.

To donate to the American Red Cross Disaster Relief Fund, call 1–800–RED–CROSS (1–800–733–2767) or 1–800–257–7575 (Spanish) or mail your donation to the American Red Cross at P.O. Box 37243, Washington, DC 20013.

ATLANTA, Ga. –– Recent floods were very disruptive, creating challenges for flood survivors that will continue long after the initial cleanup. The first step to recovery is only a phone call or click away.

Register For Assistance

If you have insurance, you should contact your insurance agent first. Knowing the amount of coverage your policy provides will help FEMA assist with unmet and underinsured needs. Next, call the FEMA toll–free registration number 24 hours a day, seven days a week at 800–621–FEMA (3362), TTY at 800–462–7585 for the speech and hearing impaired or register online at www.disasterassistance.gov. Registration normally takes less than half an hour.

FEMA disaster assistance will not restore individuals and households to their pre–disaster condition. It helps get safe and sanitary housing and meet other critical needs so flood survivors begin their long–term recovery. If a loss is covered by another source, such as insurance, or is taken care of by a volunteer group, donation or gift, FEMA cannot pay for that cost again. Duplicate payments are prohibited by law.

FEMA DISASTER PROGRAMS

Temporary Housing – Rental assistance for two months for those whose homes are unlivable.

Repair – Homeowners may receive a grant for minimal home repairs and replacement of essential household items that are not covered by insurance to make damaged dwellings safe, sanitary and functional.

Other Needs Assistance (ONA) – applicants receive grants for necessary expenses and serious needs caused by the disaster. This includes medical, dental, funeral, personal property, transportation, vehicle repair or replacement, moving and storage, and other expenses that FEMA approves. The homeowner may need to apply for an SBA loan before receiving this grant.

U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) Loan – After registering, many applicants, including homeowners, renters and businesses, will receive an SBA loan application in the mail. If you receive one, you are strongly urged to complete and return the application to keep the door open for other types of assistance. If a home loan is not appropriate, you may be referred to the state/FEMA Other Needs Assistance (ONA) grant program–but SBA must decline your loan application first. You are not obligated to take an SBA loan if approved, but if the loan is offered and refused, there is no referral to ONA.

FEMA assistance, also referred to as a grant, does not have to be repaid. SBA federal disaster loans used to repair or replace damaged or destroyed property are offered at low–interest rates to those who qualify.

Other Forms of Assistance

Disaster Unemployment Assistance –Workers in 17 counties may be eligible for Federal Disaster Unemployment Assistance (DUA) to compensate for loss of income directly related to the September storms and flooding. Unlike state unemployment insurance, DUA provides benefits to self–employed business people, farmers, commission–paid employees, and others not typically covered by the state unemployment insurance program. People who think they may be eligible for benefits should call the Georgia Department of Labor toll–free customer service line at 877–709–8185 or visit www.dol.state.ga.us to be directed to the nearest career center.

Disaster Legal Services – People in those same counties may also qualify for free legal help for disaster–related issues such as landlord–tenant disputes, insurance claims, unemployment benefits, consumer law and housing law. The service is provided by the State Bar of Georgia Young Lawyers Division, the American Bar Association Young Lawyers Division, the Georgia Legal Services Program and FEMA.

Apply for legal services by calling, toll–free, 866–584–8027.

Crisis Counseling – Free crisis counseling is available to anyone suffering from anxiety, depression or stress from the flooding and storms. Individuals can call the Georgia Crisis Access Line at 800–715–4225 or the Georgia Suicide and Crisis Hotline at 800–784–2433. Both lines are open 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

The counties under the disaster declaration for Individual Assistance are Bartow, Carroll, Catoosa, Chattooga, Cherokee, Cobb, Coweta, DeKalb, Douglas, Fulton, Gwinnett, Heard, Newton, Paulding, Rockdale, Stephens and Walker.

FEMA's mission is to support our citizens and first responders to ensure that as a nation we work together to build, sustain, and improve our capability to prepare for, protect against, respond to, recover from, and mitigate all hazards.

Marietta Emergency Flood Shelter

The Red Cross has opened a shelter in Marietta for those displaced by flooding. Red Cross is providing a safe place to stay, food to eat, and a shoulder to lean on for those affected by the flooding which has prompted evacuations, washed out bridges, caused landslides, and closed highways across the area.

“These flood waters can come up very rapidly. People should be prepared to evacuate at a moment’s notice,” said Joe Becker, Senior Vice President Red Cross Disaster Services, “We have shelters open which offer a safe haven for those who have been forced out of their homes.”

As of 6pm on Today, the Red Cross reported that 348 people registered at shelters in Metro Atlanta, and 291 of those were at the Cobb County Civic Center in Marietta.

The shelter is located at the Cobb County Civic Center at 548 S. Marietta Pkwy SE, Marietta, GA. For more information on the shelter, please contact the Red Cross at 404–876–3302.

MUST Ministries
Type of Project: Work Team
Location Category: Local
Location: Marietta, Georgia
Country: USA

MUST Ministries cannot survive without the support of people like you – people who care about the needs of their neighbors. Most of the day–to–day work at MUST is provided by volunteers who give hundreds upon hundreds of hours to serve others. Last year alone volunteers like you contributed over 255,000 hours of their time to MUST to assist their neighbors in need. That means that for every 1 hour of MUST staff time volunteers donated 3 hours 30 minutes of their own time!

MUST provides a wide range of volunteer opportunities in all three program office locations(Marietta, Smyrna, Cherokee). Even if you have a busy schedule, have children, or have a large group you want to volunteer, there is always some way to volunteer with MUST. Our daily volunteer positions are listed here on our website, as well as group service project ideas, but please contact one of our volunteer coordinators today to learn about other opportunities to serve!

MUST's Group Project Coordinator can help you to organize your efforts for a great outreach experience.

Project Extend
Skilled and unskilled volunteers are welcomed. Companies, service organizations and churches provide teams who work under the supervision of an expert leader. Teams of 6–12 persons are ideal for typical projects. Tools are provided, although many of our "regulars" prefer to bring their own. Training is available for volunteers interested in coordinating repair teams.

Be part of creating an exciting new camp to serve children and youth. Contact us to learn more about the type of work involved, from clearing brush, to building cabins, to planning programming.

Wesley Walk for Others
Gather a few friends for an invigorating 6 mile walk around Stone Mountain, or a trek around the grounds of Atlanta Motor Speedway. Walkers who collect pledges of $25 or more earn one of our popular "Giving Feet to the Faith of the Church" tee shirts, plus the satisfaction of helping important ministries.

Wesley Community Centers Board and Committees
We encourage the interest of volunteers who desire to apply their skills and expertise on our board or one of our committees.

Disaster Relief is a ministry–based approach to impacting people for the Kingdom of God. Our motto of “Serving Christ in Crisis” has two implications:

We serve Christ to those persons who are the victims of disaster.
When we minister to persons in need we are serving Christ (Matthew 25:46).
The goal of Disaster Relief is to provide some measure of normalcy for the victims of a disaster event.

Disaster Relief focuses on five areas of ministry:

Chaplaincy | Child Care | Clean–Up & Recovery | Communications | Feeding

Everyone who wants to be involved in this ministry must be "Phase 1" trained. This training is offered three times each year in various locations of the state.

» 2009 Region IV News Releases

ATLANTA, Ga. -- Recent floods were very disruptive, creating challenges for flood survivors that will continue long after the initial cleanup. The first step to recovery is only a phone call or click away.

Register For Assistance

If you have insurance, you should contact your insurance agent first. Knowing the amount of coverage your policy provides will help FEMA assist with unmet and underinsured needs. Next, call the FEMA toll-free registration number 24 hours a day, seven days a week at 800-621-FEMA (3362), TTY at 800-462-7585 for the speech and hearing impaired or register online at www.disasterassistance.gov. Registration normally takes less than half an hour.

FEMA disaster assistance will not restore individuals and households to their pre-disaster condition. It helps get safe and sanitary housing and meet other critical needs so flood survivors begin their long-term recovery. If a loss is covered by another source, such as insurance, or is taken care of by a volunteer group, donation or gift, FEMA cannot pay for that cost again. Duplicate payments are prohibited by law.

FEMA DISASTER PROGRAMS

Temporary Housing - Rental assistance for two months for those whose homes are unlivable.

Repair - Homeowners may receive a grant for minimal home repairs and replacement of essential household items that are not covered by insurance to make damaged dwellings safe, sanitary and functional.

Other Needs Assistance (ONA) - applicants receive grants for necessary expenses and serious needs caused by the disaster. This includes medical, dental, funeral, personal property, transportation, vehicle repair or replacement, moving and storage, and other expenses that FEMA approves. The homeowner may need to apply for an SBA loan before receiving this grant.

U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) Loan - After registering, many applicants, including homeowners, renters and businesses, will receive an SBA loan application in the mail. If you receive one, you are strongly urged to complete and return the application to keep the door open for other types of assistance. If a home loan is not appropriate, you may be referred to the state/FEMA Other Needs Assistance (ONA) grant program-but SBA must decline your loan application first. You are not obligated to take an SBA loan if approved, but if the loan is offered and refused, there is no referral to ONA.

FEMA assistance, also referred to as a grant, does not have to be repaid. SBA federal disaster loans used to repair or replace damaged or destroyed property are offered at low–interest rates to those who qualify.

Other Forms of Assistance

Disaster Unemployment Assistance –Workers in 17 counties may be eligible for Federal Disaster Unemployment Assistance (DUA) to compensate for loss of income directly related to the September storms and flooding. Unlike state unemployment insurance, DUA provides benefits to self–employed business people, farmers, commission–paid employees, and others not typically covered by the state unemployment insurance program. People who think they may be eligible for benefits should call the Georgia Department of Labor toll–free customer service line at 877–709–8185 or visit www.dol.state.ga.us to be directed to the nearest career center.

Disaster Legal Services – People in those same counties may also qualify for free legal help for disaster–related issues such as landlord–tenant disputes, insurance claims, unemployment benefits, consumer law and housing law. The service is provided by the State Bar of Georgia Young Lawyers Division, the American Bar Association Young Lawyers Division, the Georgia Legal Services Program and FEMA.

Apply for legal services by calling, toll–free, 866–584–8027.

Crisis Counseling – Free crisis counseling is available to anyone suffering from anxiety, depression or stress from the flooding and storms. Individuals can call the Georgia Crisis Access Line at 800–715–4225 or the Georgia Suicide and Crisis Hotline at 800–784–2433. Both lines are open 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

The counties under the disaster declaration for Individual Assistance are Bartow, Carroll, Catoosa, Chattooga, Cherokee, Cobb, Coweta, DeKalb, Douglas, Fulton, Gwinnett, Heard, Newton, Paulding, Rockdale, Stephens and Walker.

FEMA's mission is to support our citizens and first responders to ensure that as a nation we work together to build, sustain, and improve our capability to prepare for, protect against, respond to, recover from, and mitigate all hazards.

Register For Assistance

If you have insurance, you should contact your insurance agent first. Knowing the amount of coverage your policy provides will help FEMA assist with unmet and underinsured needs. Next, call the FEMA toll–free registration number 24 hours a day, seven days a week at 800–621–FEMA (3362), TTY at 800–462–7585 for the speech and hearing impaired or register online at www.disasterassistance.gov. Registration normally takes less than half an hour.

FEMA disaster assistance will not restore individuals and households to their pre–disaster condition. It helps get safe and sanitary housing and meet other critical needs so flood survivors begin their long–term recovery. If a loss is covered by another source, such as insurance, or is taken care of by a volunteer group, donation or gift, FEMA cannot pay for that cost again. Duplicate payments are prohibited by law.

FEMA DISASTER PROGRAMS

Temporary Housing – Rental assistance for two months for those whose homes are unlivable.

Repair – Homeowners may receive a grant for minimal home repairs and replacement of essential household items that are not covered by insurance to make damaged dwellings safe, sanitary and functional.

Other Needs Assistance (ONA) – applicants receive grants for necessary expenses and serious needs caused by the disaster. This includes medical, dental, funeral, personal property, transportation, vehicle repair or replacement, moving and storage, and other expenses that FEMA approves. The homeowner may need to apply for an SBA loan before receiving this grant.

U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) Loan – After registering, many applicants, including homeowners, renters and businesses, will receive an SBA loan application in the mail. If you receive one, you are strongly urged to complete and return the application to keep the door open for other types of assistance. If a home loan is not appropriate, you may be referred to the state/FEMA Other Needs Assistance (ONA) grant program–but SBA must decline your loan application first. You are not obligated to take an SBA loan if approved, but if the loan is offered and refused, there is no referral to ONA.

FEMA assistance, also referred to as a grant, does not have to be repaid. SBA federal disaster loans used to repair or replace damaged or destroyed property are offered at low–interest rates to those who qualify.

Other Forms of Assistance

Disaster Unemployment Assistance –Workers in 17 counties may be eligible for Federal Disaster Unemployment Assistance (DUA) to compensate for loss of income directly related to the September storms and flooding. Unlike state unemployment insurance, DUA provides benefits to self–employed business people, farmers, commission–paid employees, and others not typically covered by the state unemployment insurance program. People who think they may be eligible for benefits should call the Georgia Department of Labor toll–free customer service line at 877–709–8185 or visit www.dol.state.ga.us to be directed to the nearest career center.

Disaster Legal Services – People in those same counties may also qualify for free legal help for disaster–related issues such as landlord–tenant disputes, insurance claims, unemployment benefits, consumer law and housing law. The service is provided by the State Bar of Georgia Young Lawyers Division, the American Bar Association Young Lawyers Division, the Georgia Legal Services Program and FEMA.

Apply for legal services by calling, toll–free, 866–584–8027.

Crisis Counseling – Free crisis counseling is available to anyone suffering from anxiety, depression or stress from the flooding and storms. Individuals can call the Georgia Crisis Access Line at 800–715–4225 or the Georgia Suicide and Crisis Hotline at 800–784–2433. Both lines are open 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

The counties under the disaster declaration for Individual Assistance are Bartow, Carroll, Catoosa, Chattooga, Cherokee, Cobb, Coweta, DeKalb, Douglas, Fulton, Gwinnett, Heard, Newton, Paulding, Rockdale, Stephens and Walker.

Rossville Church of Christ Provides Relief to Flood Victims
Posted: Sep 23, 2009 2:08 PM PDT
Updated: Sep 23, 2009 3:03 PM PDT

ROSSVILLE, Ga. (WRCB) –– The cleanup process is just beginning, but the Rossville Church of Christ is trying to help weather the storm by providing homes with cleaning supplies.

The day started by unloading a truck filled with food, beverages, cleaning supplies and clothes from the Nashville Church of Christ disaster relief in Nashville.

"I think we would have everything that you would need if your house was flooded to get you back started again," said Jason Butcher, Rossville Church of Christ.

And once the truck was unloaded, volunteers and members of the church like Jack James were ready to start delivering the supplies.

It was some much needed relief for Stacy Jones and her husband Bryant. Their East Ridge home had more than a foot of water because of the flooding.

"When I left yesterday morning at 10, it was at my ankles," said Stacy.

It was enough to ruin their floors and destroy their walls.

"So all my sheetrock will have to come out redone again, flooring will have to be done, we came in and took out the carpet, padding, and everything so our floor underneath wouldn't buckle," said Stacy.

But some friendly faces and some helping hands were there to turn things around. Thanks to the Church of Christ, they had everything from bottled water to mops and bleach.

"It takes a load off of us. you know. We don't have to worry about the mold with the bleach; we can spray wipe things down, that kind of thing. We don't have to worry about the contaminants that you have to deal with when something like this happens," said Bryant.

"The joy is on our end, not on our receiving end. The joy is in the giving," said James.

The Rossville Church of Christ had more than $100,000 worth of supplies on their truck, and they'll continue to deliver them as long as they last. They anticipate getting another truck by Friday.

Next, call the FEMA toll–free registration number 24 hours a day, seven days a week at 800–621–FEMA (3362), TTY at 800–462–7585 for the speech and hearing impaired or register online at www.disasterassistance.gov. Registration normally takes less than half an hour.

FEMA disaster assistance will not restore individuals and households to their pre–disaster condition. It helps get safe and sanitary housing and meet other critical needs so flood survivors begin their long–term recovery. If a loss is covered by another source, such as insurance, or is taken care of by a volunteer group, donation or gift, FEMA cannot pay for that cost again. Duplicate payments are prohibited by law.

FEMA DISASTER PROGRAMS

Temporary Housing – Rental assistance for two months for those whose homes are unlivable.

Repair – Homeowners may receive a grant for minimal home repairs and replacement of essential household items that are not covered by insurance to make damaged dwellings safe, sanitary and functional.

Other Needs Assistance (ONA) – applicants receive grants for necessary expenses and serious needs caused by the disaster. This includes medical, dental, funeral, personal property, transportation, vehicle repair or replacement, moving and storage, and other expenses that FEMA approves. The homeowner may need to apply for an SBA loan before receiving this grant.

U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) Loan – After registering, many applicants, including homeowners, renters and businesses, will receive an SBA loan application in the mail. If you receive one, you are strongly urged to complete and return the application to keep the door open for other types of assistance. If a home loan is not appropriate, you may be referred to the state/FEMA Other Needs Assistance (ONA) grant program–but SBA must decline your loan application first. You are not obligated to take an SBA loan if approved, but if the loan is offered and refused, there is no referral to ONA.

FEMA assistance, also referred to as a grant, does not have to be repaid. SBA federal disaster loans used to repair or replace damaged or destroyed property are offered at low–interest rates to those who qualify.

Other Forms of Assistance

Disaster Unemployment Assistance –Workers in 17 counties may be eligible for Federal Disaster Unemployment Assistance (DUA) to compensate for loss of income directly related to the September storms and flooding. Unlike state unemployment insurance, DUA provides benefits to self–employed business people, farmers, commission–paid employees, and others not typically covered by the state unemployment insurance program. People who think they may be eligible for benefits should call the Georgia Department of Labor toll–free customer service line at 877–709–8185 or visit www.dol.state.ga.us to be directed to the nearest career center.

Disaster Legal Services – People in those same counties may also qualify for free legal help for disaster–related issues such as landlord–tenant disputes, insurance claims, unemployment benefits, consumer law and housing law. The service is provided by the State Bar of Georgia Young Lawyers Division, the American Bar Association Young Lawyers Division, the Georgia Legal Services Program and FEMA.

Apply for legal services by calling, toll–free, 866–584–8027.

Crisis Counseling – Free crisis counseling is available to anyone suffering from anxiety, depression or stress from the flooding and storms. Individuals can call the Georgia Crisis Access Line at 800–715–4225 or the Georgia Suicide and Crisis Hotline at 800–784–2433. Both lines are open 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

The counties under the disaster declaration for Individual Assistance are Bartow, Carroll, Catoosa, Chattooga, Cherokee, Cobb, Coweta, DeKalb, Douglas, Fulton, Gwinnett, Heard, Newton, Paulding, Rockdale, Stephens and Walker.

FEMA's mission is to support our citizens and first responders to ensure that as a nation we work together to build, sustain, and improve our capability to prepare for, protect against, respond to, recover from, and mitigate all hazards.

Billy Graham: Emotional/Spiritual Care can call 678–202–5974

September 29 — They are trained to listen with sensitivity and help with practical needs. Along the way, Rapid Response Team chaplains end up showing the love of Christ and, many times, lives touched by tragedy are forever changed.

This week, for example, Billy Graham Rapid Response Team (RRT) chaplains are ministering in suburbs west of Atlanta that were hard hit by recent flooding. Walking from home to home, they will stop and just listen to a homeowner in pain. Or, they will simply sit next to someone who has lost everything. Then they ask the person if they can pray.

Sometimes, a person will pray to accept Christ, but that is not a goal. The chaplains will share the Gospel if and when it is appropriate, but never in a manner or a time that would add to the person's stress. The chaplains learn that compassion must precede evangelism.

And that is the case in Georgia. Serving alongside volunteers from Samaritan's Purse they are now meeting with people and listening. Already, chaplains have prayed with 45 people.

Flood dangers subside in Georgia Story Highlights

Georgia death toll rises to 8; most caught in cars in floodwaters, governor says

Those killed Monday in Georgia flooding include 2-year-old swept from father's arms

Governor declares state of emergency in 17 hardest-hit counties

September 23, 2009 -- Updated 0240 GMT (1040 HKT)Next Article in U.S. »

ATLANTA, Georgia (CNN) -- The death toll climbed higher Tuesday in Georgia as dry skies over much of metropolitan Atlanta stopped advancing floods.

Floodwater surrounds homes near Atlanta on Tuesday.

1 of 3 more photos » At least eight people have died in the state from the flooding, and one person is missing and presumed dead in Chattanooga, Tennessee.

To the west of Atlanta, Douglas County was particularly hard hit with six people confirmed dead.

The latest victim was a young adult male found dead in the northwest of the county, said Wes Tallon, county spokesman for the emergency management agency.

The death was an "obvious flash flood death," Tallon said, adding that the body was found with a vehicle downstream from a roadway. See photos of flooding »

Parts of northwest and south central Georgia, as well as the metro Atlanta area, were still under a flash flood watch Tuesday night. Standing water remained throughout parts of Atlanta.

But CNN meteorologists said the heavier rain had shifted west of the hardest hit areas in Georgia. They expected significant rain in parts of Mississippi and Louisiana, where the ground was saturated by the earlier storms that moved up from the Gulf of Mexico to cover the southeast.

But slow draining waters Tuesday left portions of highways I-285 and I-20 on the city's west side still closed Tuesday night, and several state roads in the area were closed because of flooding, or bridges and roadways washed away. Watch interstate under water »

Georgia Gov. Sonny Perdue pleaded Tuesday with residents to stay off roads, noting that nearly all the fatalities so far were drivers and passengers swept away by the floodwater.

"Stuff is important but it's not nearly as important as your life," he said. "Please give these waters time to recede."

Perdue said he planned to ask President Obama to declare a federal emergency in Georgia. The governor has declared states of emergency in 17 flood–stricken counties. Until just a few months ago, the area was gripped by drought.

Schools in the Atlanta metro area were closed Tuesday as some isolated storms soaked areas around the city. The rains were not as widespread or heavy as they were Monday. Watch flooding in Atlanta's urban core »

In Douglas County, some of the flooding victims spoke to family members while trapped inside their vehicles.

"The last thing they heard was that she was floating away."

Another victim's relative had a similar story:

"His girlfriend was talking to him at 12:30 last night, he said, 'I'm on Pool Mill Road, water's flooding in my car, I cannot get it open,'" the relative told WSB–TV. "He said 'I gotta call 911' and then his phone went dead."

Emergency management spokesman Tallon also reported an adult woman found dead downstream from a car that had washed off the roadway. Watch what caused such torrential rain »

One group in the county was more fortunate. County emergency director Jason Milhollin told CNN that a car was swept off the road during the morning commute, and four other people who tried to rescue the driver were also swept away. All five were later rescued, he said.

"They were fine, no one went to the hospital," Milhollin said. "Luckily they had a fence to hold on to and we got the boat to them."

Elsewhere, a 2–year–old boy and a 39–year old woman were killed. The toddler died when he was ripped from his father's arms by fast–moving floodwater as the father struggled to hold onto bushes, officials in Carroll County, also west of Atlanta, said.

Seydi Burciaga, 39, was swept off a road in Lawrenceville in Gwinnett County, east of Atlanta, when flash flooding trapped her in her vehicle, Gwinnett County police said.

She called 911 and police tried to locate her, but Burciaga could not tell them exactly where she was. Floodwater moved her minivan about 500 feet after she was swept off the roadway, and her attempts to guide rescuers by mentioning landmarks were unsuccessful, police said.

By the time rescuers found the minivan, she was dead.

Some areas west of Atlanta have received more than 22 inches of rain since last week, nearly half of that falling from Sunday night to Monday morning.

After Georgia creeks and rivers burst, swollen by days of rain, residents struggled to escape. iReport.com: Horses pulled to safety from flooded creek

An additional death was reported likely in Tennessee, where a presumed drowning victim was forced into a culvert, or underground storm water drain, Sunday evening, Chattanooga Fire Department spokesman Bruce Garner said. Sylvester Kitchens Jr., 46, was with friend Albert Miller when they decided to swim in a large, flooded ditch, Garner said. He said a Miller family member told him that "basically, it was a bet."

Both managed to grab a chain–link fence while being buffeted by the strong current, Garner said. A neighbor threw a garden hose for them to grab, and Kitchens reached for it but couldn't hold on. Miller clung to the fence for about 20 minutes and was eventually rescued by firefighters, Garner said.

Kitchens' body has not been found, said Garner, who added that it "doesn't appear he could've survived."

State of emergency declared in 17 Georgia counties

The Associated Press

ATLANTA – Gov. Sonny Perdue has issued a state of emergency for 17 Georgia counties that were affected by heavy rain and severe weather.

Perdue issued the declaration Monday afternoon after viewing storm damage in Douglas and Paulding counties from the air.

The storm has battered the Southeast and is blamed for five deaths in Georgia.
Carroll, Catoosa, Chattooga, Cherokee, Clayton, Cobb, Crawford, DeKalb, Douglas, Forsyth, Fulton, Gwinnett, Newton, Paulding, Rockdale, Stephens and Walker counties are covered by the order.

The governor said he and his wife were saddened by the deaths and are focused on rescuing victims and preventing further damage.

GEORGIA: Flooding Assessment Conclusion

After an extensive assessment of flood affected areas in Georgia we have found that the clean up/muck/gut phase is moving along rapidly and in most areas will be completed in the coming days.

Affected homeowners wasted no time and began piling damaged household items and building materials on the curb and into dumpsters provided by the counties. Local and National voluntary organizations have also pitched in, with groups like the Latter Days Saints organizing upwards of 930 volunteers during the first weekend post flood.

The Red Cross estimates that just over 2,500 homes suffered damage statewide across some 20 counties. The hardest hit was Cobb County with approximately 1,000 homes having suffered damage.

Our evaluation found that the current needs of those affected are being met and a HODR project is not needed at this time. We will continue to monitor the long–term recovery and keep a watchful eye for any needs that may surface in the coming weeks and months.

We would like to thank our friends at Habitat For Humanity and the Georgia State Voluntary Organizations Active in Disaster (GA VOAD) for their assistance and information sharing.

The Greene family of Roswell, GA also deserves a BIG HODR thank you for their Southern hospitality and tremendous support of our efforts in Georgia.

Please stay tuned to www.HODR.org and twitter.com/HODRopsUSA for the latest on what we're up to.

• Been in information–gathering mode the past 3 ½ days. Affected homes in metro Atlanta area have been reported to range from 15000 to 20000 - based on their work so far they feel that actual numbers are at the lower end of that range.

FROM THE WEBSITE:

GEORGIA: Flooding – HODR Sends Advance Team

As the flood waters begin to recede in Northern Georgia, Hands On Disaster Response is sending an Advance Team to the affected area to gather information and speak with local officials and responding agencies to determine how to best fill the needs of the affected communities.

Over the course of the past weekend heavy rains pounded the usually dry Northern portion of the Georgia, dumping up to 21" of rain in some areas. The continued rains caused Governor Sonny Perdue to declare states of emergency in 17 counties. Georgia Emergency Management estimates that 2,000–3,000 homes have been affected at an estimated damage of $250 Million. As of Thursday September, 24, FEMA declared Individual Assistance in four of the affected Metro Counties and local officials are working to get additional federal assistance declared in the coming days.

HODR's Advance Teamwill be working with local partners to ascertain how to best engage in local recovery efforts. For the most up to date information and photos from the team, follow us on Twitter at HODRopsUSA. If you have any connections in the Atlanta area that may be of use to our team, please email us at info@HODR.org.

OLD NOTES FROM 2009 Floods:

How Can We Help?
HopeATL is a partnership of churches, organizations, and individuals that want to help you. Please give us your name, tell us we can help in as much detail as possible, and leave any contact info you have and we will get back with you very soon. Hang in there! It will get better.

You can register online for assistance if you've been impacted by the 9/09 GA Floods

Early estimates are that at least 5,000 families throughout metro Atlanta have lost EVERYTHING they own because of flooding. That number may rise, but our city was not prepared for such a disaster. If Katrina taught us anything, it's that hurting people need YOU to respond!

Could you imagine being a single mother with three kids and losing every bit of food, every article of clothing, every diaper, every piece of furniture that you own?

With just around 10% of flood victims having flood insurance, Atlanta runs the real risk of having a major homeless crisis with these folk if we don't help them and give them hope...right away!

REGISTER ON THE SITE TO VOLUNTEER:
Volunteers are needed NOW for cleanup, moving assistance, and to help collect, organize, and distribute donations. No team is too big or too small. Select dates & times here and provide us with your information.

DONATIONS NEEDED:
Care Packages are needed for individuals and families with every item imaginable. Most pressing will be clothes (all ages & sizes), diapers, new socks & underwear, all toiletries, feminine products, cleaning supplies, and more.

CASH/GIFT CARDS DONATIONS:
You can make an online cash/debit donation here and we will pledge that 100% of what you give will go directly to families in need. No middle man. No operational costs. You can also drop off or mail gift cards to places like Wal–Mart, Target, Home Depot, etc. to Courageous Church, 1330 West Peachtree Street, Suite 560, Atlanta, GA 30309. Please include the value amount on the card.

SPREAD THE WORD:
It is URGENT that you get your network, your church or religious home, your job, your family, and your friends on board. The more you tell others, the more our reach will grow EXPONENTIALLY! Tweet it. Facebook it. Text it. Email it. Cell phone it. Use your actual mouth to ask people to help and you will be surprised @ what they do!

HOPE AACR is a national all-volunteer, 501-c 3 non-profit, crisis response organization with specially trained and certified handler/canine teams. We are prepared to partner with relief organizations such as the American Red Cross, FEMA, GEMA, CERT, The Salvation Army, NOVA, local police and fire departments to name a few. HOPE AACR teams are experienced canines and handlers that are trained, tested and certified to be able to respond and provide emotional comfort and support people affected by crises and disasters. Scientific evidence has shown that animals are a positive factor in helping people cope with traumatic events. Interacting with well-mannered dogs is known to help decrease heart rate, lower blood pressure, and even help first responders to unwind in a simple, yet effective way.

Nationally, we have participated alongside other disaster relief agencies for many years. In fact, we were invited by the Red Cross to assist at Virginia Tech following the shootings. HOPE AACR dog/handler teams assisted at the Disaster Recovery Centers in New Orleans during the recovery phase after Katrina. We were invited by FEMA and the Red Cross to provide emotional support and comfort at Pier 94 in New York following 911. In California, our HOPE AACR dog/handler teams are often invited to assist during mudslides and wildfires at the Red Cross Shelters and disaster recovery centers and at the site of the Metro link Train Derailment. For more information about HOPE AACR, please see our website at www.hopeaacr.org

HOPE–AACR (Deborah Hatherley)
• At the invitation of the Red Cross we have been continuing to visit the shelter at the Cobb County Civic Center at 7:00 pm. We provide emotional support and comfort to individuals affected by crises and disaster through our highly trained certified crises response dogs and handlers. When we arrive, we are welcomed by cheers from the children. Many of the adults and children have shared their smiles and some have shared their personal experiences relating to the flood and their own pets.
• We will continue to go every evening at 7:00 as long as the shelter is open and the Red Cross requests our assistance.
• Our dog/handler teams would be a valuable asset for use at a DRC or distribution center. They are a calming influence and provide emotional support for people waiting in long lines. Our dogs can read stories with children while their parents are getting services. We have been utilized in this capacity in many areas of the country including FEMA at the DRCs in New Orleans after Katrina and at the Family Assistance Centers in NY after 911. If you are setting up a DRC or Distribution center please invite us to help.
• Contact Deborah Hatherley @ 770–777–2420, 770–375–6884, SER@HOPEAACR.ORG for more details.

SBA Disaster Loans Key To Georgia Flood Recovery

ATLANTA, Ga. –– For many Georgians recovering from the September floods, a completed U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) disaster loan application is as essential to recovery as a mop. Federal grants are just one form of disaster assistance available to those living and working in the 17 Georgia counties recovering from the September flooding.

(Media–Newswire.com) – ATLANTA, Ga. –– For many Georgians recovering from the September floods, a completed U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) disaster loan application is as essential to recovery as a mop.

Federal grants are just one form of disaster assistance available to those living and working in the 17 Georgia counties recovering from the September flooding.

Most of the money for repairs and replacement of flood–damaged real estate and personal property comes in the form of low–interest SBA disaster loans. Just as important, a completed SBA loan application is a critical component to be considered for some disaster–related grants from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA).

Homeowners, renters, non–profit organizations and businesses of all sizes can apply for SBA loans to pay for recovery costs not covered by insurance or other sources. People with home–based businesses or rental property who have been affected by the floods may also be eligible for SBA loans.

Homeowners can borrow up to $200,000 to repair or replace their primary residence. Homeowners and renters can borrow up to $40,000 to replace personal property.

Business owners can borrow up to $2 million to repair or replace disaster–damaged real estate, machinery and equipment, inventory and other business assets. SBA also provides small business owners access to Economic Injury Loans that provide money for ongoing businesses expenses to recover from the adverse economic impact of a disaster. Economic Injury Disaster Loans are available even if the businesses didn't sustain physical damages from flooding.

Loan amounts and terms are determined on a case–by–case basis. Interest rates as low as 2.75 percent for homeowners and renters and as low as 4 percent for businesses coupled with payment terms as long as 30 years are intended to make the loans affordable.

Applicants who receive SBA loan applications must complete and return them to be considered for FEMA grants that cover personal property, vehicle repair or replacement, and moving and storage expenses. No one is obligated to accept a loan.

Before applying for a SBA loan, register with FEMA by calling 800–621–FEMA (3362), or TTY 800–462–7585 for the speech–or hearing–impaired. The toll–free numbers are staffed every day from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. Online registration is also available at www.DisasterAssistance.gov.

SBA representatives at GEMA–FEMA disaster recovery centers will assist in completing your loan application, accept your loan application and answer any of your questions. Questions can also be answered by calling the SBA Disaster Customer Service Center at 800–659–2955 (800–877–8339 for the hearing impaired) Monday through Saturday from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. EDT. Help is also available by sending an email to disastercustomerservice@sba.gov or online at www.sba.gov/services/disasterassistance.

SBA Business Recovery Centers are open specifically to provide help to businesses. Centers are open Monday through Friday at the following locations:

DeKalb County: Wesley Chapel–William C. Brown Library, 2861 Wesley Chapel Road, Decatur. Open 10 a.m.–7 p.m. Monday–Thursday and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday.

Douglas County: Douglas County Chamber of Commerce, 6658 Church Street, Douglasville. Open 9 a.m.–5 p.m. Monday–Friday.

Fulton County: Government Service Center, 7741 Roswell Road, Atlanta. Open 8:30 a.m.–5 p.m. Monday–Friday.

The counties under the disaster declaration for Individual Assistance are Bartow, Carroll, Catoosa, Chattooga, Cherokee, Cobb, Coweta, DeKalb, Douglas, Fulton, Gwinnett, Heard, Newton, Paulding, Rockdale, Stephens and Walker.
FEMA's mission is to support our citizens and first responders to ensure that as a nation we work together to build, sustain, and improve our capability to prepare for, protect against, respond to, recover from, and mitigate all hazards.

Disaster recovery assistance is available without regard to race, color, religion, nationality, sex, age, disability, English proficiency or economic status. If you or someone you know has been discriminated against, call FEMA toll–free at 800–621–FEMA (3362). For TTY call 800–462–7585.

FEMA's temporary housing assistance and grants for public transportation expenses, medical and dental expenses, and funeral and burial expenses do not require individuals to apply for an SBA loan. However, applicants who receive SBA loan applications must submit them to SBA loan officers to be eligible for assistance that covers personal property, vehicle repair or replacement, and moving and storage expenses.

Apply For Disaster Assistance
It's Your First Step to Recovery

Release Date: September 29, 2009
Release Number: 1858–014

ATLANTA, Ga. –– Recent floods were very disruptive, creating challenges for flood survivors that will continue long after the initial cleanup. The first step to recovery is only a phone call or click away.

Register For Assistance

If you have insurance, you should contact your insurance agent first. Knowing the amount of coverage your policy provides will help FEMA assist with unmet and underinsured needs. Next, call the FEMA toll–free registration number 24 hours a day, seven days a week at 800–621–FEMA (3362), TTY at 800–462–7585 for the speech and hearing impaired or register online at www.disasterassistance.gov. Registration normally takes less than half an hour.

FEMA disaster assistance will not restore individuals and households to their pre–disaster condition. It helps get safe and sanitary housing and meet other critical needs so flood survivors begin their long–term recovery. If a loss is covered by another source, such as insurance, or is taken care of by a volunteer group, donation or gift, FEMA cannot pay for that cost again. Duplicate payments are prohibited by law.

FEMA DISASTER PROGRAMS

Temporary Housing – Rental assistance for two months for those whose homes are unlivable.

Repair – Homeowners may receive a grant for minimal home repairs and replacement of essential household items that are not covered by insurance to make damaged dwellings safe, sanitary and functional.

Other Needs Assistance (ONA) – applicants receive grants for necessary expenses and serious needs caused by the disaster. This includes medical, dental, funeral, personal property, transportation, vehicle repair or replacement, moving and storage, and other expenses that FEMA approves. The homeowner may need to apply for an SBA loan before receiving this grant.

U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) Loan – After registering, many applicants, including homeowners, renters and businesses, will receive an SBA loan application in the mail. If you receive one, you are strongly urged to complete and return the application to keep the door open for other types of assistance. If a home loan is not appropriate, you may be referred to the state/FEMA Other Needs Assistance (ONA) grant program–but SBA must decline your loan application first. You are not obligated to take an SBA loan if approved, but if the loan is offered and refused, there is no referral to ONA.

FEMA assistance, also referred to as a grant, does not have to be repaid. SBA federal disaster loans used to repair or replace damaged or destroyed property are offered at low–interest rates to those who qualify.

Other Forms of Assistance

Disaster Unemployment Assistance –Workers in 17 counties may be eligible for Federal Disaster Unemployment Assistance (DUA) to compensate for loss of income directly related to the September storms and flooding. Unlike state unemployment insurance, DUA provides benefits to self–employed business people, farmers, commission–paid employees, and others not typically covered by the state unemployment insurance program. People who think they may be eligible for benefits should call the Georgia Department of Labor toll–free customer service line at 877–709–8185 or visit www.dol.state.ga.us to be directed to the nearest career center.

Disaster Legal Services – People in those same counties may also qualify for free legal help for disaster–related issues such as landlord–tenant disputes, insurance claims, unemployment benefits, consumer law and housing law. The service is provided by the State Bar of Georgia Young Lawyers Division, the American Bar Association Young Lawyers Division, the Georgia Legal Services Program and FEMA.

Apply for legal services by calling, toll–free, 866–584–8027.

Crisis Counseling – Free crisis counseling is available to anyone suffering from anxiety, depression or stress from the flooding and storms. Individuals can call the Georgia Crisis Access Line at 800–715–4225 or the Georgia Suicide and Crisis Hotline at 800–784–2433. Both lines are open 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

The counties under the disaster declaration for Individual Assistance are Bartow, Carroll, Catoosa, Chattooga, Cherokee, Cobb, Coweta, DeKalb, Douglas, Fulton, Gwinnett, Heard, Newton, Paulding, Rockdale, Stephens and Walker.

FEMA's mission is to support our citizens and first responders to ensure that as a nation we work together to build, sustain, and improve our capability to prepare for, protect against, respond to, recover from, and mitigate all hazards.

9/26/09 From GEMA Site:

The total number of counties designated under this disaster declaration now stands at 14. The list now includes: Carroll, Catoosa, Chattooga, Cherokee, Cobb, DeKalb, Douglas, Fulton, Gwinnett, Newton, Paulding, Rockdale, Stephens and Walker counties.

Cherokee County emergency management officials today will begin assessing the "extensive" damage caused by historic flooding.

A three-day rainfall total of 15 inches, including as many as eight inches on Monday, has led Gov. Sonny Perdue and county Board of Commissioners Chairman Buzz Ahrens to declare a state of emergency for Cherokee.

A letter from Georgia's U.S. senators and representatives has been sent to President Barack Obama urging his immediate approval of the governor's request for an expedited major disaster declaration for the state. Cherokee is one of 17 counties where a disaster has been declared.

"It was the worst flooding in the Woodstock area I have ever seen," said Robby Westbrook, director of the Cherokee Sheriff's Office of Homeland Security and Emergency Management.

The previous record height of Noonday Creek in Woodstock was 16 feet, which was reached in 2005. Westbrook said the creek reached 20 feet on Monday.

Lake Allatoona was at 850 feet on Tuesday morning, significantly above the normal elevation for this time of year of 835 feet, said Ron Papaleoni, general manager of the Lake Allatoona Preservation Authority.

"We are still getting water from the upper end of the watershed. That could go on for another day or two," he said.

The Etowah River was at 18.5 feet on Tuesday morning after peaking at more than 20 feet late Monday night, said Clint Blackwell, manager of the water treatment plant for the Cherokee County Water and Sewerage Authority.

The flooding caused a significant amount of structural damage in the county, Westbrook said, which he will evaluate when the damage assessment begins in earnest today.

"There are a lot of places you can't get to because the water is still too high," he said, adding "numerous" homes, apartments and buildings were affected. "In the Woodstock area and some areas in Canton, there is extensive damage."

Any Cherokee County resident whose home or business received damage is asked to call the county's Emergency Operations Center at (678) 493-4050 or (678) 493-4051 to make a storm report. The phone lines will be open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. today through Friday.

Cherokee County is not yet clear of bad weather.

According to the National Weather Service, there is a 40-percent chance of showers and thunderstorms today and a 30-percent chance on Thursday. Scattered showers and thunderstorms are expected on Friday and into the weekend.

Numerous roads including many major highways were closed due to flooding on Monday. Local public safety agencies performed about two dozen rescues of motorists who drove into water and stalled their cars, according to Westbrook.

Buildings along Parkway 575 in Woodstock were evacuated on Monday, including three hotels. Waldan Chase Apartments on Dupree Road in Woodstock and Avonlea at Towne Lake Apartments also were evacuated.

All public safety staff on duty was assigned to storm response, and volunteers also were called in to serve. The county received aid from Pickens and Gilmer Counties agencies, Westbrook said.

Westbrook said there were power outages scattered throughout the county, and some customers still were out of power Tuesday afternoon.

Georgia Power Area Manager Rod Drake said the company had some outages, but power had been restored. Local crews were sent to Douglasville and Austell to assist in those harder-hit communities.

A shelter was opened on Monday at the Cherokee Recreation and Parks Agency's recreation center at the South Annex in Woodstock. It is staffed by the Cherokee County Public Health Department, Cherokee County Department of Family and Children Services, the Red Cross and members of the county's Citizen Emergency Response Team.

By Tuesday afternoon, most major roads through the county, including Interstate 575, Highway 92, Highway 5, Bells Ferry Road and Towne Lake Parkway, were reopened.

Westbrook said Kellogg Creek Road will be closed for an extended period due to "major structural damage." Also to be closed for an indefinite period due to damage are the northernmost portion of Parkway 575 in Woodstock and Haynes Road in Canton.

There is no timeline for reopening Mohawk Trail or Yorkshire Drive, Iron Mountain Road is open only for limited access and McClure Drive, which still was closed on Tuesday, could be opened today.

The Victoria and Galts Ferry Day Use Areas on Lake Allatoona and the Payne Campground boat ramp and some sites at Victoria Campground are closed due to flooding, as is Fields Landing Park.

In Woodstock, the tennis courts at Dupree Park are closed, as was Old Rope Mill Park and in Canton, both Boling and Heritage Parks are closed.

The South Cherokee Recreation Association fields on Highway 5 in Woodstock were completely underwater on Monday, damaging all facilities and equipment.

Municipal operations also were affected by the weather. Meetings of the city councils of Holly Springs, Waleska and Woodstock on Monday were cancelled. All Woodstock city government offices closed early on Monday.

The Cherokee County Health Department cancelled its drive–through flu–shot event on Tuesday, and both the clinics in Woodstock and Canton were closed.

Cherokee County School District schools were not in session on Monday, as students and staff have the week off for fall break. Minor leaks were reported at Bascomb, Clayton and Oak Grove elementary schools and Creekland Middle. There were leaks in Mill Creek Middle gym and in the rotunda at Woodstock High. Water was reported on the floors at Sequoyah High, as were mud problems at the construction site for River Ridge High.

At least 60 people displaced, hundreds of houses swamped
by Kristal Dixon
kdixon@cherokeetribune.com

September 22, 2009 11:00 PM

Kristina Sorg of Woodstock never thought Mother Nature would force her and her 20–month–old baby to flee their Waldan Chase apartment on Dupree Road.

But as the heavy rains from Monday flooded the first floor of the complex, Ms. Sorg said she and her toddler were hip–high in water within minutes.

"We were soaked," she said. "Everything is under water."

Ms. Sorg, along with 19 other Waldan Chase apartment residents, were evacuated from the complex by emergency workers as Cherokee County braced for some of the worst flooding it's ever seen.

The flooding across the county forced emergency management officials to open a shelter at the Cherokee Recreation and Parks Agency's recreation center at the South Annex on Main Street in Woodstock.

Along with Waldan Chase apartments residents, 27 people were evacuated from the Avonlea at Towne Lake Apartments near Stonebridge Parkway in Towne Lake and 101 people were evacuated from hotels and medical offices on Parkway 575 in Woodstock, according to Woodstock Fire Chief Dave Soumas.

Late Tuesday afternoon, the fire department still was assessing whether Waldan Chase residents would be able to return to their apartments.

Residents in Avonlea have been allowed to return, but those staying in hotels on Parkway 575 only were allowed to return and collect belongings.

Several businesses and offices within the vicinity of Parkway 575 at Highway 92 also were closed Tuesday due to flooding.

On Monday, more than 60 people were registered at the shelter set up in the recreation center gym, according to Hal Simmons, shelter manager for the American Red Cross, which set up operations there.

On Tuesday, 36 people still were registered at the shelter.

Simmons said many people left the shelter on Tuesday as they found family and friends with whom they could temporarily hang their hats.

Medical personnel are on hand at the shelter for residents with pre–existing health conditions, and evacuees are being given food and water.

Simmons said there are no plans to close the shelter anytime soon. However, he said the Red Cross will begin re–evaluating the shelter's existence if the need continues to decline.

"We'll stay open as long as we need to," he said.

While the Red Cross isn't accepting direct donations, Simmons urged those who want to help to give to local churches and nonprofit organizations.

Local businesses that specialize in cleanup from disasters said they've been bombarded with calls since Monday regarding water damage to homes.

Benny Carter, who's in charge of business development for Southeast Restoration Group in Holly Springs, said his office received more than 80 calls on Monday asking for help with water damage.

Carter said the majority of the calls are from people who have flooding in their homes and basements.

The damage being reported is extensive, he said, ranging from minor flooding in the basement to as much as four feet of water in homes.

"This is the most severe we've seen in several years," Carter said of the flooding.

Carter, who said he's finding out many homeowners do not have flood insurance, said it will take days for people to discover the damage. The company also will have to wait until the water recedes to begin its work.

"It's been a difficult time for everyone," he said.

Katharine Miller, office and marketing manager with Remco Solutions in Holly Springs, said she easily had more than 100 calls since Monday reporting water damage related to the flooding.

Many of the homeowners, she said, have had foundation leaks, ceiling and wall leaks. They live in areas where creeks and rivers crested and spilled into their homes.

"This is historic," Ms. Miller said of the flooding, adding the damage reported ranges from a few inches to a few feet.

She said one home, located near a lake, had its basement flooded with water – and fish – from the body of water.

Like Carter, Ms. Miller said many homeowners don't have flood insurance and probably won't receive reimbursement for the damage unless it's from a leak.

"A lot of people will lose a lot," she said.

The time needed to clean up the damage will vary, she said, depending on how extensive the damage is and how deep the water is.

One Woodstock resident was able to see how fast the waters rose on Highway 92 near Parkway 575.

As Victorine Donahue was volunteering at the Revive Consignment Store, she witnessed the shopping center's parking lot become flooded by waters from Noonday Creek.

She said she watched as a small black car was engulfed by the rising water.

"You could barely see the roof of the car," she said.

At the shelter, Ms. Sorg said she's anxiously waiting to hear if she will be able to go back to her Waldan Chase apartment anytime soon.

Worst–case scenario, she said she will have to call friends to find a place where she, her fiance, Chris Botts, and her daughter can stay.

The situation isn't so bright for Alma Campos and her family.

Mrs. Campos, who also had an apartment on the first floor at Waldan Chase, said she doesn't have any other family to stay with until she figures out a more permanent solution.

The family moved to Woodstock from California 11 months ago.

Her 15–year–old daughter, Alicia Zetin, was at home when the flooding occurred.

Alicia said she only was able to grab clothes for her younger brother and sister before being evacuated from the apartment.

"It was a really scary experience," she said.

Mrs. Campos said she never expected anything like this to happen in Woodstock. She also said she was unaware of Waldan Chase's history of flooding.

"They could have warned me," she said.

Now, Mrs. Campos said she and her family will remain at the shelter until they figure out something.

Moving back to California, she said, isn't a reasonable option.

"I don't have enough resources to go back," she said.

The Christian aid organization Samaritan's Purse has contributed significantly to relief efforts for flood victims in Georgia.

As of Friday, Samaritan's Purse received 54 requests for hope in the area of Paulding and Cherokee counties near metro Atlanta for assistance with many more expected. Samaritan's Purse volunteer teams are clearing mud and debris from flooded homes, applying anti–mold treatments and helping to salvage victims' personal belongings.

"Flood victims are overwhelmed by the amount of work to be done and Samaritan's Purse is committed to working alongside these residents – helping them return to their homes," said John Pryor, U.S. Disaster Relief Manager for Samaritan's Purse.

Samaritan's Purse aids Georgia flood victims

The organization anticipates the number of work requests to rise as victims learn about the available help. Flood victims and volunteers can call 678.202.5974 or visit http://www.samaritanspurse.org.

The organization brought two Disaster Relief Units, tractor–trailers stocked with emergency supplies and tools, which are ready to roll whenever disaster strikes. Each of these Disaster Relief Units can function as a self–supporting operations center for volunteers and staff. In the U.S., the Disaster Relief Units have assisted more than 18,000 families in 24 states over the past decade.

Samaritan's Purse is partnering with West Ridge Church in Dallas, Ga., and First Baptist Church in Woodstock, Ga., utilizing their parking lots as command centers.

The priority of Samaritan's Purse is to help those who are unable to help themselves – the poor, elderly, disabled and uninsured.

The above number came from a relief group, but it might be for Cobb County only. Further, it may just be for relief groups that are organized through the government or through an established church or charity group. So if you need a dumpster try this line and/ or try your local town hall and/or your local church relief group. There "are" dumpsters available. It's just a matter of getting "in line" to get one.

IF YOU HAVEN'T ALREADY APPLIED FOR A "WORK ORDER" THROUGH ONE OF THE VOLUNTEER CREWS, THEN YOU SHOULD REGISTER WITH ONE OF THESE GROUPS:

AND OF COURSE, YOU SHOULD GET YOUR FEMA NUMBER AND APPLY FOR GRANTS... MOST PEOPLE ARE ELIGIBLE.

Georgia Business Force

The Georgia Office of Homeland Security works in partnership with the corporate sector group BENS. The Business Executives for National Security (BENS), a nationwide, non–partisan organization, engages the energy of senior business executives to enhance the nation's security. BENS members bring their business experience to the table with the understanding that neither the government nor business can do the job alone.

In 2003 and under charter by the governor, BENS members in the Southeast Region initiated a program…The Georgia Business Force…to implement an effective public–private partnership for homeland security.

Based on the need to expand its operational capabilities and engage businesses throughout the state, the Georgia Business Force (GBF) became a free–standing not–for–profit entity in 2009. This non–partisan coalition of CI/KR (critical infrastructure / key resource) companies and associations remains dedicated to supporting state government in preparation for and response to disasters and homeland security threats. The GBF retains close ties with BENS Southeast Region in the public–private partnership and all policy issues.

The GBF established and manages the Business Operations Center within GEMA and works closely with the Division of Public Health, Georgia Office of Homeland Security, GISAC, FEMA Region IV, and other state agencies.

ARC has an active relief operation headquartered in Albany that is serving most of the affected counties. There are 10 Georgia counties that are included in the Florida relief operation. Damage assessment is ongoing in 18 counties, 90– 100% complete in 11 counties. With so many roads closed, many areas are still inaccessible, but as of last evening we are reporting 28 homes destroyed, 27 with major damage, 88 with minor damage, 82 affected and 72 inaccessible. There have been 8 shelters opened at one time or another but all are closed now. Less than 100 people registered overall and only 89 overnight stays. Most people stayed only 1–2 nights and the peak population at any one shelter was 36. Casework is just starting today. So far there are 78 cases reported open but the only assistance provided to date is to pay for hotel stays for families with a medical need or where there was only 1 family needing lodging in a county and the distance to the next shelter was too great. As we get a better feel for the needs, we will be letting you know. We do know several families have indicated a need for help with clean up and repair once the water goes down, and this is very likely to become a significant need.

TENNESSEE: East Ridge Animal Services - DOGS NEED HELP NOW
GEORGIA: Georgia SPCA, GEMA, Barrow, Cobb County AC
ALABAMA: Various shelters in affected areas
MISSISSIPPI: Various shelters in affected areas

As of Monday, 9/21/09, Kinship Circle has monitored floods across the Southeast U.S., in Georgia, Tennessee, Alabama, North Carolina, Kentucky and Mississippi. Our small volunteer staff has contacted various agencies on the ground to offer support from our network of independently trained responders. There has been no direct call (as of 9/24/09) for out–of–state volunteers, but rescuers are needed to pull from flood–overcrowded shelters.

Rivers crested above flood levels in stricken areas, but most waters are receding. Below is a brief report. We'll update you if circumstances change.

OLD NOTES FROM 2009 Flood Response. This org's website no longer mentions Goergia Flood Support, or anything specific to Georgia.

From: Nourish America <no–reply@causes.com>
Subject: Urgent request for in–kind and cash donations for Georgia disaster victims!
To: leslie @ citizenactionteam . org

Cause Announcement from Nourish America
Dear Friends,

Georgia state officials have urgently requested help from Nourish America to provide flood victims with much needed nutritional support after this week's historic and deadly storms left many without homes – many more without water, power and food.

"We could really use some help. We are calling for donations of food, water and other supplies for relief workers and the flood victims. Many, many families have been evacuated from their homes. Any donations we receive would be a blessing," said Representative Beasley Teague.

According to Representative Beasley Teague, the greatest tragedy of this storm is that most families with flooded homes do not have flood insurance –so what was lost or damaged because of the storm will not be replaced. In addition, the first floors of many homes in Atlanta and surrounding areas are completely flooded. Since the first floor usually contains the kitchen, all food as well as the ability to store perishable foods and to prepare meals has been destroyed.

To date, nine people have lost their lives, experts estimate that a quarter of a billion dollars of property in the state of Georgia has been damaged, hundreds of roads and bridges have been destroyed, an uncounted number of homes and businesses are waste–deep in stagnant, unclean water – and more rain is predicted to come through this coming weekend.

Working in collaboration with the National Foundation for Women Legislators (NFWL), Nourish America is requesting product and cash donations to help with the current flooding crisis in Georgia and other affected Southeastern states.

Robin Read, CEO of NFWL says, "We at the National Foundation of Women Legislators feel priviledged to be able to work in conjunction with Representative Beasley Teague on this relief effort. Because of the hard work of Representative Beasley Teague and her staff, donated products will be distributed seamlessly throughout the area. We are proud to have Representative Beasley Teague as a member of the National Foundation of Women Legislators. We wish her and her family the best, as their home too has been flooded by this storm."

Nourish America needs your help in this disaster relief effort! You can help by donating the following:

Cash Funds
Water
Protein and meal replacement bars
Protein and meal replacement drinks
Protein and meal replacement powders
Energy drinks
Shelf stable dairy products
Shelf stable prepared foods
Canned goods
Ready to eat snacks
Ready to eat cereal
Shelf stable juice
Shelf stable baby food
Multi–vitamins for children, adults and seniors
Other supportive nutritional supplements
Cleaning solutions
Hand sanitation products
Body and skin care products

"It's times like these that make us stronger. We are grateful to have friends like Nourish America and the National Foundation for Women Legislators to help us in our time of need, providing our citizens with needed nutritional support. Bless You All for your kindness, thoughts and prayers," said Representative Beasley Teague.

Trion flooded: State of emergency called in Chattooga, Walker and Catoosa counties

Crews were working furiously Monday to shore up a levee along the Chattooga River in Trion that was in danger of failing.

Chattooga County officials say the rising waters forced them to evacuate hundreds of residents in Trion, which sits near the levee.

Chattooga County Emergency Management Agency Director Lamar Canada said the water was about a foot from the top of the levee but appeared to be subsiding around 7:30 p.m. Monday.

According to the Chattooga County Sheriff's Office, two inmate crews from Hays State Prison, along with a county inmate work detail, were called out to sandbag the levee in Trion.

"It's a grave situation for us. It's the first time it's happened in more than a decade," said Canada.

Railroad tracks became the most viable form of transportation late Monday as many evacuated their apartments near Mt. Vernon Mills in Trion.

Families carrying their belongings watched as waters overtook cars and homes. Summerville Police Officer Labron Jackson was called on duty early that morning and helped to evacuate and secure the location.

"I know a dad who lives in those apartments," Jackson said pointing at the flooded complex. "He's raising his two daughters. Now they've probably lost everything."

The brick and whitewash apartment complex was home to many workers at the textile mill who commuted via a walking bridge over the Chattooga River every morning.

Now that river has overtaken their homes and the walking bridge, and threatened to overtake the Central Avenue bridge slightly upriver as well.

Jackson had to tell a group of men they couldn't take a jon boat to their homes in order to at least gather some clothes.

"It's just not safe," he said.

He said he can remember the last time the river crested high enough to cause flooding and evacuations on this scale.

"It was around the 1980s, but it was bad like this," Jackson said.

Red Cross officials set up a nearby emergency shelter for as many as 300 people.

The city of Trion has issued a boil water order because of flooding at the water treatment plant.

According to Eddie Henderson, who will take over as EMA director next month, there was a possible drowning in Chattooga County caused by the high waters. They were searching late Monday for a missing boy, believed to be 15 or 16.

Around 5:30 p.m. Monday afternoon, Georgia State Patrol officials notified Rome-Floyd 911 dispatchers that northbound lanes of U.S. 27 headed into Chattooga County were closed because of flooding.

Motorists needing to get into the Summerville area should check with the GSP office at 706-295-6002 to see whether the road is reopened. Alternate routes to Chattooga include using Ga. 53 or Ga. 100.

Other counties included in the emergency declaration by Gov. Sonny Perdue are Carroll, Cherokee, Clayton, Cobb, Crawford, DeKalb, Douglas, Forsyth, Fulton, Gwinnett, Newton, Paulding, Rockdale and Stephens.

Chattooga County and Trion City schools will be closed today.

Walker, Catoosa counties

The Greater Chattanooga Area Red Cross and the Salvation Army of Chattanooga provided temporary services for flood victims at the Walker County Civic center.

The Red Cross provided cots, and both organizations were providing food. The Salvation Army is also delivering meals to families in need.

Officials were expecting around 27 families to seek refuge at the shelter late Monday.

Chris Davis, of Brown Estates Townhouses in LaFayette, said 30 units have been destroyed in the past two days of flooding, with three to four feet of water inside the units. The townhouses were evacuated Sunday night.

LaFayette received 11.45 inches of rain from Saturday through Monday evening, according to rainfall figures collected by the Georgia Automated Environmental Monitoring Network operated by the University of Georgia.

Donations of food, cleaning supplies, washing powders, clothing and other supplies may be given at the RE/MAX office one mile north of Walmart in LaFayette.

Walker County and Catoosa County schools will be closed today.

Heavy rain Sunday and Monday left many areas in Catoosa County under water — in particular, Fort Oglethorpe.

All schools in Catoosa County were closed Monday because of flooding, and the Chattanooga Red Cross set up a temporary shelter for evacuees at Constitution Hall.

Rome News–Tribune Staff Writer John Bailey, the Walker County Messenger and The Catoosa County News contributed to this report.

The impending threat of Hurricane Irene to the eastern coast of North Carolina and the Eastern US Seaboard has caused Hearts With Hands™ to alert all volunteers to contact Hearts With Hands™ immediately at (855) 435–7494 in preparation for possible mobilization. We are also activating all of our teams throughout North Carolina, South Carolina, and Florida for possible deployment. We have also extended our hours of operation at the warehouse on Sand Hill Road to accommodate those who may want to drop off supplies after work to 7:00 pm, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday. 2011 JOPLIN Tornadoes http://katrinasangelsblog.blogspot.com/2011/05/tornado–assistance–information–is–there.html

2011 April Tornadoes

This past week, Iowa and Wisconsin were hit with a series of destructive tornadoes. While we have been assisting Neighbors Across the Land Disaster Relief & Recovery (NATLDRR) in those areas, Katrina's Angels has been contacted by a group of people in West Fargo, North Dakota in need due to the constant flooding in their area. They are once again sand–bagging and pumping to keep the waters at bay. Katrina's Angels has stepped in to help.

The people of this area of North Dakota are devastated. The economy is already strained, and many are without flood insurance because they simply couldn't afford it. Many children are without everyday necessities like underwear, sox, pacifiers, diapers, toys and books. We need donations so that we may purchase items for those children as well as for the adults who care for them. We currently have a team led by a Katrina's Angels Community Coordinator who lives in the area. She is being joined by several volunteers on the ground.

SEE WEBSITE FOR FULL DETAILS!

11/6/2010
There has been flooding in various parts of the country, and Katrina's Angels (http://www.katrinasangels.org/) has a request. Can anyone please donate to Katrina's Angels (http://www.katrinasangels.org/Donate.asp) so we can get school supplies, slippers, and socks for kids affected by the recent flooding? These would make great Christmas gifts.

Katrina's Angels, Inc. is a 501(c)3 non–profit disaster relief organization so all donations are tax–deductible.

Also needed is money and/or flood bucket clean–up supplies like bleach and mops. And if anyone has drywall or flooring you can donate, please contact info@katrinasangels.org.

Will you help fill a truck with essentials for hurricane evacuees? Feed The Children is uniquely able to take your company's donated goods directly to the people who need them most. Our unique network of warehouses, coupled with our fleet of 18–wheelers, makes it possible to connect donor companies to the intended recipients. Because the need is acute, and our trucks are on the road 24 hours a day during and after crises like Hurricanes Katrina and Rita, we are asking for full truckloads of relief supplies at this time. For more than 25 years, Feed The Children has been caring for America's poor and hungry children and their families. So in times of natural disaster we are already positioned, equipped, and trained to make every donated item count.

This is what we do 365 days a year, every year. Because we never forget donor intent or recipient need, we operate at exceptionally high efficiency and coordinate our efforts with Federal, state, and local governments as needed. Our national and international experience also earns us the trust of the Army and National Guard who play important roles in times of crisis.

If you would like to help, complete a brief online form and we will call you. On behalf of America's families, thank you.

How gifts in kind are used

Feed The Children receives product donations from many of America's largest packaged good companies for use in providing relief to underprivileged children and their families.

We pick up truckload donations from corporate warehouses and transport them to one of our regional distribution centers located in Ontario, CA; Nashville, TN; Oklahoma City, OK; Houston, TX; Elkhart, IN; and North Brunswick, NJ.

Typical commodities appropriate for donation are food and beverages, nutritional, personal care, household goods, medicine and medical supplies, new clothing, educational supplies, toys and construction materials.

Some of the donations are distributed in bulk. Others are processed into individual relief boxes weighing about 25 pounds. Each box typically contains canned and non–perishable food items or personal care and hygiene items, and a toy or book.

Feed The Children never charges fees to recipients at any step in the process.
