The Atlantic City Rescue Mission is a nonprofit, Christian social service ministry that provides life–saving care for the poor and homeless in all of southern New Jersey. People who have no home, no family or friends, or no sense of self–worth receive practical help, counseling, and Christian compassion. Through effective, innovative, Christian–based recovery programs, the Mission brings people out of despair and into a productive, good quality of life within the community.

FROM THE SITE:

August 26, 2011

Dear Members and Friends of Bound Brook Presbyterian, HURRICANE
has changed our plans for WORSHIP SERVICES!
We encourage everyone, including children, to come to the service on Saturday afternoon at 5:00 p.m. We will provide church school.
We are NOT planning services for Sunday morning.
We are a secondary shelter for this flood, but depending on storm conditions, that could change. We still could end up with many people living in the PFC. If this happens, we will be sending out word for volunteers.

On Sunday, April 15, the Presbyterian Church, Bound Brook, opened its doors to area residents driven from their homes by flood waters from the massive nor'easter that hit the region. This is the second significant flood of the Raritan River in eight years.

More than 100 people are currently housed at the church. According to Rev. Louis Kilgore, the church's pastor, response to the needs of those displaced by the storm has been overwhelming: “Within hours, dozens of volunteers from the church and the community set up kitchen services and cots to feed and house evacuees. We have been amazed and blessed by the outpouring of donations of food, bedding, and toiletries.”

In addition to supervising care for the physical needs of victims, Rev. Kilgore made time to perform a marriage ceremony at the church for two of the evacuees.

Those wishing to help in the relief effort may send checks to the church’s office, with the donation marked “Flood Relief”.

NJ church offers hope for flood survivors
Many wonder if they will ever go home.
BY HEATHER MOYER |BOUND BROOK, N.J. | April 27, 2007

The Rev. Lou Kilgore's church office is full of cots. So is the church choir room, the parlor and all of the Sunday School classrooms.

More than 160 people stayed at the Bound Brook Presbyterian Church after flooding devastated the community almost two weeks ago. A few families have since moved on, but many still remain.

As Kilgore gave a tour of his church Thursday, he said those still there will be the hardest to place.

"They've really got no place to go," he said.

The overwhelming majority of the families sheltering at the church are Hispanic from the low–income neighborhood in town. Some are undocumented. Kilgore said the families are dealing with no insurance, very little savings and a lack of affordable housing in Bound Brook.

"Many in this church are wondering if they will ever go home," he said.

Kilgore estimated that at least 350 housing units were destroyed by the flood. The church, he said, will help the families in any way possible to help them get their lives back together.

Operation BBQ Relief – NJ – 2012 HURRICANE SANDY

Walk–in Resource · Standby

C/O Meat BBQ Co.; 212A Lacey Road, Forked River, NJ
Serves Forked River, Seaside, NJ
Service Temporary

11/1/12:

UPDATE FOR VOLUNTEERS: Folks, we are in the process of securing two locations, one in the area of Forked River, New Jersey and the other in lower Manhattan, New York. We are close on a few but the issue is several will not let us set up unless there is sewer and potable water. Again, the location at Meat BBQ Co. in Forked River is NOT where we are cooking. It was a staging area only and a location where we can have supplies shipped so that we can pick them up. Please do not call or otherwise interfere with Matt and his business there! Additionally, we are putting together a schedule so that we can have the best coverage of volunteers over the longest period of time. We are basing it off of estimated OBR needs and the timeframes you as volunteers have stated that you are available. Please hang on for just a bit longer until we can update you.

Thank you from Operation BBQ Relief

Report –

10/30/12 via Operation BBQ Relief:

Finally! Some news on at least our staging area and a location where folks donating supplies, sauces, rubs and food can ship! This will be in Forked River, NJ. Matt Ragusa, owner of Meat BBQ Co. Has graciously said that OBR can start at his business location. The address for Meat BBQ Co. is 212A Lacey Road, Forked River, NJ 08731. Any donations being sent, please include "Attention Operation BBQ Relief". We should have an OBR field leader there sometime tomorrow. Thank you!

What can you do? Below are our needs:

1 – Volunteers: If you would like to volunteer to help cook and serve food with us in New Orleans please email us at: info@ OperationBBQRelief.org

2 – Food and Non–Food Supplies – We are still working on the projection of meals a day but with the power outages and damaged areas 3000–5000 is a safe estimate. Here is the list of items we need:

Protein – pork butt, pork loin, sausage, chicken, etc
Bread
Chips
Water and Gatorade
Aluminum Pans (full sized)
Aluminum Foil (large roll wide)
Disposable Rubber Gloves – Large and XLarge
Clam Shells
Flatware
Paper towels
clorox wipes and spray bleach serving utensils
wood, pellets and charcoal etc... I am sure we are missing some things but these are the basics.

3 – Monetary Donation – Lastly, if you are unable to volunteer and do not have the ability to help with items needed above you can always go to our website and make a monetary donation. Every little bit helps! Go to: www.operationbbqrelief.org and click the donate button on the left side! As a 501c3 non profit your donations are tax deductible.

Please share this email with your friends and help us get the word out on what we need! Thank you for your continued support!

Stay tuned to our facebook page for updated information!

Hurricane Sandy Relief

RAINE Foundation had their main command center setup at Beers Street School. We had 100s of volunteers working from morning to night, supplying hot food, cold food, water, clothing, ice, toiletries. We were updating our facebook page constantly with specific needs as we go, and within minutes, our needs were met!

(Nov 4th, 2012) THIS JUST IN - RAINE delivers on 18,000 hot meals to hurricane victims (via PATCH).

The RAINE Foundation Clean–up Crew was started by several volunteers who were willing to put their lives in danger to help residents who are in crisis due to the devastating effects of Hurricane Sandy.

Our Clean up Crew consists of men and women who travel into the danger zones and help those in need with cleaning up their demolished home. These families lost their homes, and personal belongings.

Take Action to Aid Hurricane Irene Victims

On August 31st President Obama issued a Presidential Disaster Declaration for the State of New Jersey due to damage caused by Hurricane Irene. The people of New Jersey need your help. We hope that you can come to the aid of those in need as soon as possible.

The fastest, most efficient way to help relief efforts is online. Contribute at:http://www.njfoodbank.org/helpnow

We have prepared more than 20,000 meals to date and distributed new clothing and cleanup supplies each day. View photos of our food preparation on September 2 as we readied to feed 5,000 people per day over Labor Day weekend.

We are also looking for these food items:

Cereal; Peanut Butter; Jelly (no glass); “Meal in a Can” (soups, stews); Canned Meats (tuna, chicken, ham); Canned Vegetables; Canned Fruits; Pasta; Pasta Sauce (no glass); Rice & Canned Beans

The public can drop off these food items at the following locations (please refresh your page as new sites continuously added):

Our warehouse: 31 Evans Terminal, Hillside (Daily 9:00 am - 3:00 pm)

DONATION DRIVE –

The distribution will be ongoing. For right now the Outreach Center is open from 5pm to 7pm every day this week. But there are so many people in need for so many different reasons that we will continue past this storm. Hours will be based on need.

11/2/12
WE ARE HAVING OUR FAMILY SERVICE TONIGHT! The North Precinct has allowed us to meet in spite of the pedestrian/ driving ban.
So if you can get here, get here! Hope Center 110 Cambridge Ave Jersey City NJ 07307.

NOTICE: If you are in the Jersey City vicinity, Hope Center's Foodbank is distributing food from 6pm to 7pm TODAY at Hope Center 43 Charles Street Jersey City NJ 07307.

SHOUT OUT TO CONVOY OF HOPE
Just wanted to thank Convoy of Hope, and especially Nick and Ryan for coming up to Jersey City with supplies. We'd also like to thank the North Precinct JCPD for their wonderful help -- couldn't do it without them. To the small army of HCT volunteers that showed up – You are shinning!!!! We have a community distribution scheduled for this evening at 7:00pm at our East Campus, 43 Charles Street. We still need supplies!!! We're particularly concerned about baby formula and diapers. Please keep it coming in. Luv u guys. ;-)

Thursday.THIS LITTLE LIGHT OF MINE | EMERGENCY SUPPLIES
Matthew 5:16 – Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven.

As you are all aware, the situation is pretty dire. The needs
...throughout the state and in our communities are overwhelming. We thank God that there has been limited loss of life. On a positive note, Convoy of Hope is on its way to us now with a half a trailer load of items. But this will not be enough to meet our needs and that of our surrounding communities (Jersey City, Union City, West New York, Hoboken, Weehawken & Edgewater). Below is a non–exhaustive list of items that we have assessed as necessary under our current circumstances. We will be setting up 43 Charles Street as a makeshift warehouse.

PLEASE CONTACT church staff to coordinate where you can bring items on the list below as they become available. For the most part, we will be able to receive the goods at our west campus [the Cambridge facility], as staff is available during the day. Its time for us to shine. ;–)

Non–Exhaustive List of Items Needed:

The FoodBank Brings Healing And Hope To The Jersey Shore
The FoodBank of Monmouth and Ocean Counties distributes approximately 7 million pounds annually through a network of 260 feeding programs, such as soup kitchens, food pantries, and shelters. One out of every ten people living in Monmouth and Ocean Counties receives food from The FoodBank.

Since Superstorm Sandy struck the Jersey Shore on October 29, 2012, The FoodBank has been actively involved in the work to bring relief and comfort to the communities we serve.

Working shoulder to shoulder with relief agencies, government programs and others involved in the recovery effort, we distributed food for approximately 1 million meals.

Here are some of the ways The FoodBank has helped in the recovery process:

We provided food for hot meals prepared by emergency feeding programs for displaced residents in communities across Monmouth and Ocean Counties.

Our Culinary Kitchen prepared hot meals daily for churches and civic organizations serving storm–stricken communities.

Disaster kits and other critically–needed items were delivered to some of the region's most hard–hit areas.

We are working to rebuild agencies that were damaged by the storm. Several food pantries incurred heavy losses of food and equipment. Many others are coping with the influx of hundreds of additional families in need of emergency food.

Our work is far from over. Helping our neighbors as they rebuild their homes and their lives will take months, if not years. Our most critical need at this time is financial support – a $1 donation can provide 3 meals. In partnership with all of our supporters, we will continue to deliver food and hope to all those in need in Monmouth and Ocean Counties.

If you need assistance, click on the "Need Help" tab on the website. To find out how you can help, click on "How to Help" above or call us at (732) 918–2600.

The Eric B. Chandler Health Center is a federally funded community health center that is owned and operated by the UMDNJ Robert Wood Johnson Medical School in collaboration with a community board. Last year, the Chandler Health Center provided over 36,000 patient encounters to a diverse, multicultural, largely indigent patient population. Approximately 52 percent of patients seen in the center are uninsured, with another 43 percent being covered by Medicaid. Acute and chronic care is provided to patients of all ages by faculty, residents, and students from the Robert Wood Johnson Medical School. Residents in pediatrics, internal medicine, family practice, and ob/gyn have longitudinal training experiences at the center. Each year over 50 primary care residents and 40 to 50 medical students rotate in the center. Other services provided at Chandler include: laboratory services, podiatry, acute and preventive dental care, nutritional counseling, social services, and an HIV/AIDS clinic.

The Chandler Health Center provides access to high quality primary medical and dental care to the uninsured in the greater New Brunswick community. The center offers a sliding fee scale so that patients who are unable to afford care in the private sector can access a wide range of services for one nominal fee. Additionally, indigent patients are assisted by social workers from the Center in applying for the medication assistance programs offered by various pharmaceutical companies. Uninsured patients can access specialty care from medical school faculty when referred by Chandler providers.

PSE&G (Public Utility – Electric Supply) w/NJ Outage Map

http://www.pseg.com/home/customer_service/outage_info/outagemap.jsp

Outage Instructions:
http://www.pseg.com/home/customer_service/outage_info/lose_power.jsp

PSE&G customers are served by one of the most reliable electrical systems in the nation. Keeping your power flowing is our #1 priority because we know that no matter what the weather, you count on us for reliable electric service.

Our crews work to restore power to the largest numbers of customers first, taking into account "priority customers" such as hospitals, police and fire stations, water and sewer facilities, communications facilities (TV, radio and telephone), and customers on life-sustaining medical equipment. If someone in your family relies on life-sustaining medical equipment, it is important to let the utility know as soon as the equipment is installed. We then focus on restoring power to homes and businesses, starting with the circuits with the largest numbers of customers.

PSE&G is committed to working to reduce the number of outages caused by storms and extreme temperatures. Preventive measures such as our tree trimming program and expert maintenance of our wires and equipment by thousands of our employees helps ensure you'll always have power when you need it.

What To Do if You Lose Power
You may not experience any electric outages, but if you do, here are some tips.
Restoring Electric or Gas Service After Flooding
Para Restaurar el Servicio de Electricidad y Gas Después de Una Inundación
Flooded Basements
Flooded basements can pose a genuine safety risk. Here are steps to take.

What To Do if You Lose Power

If you lose power, first check your fuse and/or circuit breaker box and main breaker if appropriate. If that is not the problem, and your neighbors also have no power, call PSE&G at 1-800-436 7734.
If your fuse or breakers are in a flooded area, do not go near them until the water recedes or is removed.
Always stay away from fallen power lines, and always assume they are energized. Notify us at 1-800-436-7734 if you notice wires are down in your area.
Turn off major appliances.
Have a battery-operated radio and flashlight handy.
Tips to prevent food spoilage:

Keep the refrigerator and freezer doors closed. An unopened refrigerator will keep foods cold enough for a few hours. A freezer that is half full will hold food safely for up to 24 hours and a full freezer for 48 hours.
You can also extend food storage by packing refrigerated milk, dairy products, meats, fish poultry, eggs, and other foods in a cooler surrounded by ice.

Specific advice on food spoilage is available from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and from the American Red Cross.

Restoring Electric or Gas Service After Flooding

1) Verify with your town that your home/building can be occupied safely.
2) Flooded areas of the home/building must be cleared of water.
3) After water has been cleared, contact your town to perform an inspection. Inspections will be performed on an individual basis.
4) If the inspector finds damage to the meter box or gas appliances, you must have a contractor make repairs.
5) Following any repairs by your contractor, contact the town in order to obtain a re–inspection.
6) Once the home/building has passed inspection, the town will contact PSE&G to restore service.

Flooded Basements

As a reminder to customers…flooded basements can pose a genuine safety risk.
Here are steps to take:

Be cautious in flooded basements.
If customers lose electricity and their basement is flooded, notify PSE&G (1–800–436–7734) and call the local fire department to have the basement pumped. Stay away from the breaker box if it's in a flooded basement. And, don't go into a flooded basement if energized wires are present.
If water gets up to the height of the gas burner on a water heater or gas heater, customers can shut off the supply of gas to the unit if they know how. They must call PSE&G (1–800–436–7734) to have the gas supply turned back on because pilot lights must be lit.
Customers should call PSE&G (1–800–436–7734) immediately if they smell gas.

Student Health Advocates for Resources and Education Center (SHARE) is the only student–run organization that promotes community service at UMDNJ–New Jersey Medical School in Newark. The S.H.A.R.E. Center serves as the forum for communication between the various community service activities at the medical school. In addition, the Center serves as a vital link between NJMS and the numerous outreach organizations in the Newark area. The S.H.A.R.E. Center is the umbrella organization for the following volunteer opportunities:

Students Teaching AIDS to Students (STATS) utilizes the knowledge of medical students by bringing HIV/AIDS education to local middle schools. STATS emphasizes information, protection, and prevention in its interactive modules.

Student Family Health Care Clinic (SFHCC) provides free, quality medical care to the Newark community. Teams of medical students treat patients under the supervision of licensed physicians. The evening clinics provide health care to those with no insurance coverage as well as an opportunity for medical students to develop clinical skills throughout all four years of medical school.

Community 2000 (C2000) is a project with three major components. C2000 sponsors health fairs, which provide general health screenings to local residents. C2000 outreach groups consist of teams of medical students who visit community centers to run interactive, educational workshops on various health maintenance themes. The third component of C2000 is a lecture series for the students of NJMS. Topics presented focus on community health issues affecting the greater Newark area.

FROM THE SITE /HURRICANE SANDY:

First and foremost, we are concerned about your safety and well being. All of us at Islamic Relief USA pray that you and your loved ones are safe and secure in the aftermath of Superstorm Sandy. Unfortunately, so many of us have been affected by the devastation––that is why it is so important that we stand unified in our comittment to rebuild.

As neighbors helping neighbors, we will get the job done!

Islamic Relief USA staff and volunteers, from our New Jersey office and from around the country, helped at two shelters set up at Rutgers University. Working closely with the Red Cross, FEMA, and other local relief groups, we were able to register and assist some 600 evacuees.

Insha'Allah we will begin clean up efforts––with our partners Church of Jesus Christ Latter–day–Saints––in these hard hit areas: Coney Island,

Staten Island, Little Ferry and Moonachie, Hoboken and along the Jersey shore, from Belmar to Toms River.

To donate go to:

If you can volunteer, please connect with us to let us know:

1. Send an email with your name and contact information to:
ne@ irusa.org
2. Call us at: 973-774-3702

And, if you are volunteering, please bring shovels or any supplies you may have--the more resources we have the better. And please share this email, and encourage your friends or family to join these efforts too.

Together we will get through this.
Your family at Islamic Relief USA

HOW ISLAMIC RELIEF USA IS HELPING
IRUSA's Disaster Assistance Response Team (DART) met with members from the American Red Cross, the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), VOAD and other relief workers met on Oct. 27 to strategize about the most efficient aid delivery methods in anticipation of the storm. The DART team then mobilized to New Jersey, where the storm was predicted to make landfall, to help with relief efforts. IRUSA's DART staff and volunteers provided shelter management services and helped however else needed at two separate hurricane shelters on the campus of Rutgers University until the shelters closed on November 2. The team was able to help more than 600 people.

Here are some of the specific ways IRUSA has been helping:

Providing situational reports
Providing support to the American Red Cross.
Providing cleaning services, dormitory patrol, child care, front-desk support, answering phones, and setting up cots.
Distributing blankets, clothing, food to evacuees
Interviewing evacuees to assess needs

IRUSA, in collaboration with the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, will also be helping with clean-up efforts across New Jersey and New York, specifically in Coney Island, Staten Island, Little Ferry and Moonachie, Hoboken and along the Jersey shore, from Belmar to Toms River. Please see the flier above if you'd like details about volunteering for these efforts.

From NVOAD notes:

Islamic Relief USA: DART arrived in New Jersey late Saturday October 27, 2012. The DART localized its response to individuals that live within the region. Islamic Relief USA has been in conversation with the Disaster Response community; conference calls have taken place with FEMA, American Red Cross and the VOAD. DART has reached out to its local membership to assist in this effort with the realization that this event may require a long term deployment. The DART has formed a group that will meet at the IR office at 3pm this afternoon. From this location, the team plans to move to the Command Center in Tinton Falls, New Jersey.

In conjunction with the New Jersey Voluntary Organizations Active in Disaster (VOAD) and partner agencies, All Hands Volunteers and its Recovery Coordination Center (RCC) division will be providing coordination for the statewide volunteer cleanup in New Jersey after Hurricane Sandy.

“It’s a coalition where all volunteer organizations come together,” explained Katherine Clements, who is heading up the All Hands coordination. “It’s not just physical cleanup, but sheltering, feeding, financial assistance, etc. Everyone in the country wants to help, so there are a lot of organizations that are ready to respond. They’re all coming in, wanting to do the best job possible.”
That’s where All Hands’ RCC comes in.

"We want to make sure resources are used wisely," said Katherine. "We'll identify where the need is greatest and send organizations there. It's helpful for everyone to know where everyone else is, so that they don't tangle up in one place and have an area underserved. As individual requests for volunteers come through a hotline, we will connect them with help."

Currently, the response emphasis is on assuring that people's basic needs are being met but soon the relief coordination will begin. "I've heard from probably 15 organizations that have said, 'We're ready, willing and bringing tools to New Jersey—where do you want us to go?'" said Katherine. "We're just waiting until we get the clearance to begin. Because power is down and the infrastructure is so weak at the moment, the emphasis is on accessing information. We're trying to determine the scene on the ground, what kind of work will need to be done and the severity of damage.

"Early next week, things should begin to clear," she said. "Fuel will start coming in, power will start coming back on, and we'll have a better idea of who is planning to show up. We want to keep everyone safe and not burden the local resources, so it's a process.

"Our ultimate goal is to empower these volunteer agencies with information and connectivity to where they can best be used," said Katherine. "The trickle effect of helping people is in the thousands."

FEMA Transitional Sheltering Assistance Program

Atlantic County residents who are in shelters and cannot return to their homes due to damages caused by Hurricane Sandy may be eligible for participation in the Federal Emergency Management Agency's Transitional Sheltering Assistance (TSA) program. The program allows eligible survivors to stay in participating hotels or motels until more suitable housing accommodations are available.

Residents who have been displaced and need a place to stay should contact FEMA at 1–800–621–3362 or register online at www.disasterassistance.gov.

Disaster assistance applicants who have a speech disability or hearing loss and use TTY, should call 1–800–462–7585 directly; for those who use 711 or Video Relay Service (VRS), call 1–800–621–3362 .

FEMA is asking that those with ability to register online do so to keep phone lines open for those without connectivity and to share this information with friends and neighbors.

Individuals and households may be eligible for TSA, if:

–They register with FEMA for assistance
–They pass identity verification
–Their pre–disaster primary residence is located in a geographic area that is designated for TSA and occupancy is verified
–As a result of the disaster, they are displaced from their pre–disaster residence and are currently staying in a shelter

This federal assistance is intended to provide a place to stay for a specific period of time for eligible survivors who are displaced from their pre–disaster residence and are currently staying in a shelter. This federal program will not reimburse applicants for previously incurred hotel expenses and applicants are responsible for their own meals and for any lodging costs above the authorized allowance.

In addition, FEMA is also providing assistance such as grants for temporary housing and home repairs, low–cost loans to cover uninsured property losses, and other programs to help individuals and business owners recover from the effects of the disaster.

Recovery Information For Residents And Businesses

FEMA representatives are in the area to provide those impacted by Superstorm Sandy with information regarding public and individual assistance for uninsured and underinsured losses. They will start in the barrier island communities of Brigantine, Atlantic City, Ventnor, Margate and Longport before heading west throughout the county. Representatives will be identified by FEMA photo ID badges and will explain how to apply for financial assistance and the eligibility criteria. The first step is to register with FEMA by calling 1–800–621–3362 or by registering online at www.fema.gov.

SHELTER:

NJ: For those who are still without power and are unable to stay with family or friends your can obtain shelter information by contacting your County's Office of Emergency Management or •Download the Red Cross Hurricane app, visit the Red Cross web site, call 1–800–RED CROSS (1–800–733–2767), or check local media outlets.

•To search for shelters via text message, text: SHELTER and your zip code to 43362 (4FEMA). For example: Shelter 01234 (Standard rates apply).

VOLUNTEER:

The Christie Administration has activated an Emergency Volunteer Response Hotline. If you are interested in volunteering with a variety of Hurricane Sandy clean–up activities in New Jersey, call the state’s volunteer emergency response hotline at 1–800–JERSEY–7 (1–800–537–7397).

We are continuing to investigate any issues with this volunteer phone number. If you are an official from any volunteer organization helping with cleanup and the victims of Hurricane Sandy, please use the comments section below to spread the word about your organization and ways that people can get involved. Thank you for your patience.

If storm conditions preclude the hotline from being answered by live operators, volunteers may call one of two backup hotline numbers: 609–775–5236 or 908–303–0471. Volunteers may also send an email to rowena.madden @ sos.state.nj.us.

If you are already a trained volunteer affiliated with an emergency response organization, please contact that agency to register your readiness to receive an assignment.

This hotline is managed by the New Jersey Business Action Center and the Governor’s Office of Volunteerism. Both divisions are within the New Jersey Department of State.

Calls placed to the hotline will be received by the Business Action Center, which will work with the Office of Volunteerism and NJ AmeriCorps to match and direct volunteers where help is needed. When live operators are not available, callers can leave a voicemail message that includes their place of residence, availability and skills.

Federal Disaster Unemployment Assistance For NJ Hurricane Victims

Federal Disaster Unemployment Assistance (DUA) is available for persons, including self-employed individuals, who were living or working in the affected counties at the time of the disaster, and who are unemployed as a direct result of the damages caused by the storm.

Most impacted workers may already qualify for regular Unemployment Insurance. The federal DUA is a special program that covers many people who otherwise may not be eligible for regular Unemployment Insurance.

At this time, the DUA is available only in connection with the ten (10) NJ counties, including Atlantic County, now declared a federal a disaster area. Additional counties may be added to the disaster declaration following continued damage assessments by local officials, representatives of the New Jersey Office of Emergency Management and the U.S. Department of Homeland Security's Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA).

If you are unemployed because of the disaster that began on Oct. 28, you should FIRST file for unemployment insurance benefits through the Internet by going to www.njuifile.net.

The Internet processes claims faster. However, if needed, people may also file a claim by telephone by contacting the state Department of Labor's Re-employment Call Centers at:

North Jersey (201) 601-4100
Central Jersey (732) 761-2020
South Jersey (856) 507-2340

WHERE TO DONATE:

11/3/12:
COUNTY RELEASES DONATION COLLECTION LOCATIONS

THE OCEAN COUNTY Office of Emergency Management has released a list of locations throughout the county that are accepting donations in the wake of Hurricane Sandy.

"We ask that residents please do not attempt to drop off donations of food, clothing or other items directly to the shelters, but instead visit one of these collection points," said Sheriff William L. Polhemus.

Many of the centers are collecting food, clothing, toiletries and other items, although several locations have made special requests for needed items.

Locations include:
· Stafford Township Town Hall – 260 Bay Avenue, Manahawkin. Requesting paper products and protein bars.
· Little Egg Harbor Township Senior Center, 965 Radio Road
· St. Mary's of the Pines Church, 100 Bishop Lane, Manahawkin.
· Food Bank of Ocean and Monmouth Counties, 3300 Route 66, Neptune
· Jackson Crossings, 21 South Hope Chapel Road, Jackson.
· Calvary Lighthouse Church, 1133 County Line Road, Bldg. A, Lakewood. Non–perishable food & clothing.
· Church of Grace & Peace, 1563 Old Freehold Road, Toms River. Non–perishable food & clothing.
· Visitation Church, 755 Mantoloking Road, Brick. No clothing please. Requesting food, toiletries, pillows and blankets.

Emergency Management officials ask that anyone who wishes to volunteer during the storm recovery to please contact the American Red Cross at redcross.org or 732–493–9100.

The Christie Administration has activated an Emergency Volunteer Response Hotline. If you are interested in volunteering with a variety of Hurricane Sandy clean-up activities in New Jersey, call the state's volunteer emergency response hotl...ine at 1-800-JERSEY-7 (1-800-537-7397).

We are continuing to investigate any issues with this volunteer phone number. If you are an official from any volunteer organization helping with cleanup and the victims of Hurricane Sandy, please use the comments section below to spread the word about your organization and ways that people can get involved. Thank you for your patience.

If storm conditions preclude the hotline from being answered by live operators, volunteers may call one of two backup hotline numbers: 609-775-5236 or 908-303-0471. Volunteers may also send an email to rowena.madden@sos.state.nj.us.

If you are already a trained volunteer affiliated with an emergency response organization, please contact that agency to register your readiness to receive an assignment.

This hotline is managed by the New Jersey Business Action Center and the Governor's Office of Volunteerism. Both divisions are within the New Jersey Department of State.

Calls placed to the hotline will be received by the Business Action Center, which will work with the Office of Volunteerism and NJ AmeriCorps to match and direct volunteers where help is needed. When live operators are not available, callers can leave a voicemail message that includes their place of residence, availability and skills.

Hurricane Sandy hit the east coast days before Halloween, and it hit with a vengeance. Sandy turned into an extra–tropical cyclone, known as a "Superstorm," bringing back memories of Hurricane Katrina and the destruction it left behind. Both hurricanes brought a surge of water, with Katrina the surge was higher, and the path was 300 miles wide, whereas the shape of Sandy extended its surge 900 miles with its rotation. The volunteers of Do Your Part were there for the people of Katrina and many disasters since, and will be there for the people that have been affected by Sandy.

The aftermath of Sandy left massive devastation, and with the large population of the states and land involved, recovery is long term. Do Your Part is working along with its partners to aid in the recovery process by holding donation drives and securing large in–kind donations from corporate donors. If you would like to help please contact:

Operation Sandy Gifts of Love

Hurricane Sandy left thousands of people homeless and many more without food, water, heat, power, or any of the other necessities we all take for granted. To help restore their lives to a sense of normalcy, Do Your Part has established the Operation Sandy Gifts of Love Registry. These online Amazon gift registries allow donors to browse through a list of basic relief supplies, household items, and Christmas gifts for children, and purchase items on behalf of the most vulnerable families in the hardest hit areas. The items you supply will make an immediate and positive impact on the lives of the people who need them the most. As you browse the registry, you also can learn about the families and distribution sites you will be helping, and they will know that they are not alone in facing this tragedy.

With such widespread and complete devastation, it will take years for the East Coast to recover. Do Your Part recognizes that no government agency, charity or local community can provide all of the things these families need to put their lives back together. But each of us can "do our part" to fill the gaps and make a difference right away. That's why, with the help of communities, churches, partnered organizations, and volunteers, we've identified and stringently verified critical needs of families, individuals and relief sites for whom your donation will do the most good: children, elderly, disabled, unemployed, uninsured, alone. Many have lost everything except their faith in family, friends, neighbors, communities and volunteers who have reminded us that we are all in this together. Your kindness will reach them directly to their doorstep, with zero overhead or delays.

Please share these registries with your friends, family and co–workers. Thank you for your generosity.

This page is created to form a community of people and families more fortunate wishing to donate furniture to Hurricane Sandy Victims. 1000's of families lost everything they have due to floods,winds and fire. If you have a household item such as furniture or appliances and such....post pic on the wall with a # if you wish. Anyone that is in need of anything posted on the wall...please contact the poster privately or message in the thread. Don't be embarrassed to ask...the people posting here want to give:)

Please "LIKE" and "SHARE" this page so that the community of givers grows and gets the attention of needy victims. Anything inappropriate or advertising of contractor services will removed. This is strictly for people that want to give. If you know of a family in need...share this page with them. I know many people with extra furniture that will find this as a comfortable and easy way to find a new home for their items.

UNITED SIKHS AID: Hurricane Sandy Relief Efforts

Hurricane Sandy's economic toll is poised to exceed $20 billion after the biggest Atlantic storm slammed into the Eastern U.S., damaging homes and offices and flooding subways in America's most populated city.

Sandy, spanning 900 miles, slammed into southern New Jersey at about 8 p.m. local time and brought a record storm surge of 13.88 feet (4.2 meters) into Manhattan's Battery Park. Flooding, high winds and fallen trees cut power to about 8 million customers from South Carolina to Maine, and travelers were stranded as U.S. airlines grounded more than 16,000 flights. U.S.

stock trading closed in the first back–to– back shutdown for weather since 1888. Over 50 deaths have been attributed to the storm and thousands have been rendered homeless.

The storm may cut economic output by $25 billion in the fourth quarter, according to Gregory Daco, a U.S. economist at IHS Global Insight in Lexington, Massachusetts. He said that could reduce the annual pace of growth to between 1 percent and 1.5 percent from his earlier estimate of 1.6 percent.

After direct engagement with the Office of Emergency Management (OEM) and scores of VOAD agencies, UNITED SIKHS has initiated a call for warm clothing, blankets, diapers, baby formula, hygiene supplies and cleaning supplies. Also due to the closure of markets and stores there is an urgent need for fresh and hot meals as well as water.

UNITED SIKHS First Response Team is in direct contact with shelters to assess needs and Gurdwaras to facilitate the preparation of the hot meals and is also in coordination with the Red Cross. We urgently need volunteers to administer the distribution of supplies and meals and the preparation of the hot meals.

Donate what you can so that emergency supplies and materials can be purchased locally, saving time and resources!!

Mission Statement

The mission of Broken Rainbow is to provide a more level playing field for children and families living in poverty. We would accomplish this in two ways. First, by increasing the public's awareness of the conditions under which these families live, and also, by demonstrating the role these conditions play, either directly, or indirectly, in contributing to the societal problems faced by many communities. Second, we would provide financial support to other non–profit organizations, that have a proven track record operating programs that assist children of low income families.

Sandy update by Terra: Normally, ACDR operates warehouses. They have expressed a need for some warehousing equipment, but it's not clear yet, if they have set up local disaster recovery ops. There were several Adventist churches destroyed. So in this disaster, it looks like they've got compounded challenges.

Adventist Community Services Disaster Response (ACS DR) teams are responding to the effects of Hurrincane Irene. North Carolina is still doing assessments and exploring the possibility of setting up a distribution center.Virginia is doing assessments. Maryland is in pretty good shape. Pennsylvania has a mobile feeding unit in Goshen and are considering storing goods at a central location for assisting survivors. New Jersey ACS DR team are getting personal care kits and flood buckets out to survivors. In New York, there was more water & wind damge upstate than in New York City. The state of New York is talking about opening a multi-agency warehouse.

Please continue to pray for those affected by these continuing disasters as well as those who so generously give of their time to help others in need.

New Jersey: NCBM Disaster Relief Feeding Unit 2, Command Unit, shower unit and food for 30,000 arrived on Wed. Oct. 31 in order to begin a mass feeding and recovery site for northern New Jersey. The kitchen site will be in a parking lot on the campus of Rutgers University. Approximately 75 volunteers are expected to begin this operation. Pray for the people of New Jersey as they deal with their current situation.

Please do three things: Pray, Go and Give.
• Pray. Pray for people who were affected by Hurricane Sandy. Pray for the volunteers who are going to minister. Pray for safety and the witness of our disaster relief volunteers. Pray that God's love will be shown to hurting people and they will want to know more about our great God who loves them.

• Go. If you are interested and able to go and help, please go to our website to sign up. To sign up to help, go to http://www.baptistsonmission.org/Sandy. You can also get updates on our website and on our Facebook (listed below)

• Give. Give to help those in need. For Immediate Release:

October 30, 2012

Springfield, Mo. – Convoy of Hope's Global Disaster Response team has sent an additional 80,000 pounds of emergency supplies, a debris removal trailer and two rapid response teams to the Northeast U.S. today. Teams are focusing their response in New Jersey at this time.

“Our trucks and personnel that left Sunday were pre–staged in College Park, Pennsylvania and are moving into New Jersey now,” reports Jeff Nene, national spokesperson for Convoy of Hope. “The teams leaving today will be headed for the east coast and will be assigned a location when they are closer to the affected area.”

Damaged and closed roads, along with closed bridges have made travel slow but the teams continue to coordinate with FEMA, along with local and state emergency agencies. News agencies are reporting millions without power and in need of assistance.

Convoy of Hope will continue to coordinate their efforts with federal, state and local emergency management agencies. “The disaster area is extremely large,” said Nene. “We are starting in New Jersey because of the number of people without power is so significant and we can have an immediate impact.”

Those wishing to make a contribution to the Hurricane Sandy relief efforts can make a secure online contribution at http://www.convoyofhope or, to place a $10 donation on your cellular bill, text the word CONVOY to 50555. Standard text and data rates apply.

VOLUNTEER:

The Christie Administration has activated an Emergency Volunteer Response Hotline. If you are interested in volunteering with a variety of Hurricane Sandy clean-up activities in New Jersey, call the state's volunteer emergency response hotline at 1-800-JERSEY-7 (1-800-537-7397).

We are continuing to investigate any issues with this volunteer phone number. If you are an official from any volunteer organization helping with cleanup and the victims of Hurricane Sandy, please use the comments section below to spread the word about your organization and ways that people can get involved. Thank you for your patience.

If storm conditions preclude the hotline from being answered by live operators, volunteers may call one of two backup hotline numbers: 609-775-5236 or 908-303-0471 . Volunteers may also send an email to rowena.madden @ sos.state.nj.us.

If you are already a trained volunteer affiliated with an emergency response organization, please contact that agency to register your readiness to receive an assignment.

This hotline is managed by the New Jersey Business Action Center and the Governor's Office of Volunteerism. Both divisions are within the New Jersey Department of State.

Calls placed to the hotline will be received by the Business Action Center, which will work with the Office of Volunteerism and NJ AmeriCorps to match and direct volunteers where help is needed. When live operators are not available, callers can leave a voicemail message that includes their place of residence, availability and skills.

Federal Disaster Unemployment Assistance For NJ Hurricane Victims

Federal Disaster Unemployment Assistance (DUA) is available for persons, including self-employed individuals, who were living or working in the affected counties at the time of the disaster, and who are unemployed as a direct result of the damages caused by the storm.

Most impacted workers may already qualify for regular Unemployment Insurance. The federal DUA is a special program that covers many people who otherwise may not be eligible for regular Unemployment Insurance.

At this time, the DUA is available only in connection with the ten (10) NJ counties, including Atlantic County, now declared a federal a disaster area. Additional counties may be added to the disaster declaration following continued damage assessments by local officials, representatives of the New Jersey Office of Emergency Management and the U.S. Department of Homeland Security's Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA).

If you are unemployed because of the disaster that began on Oct. 28, you should FIRST file for unemployment insurance benefits through the Internet by going to www.njuifile.net.

The Internet processes claims faster. However, if needed, people may also file a claim by telephone by contacting the state Department of Labor's Re-employment Call Centers at:

North Jersey (201) 601-4100
Central Jersey (732) 761-2020
South Jersey (856) 507-2340

A 30-day deadline ending December 3, 2012 is in effect for filing DUA claims resulting from Hurricane Sandy.

For additional information regarding Disaster Unemployment Assistance or for FEMA services please call the FEMA emergency number at 1-800-621-FEMA (3362) or 1-800-462-7585 (TTY) for the hearing and speech impaired. Information is also available via the Internet at: www.disasterassistance.gov and www.fema.gov.

For information on all New Jersey Department of Labor and Workforce Development programs and services visit:

DISTRIBUTION SITES –

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
November 2, 2012
Monmouth County Sheriff's Office

Monmouth County sets up three distribution sites

FREEHOLD – Monmouth County has set up three distribution sites for victims affected by Hurricane Sandy in need of essential items.

The locations for people to pick up those items are:

· Holy Family Church - 910 Route 36 Hazlet
· Monmouth Park - Oceanport Ave., Oceanport
· Circle Factory Outlet - (formerly known as the Peddler's Village) 1407 Atlantic Ave. at the Route 35 circle, Manasquan.

Hours of availability are 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Bottled water, non perishable items, new clothing and personal hygiene products are some of the items that have been requested and will be transported from the donation center at Thompson Park in Lincroft to the listed distribution sites.

Monmouth County officials have established a Hurricane Sandy hotline, a clearinghouse of information for residents affected by the storm. The phone number is 732-303-2882.

NEW JERSEY HOPE
Managing the Emotional Impact of Super Storm Sandy

Super storm known as Sandy has devastated many New Jersey communities and wreaked havoc in people's lives all along the East Coast. More than 50 million Americans are coping with the aftermath of the storm. The damage and destruction from coastal surges, power outages, and high winds has resulted in disruptions to school and work schedules, property destruction, and serious financial consequences.

No one who lives through a disaster is untouched by the experience. Like other disasters, severe storms and flooding can result in emotional distress, as well as property damage. Disasters can threaten our sense of control and safety, and can affect many aspects of our lives. The emotional trauma caused by the storm and anxiety about what will happen next can complicate and impede recovery. While protecting people and restoring safety, power, and property, is a priority in the wake of natural disasters, emotional coping also matters.

The New Jersey Department of Human Services' Division of Mental Health and Addiction Services – Disaster and Terrorism Branch, is coordinating statewide efforts to help individuals and communities manage the emotional impact of the storm. Disaster Mental Health Teams are currently providing support in many shelters around the state and are mobilizing to assist and FEMA Disaster Recovery Centers over the coming days, weeks and months as needed. In addition to providing face–to–face disaster crisis counseling, the Disaster and Terrorism Branch provides informational materials about coping, and partners with the Mental Health Association in New Jersey to offer assistance through a toll free Disaster Mental Health Helpline: (877) 294–HELP (4357). A TTY line is available for the deaf and hearing impaired at (877) 294–4356 .

Many Ways to React… Many Ways to Cope

It is important to remember that there is no one correct way to react emotionally to storms and floods. Not everyone reacts the same way, and in fact, you may react in a variety of different ways even in the course of the same day. Each person gets through the emotional challenges of a disaster in their own time and on their own terms.

To help you manage emotions associated with the storm and flood, you should use the coping mechanisms that are familiar and comfortable for you. Other ideas for coping are suggested below and can be discussed with counselors and other caregivers.

If you or someone that you know is having an acute emotional reaction that does not subside over the period of a few days, it may be best to seek the assistance of a medical or mental health professional.

Predicting and Preparing for Emotional Reactions

Not everyone will have an immediate or obvious emotional reaction to a disaster; those who do will react in their own unique way. Some of the more typical emotional reactions may include:

• Recurring dreams or nightmares about the event;
• Trouble concentrating or remembering things;
• Feeling numb, withdrawn or disconnected;
• Disturbances in eating and sleeping patterns;
• Having bursts of anger or intense irritability;
• Persistent physical symptoms (i.e., headaches, digestive problems, muscle tension, etc.);

• Being overprotective of your family's safety;
• Avoiding reminders of the violent events or evacuation;
• Being tearful or crying for no apparent reason
For people returning home from a disaster–affected area, it is not uncommon to experience difficulty in "decompressing" and reintegrating back into the home and workplace.

What Helps…

Here are some useful suggestions for coping with the stress stemming from disasters and or traumatic events:

• Limit your exposure to graphic news stories;
Get accurate, timely information about the status of the situation from credible sources;
• Try to return to your normal daily routine;
• Exercise, eat well and rest;
• Stay busy– physically and mentally;
• Communicate with friends, family and supporters;
• Use spirituality and your personal beliefs;

What Doesn't Help…
There are several behaviors that can slow or complicate the emotional recovery process. These include:

• Using drugs or alcohol to cope;
• Withdrawing from friends or family;
• Blaming others;
• Overeating or failing to eat;
• Withdrawing from pleasant activities;
• Working too much;
• Anger or violence;

Staying Connected

The best source of assistance in dealing with the emotional consequences of a disaster is often found in each other. If you are anxious about your experience, talk to someone you love or trust. This may be a family member, friend, clergy member or teacher. Just don't keep your thoughts and feelings to yourself.

If you notice that a loved one, friend or co–worker's behavior has substantially changed, reach out and ask them how they are doing. Make some time to talk, when it is convenient for both of you, and follow up later on to see how they are doing. Watching out for each other demonstrates that you care and it can be comforting to both of you.

Hoboken, New Jersey
On Saturday, November 3, MSF dispatched a doctor, nurse, and mental health specialist to Hoboken to assess medical and psychosocial care needs in the city. The team has been providing the only medical care in three shelters: Wallace public school, St Matthew's church, and Saint Peter and Paul. The team has also assessed several nursing homes in the area. Since Saturday, the team has conducted 60 medical consultations and 87 mental health counseling sessions. MSF has arranged for prescriptions to be refilled for 48 patients.

The majority of the patients, as in other locations where MSF is working, are suffering from chronic medical conditions such as hypertension and diabetes. Most of the patients are elderly and many are suffering from pre–existing mental illnesses that have only been exacerbated by the trauma associated with the hurricane.

SOMERSET, N.J. -- A state/federal Disaster Recovery Center (DRC) in Hainesport Township, Burlington County, is moving to a new location.

The Federal Emergency Management Agency announced the center, located in the Volunteer Fire Company Building at 106 Broad Street in Hainesport Township, will close at 6 p.m. on Thursday, May 27.

At 10 a.m. on Friday, May 28, the DRC reopens at the Community Center, 100 Broad Street, also in Hainesport Twp, N.J. 08036.

At the center, recovery specialists will assist individuals and business owners in Burlington County and other communities who suffered losses and damages from the severe storms and flooding of mid-March.

As of Friday, May 28, the Federal Emergency Management Agency and the State of New Jersey Office of Emergency Management will operate four DRCs. Each DRC is staffed with FEMA, U.S. Small Business Administration and state agency disaster recovery specialists who are ready to help flood survivors through the recovery process.

At the DRC, visitors can:

•Receive information about different types of state and federal disaster assistance.
•Get help completing low-interest loan applications from the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) for homeowners, renters and business owners.
•Inquire about the status of applications for federal assistance.
•Receive referrals to voluntary organizations to help with immediate unmet needs.
•Learn cost-effective mitigation measures to reduce the impact of future disaster losses.
The DRCs will be open from 10 a.m. - 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday until further notice. Closed Sundays.

The locations of the DRCs are as follows:

Burlington County
Community Center
100 Broad Street
Hainesport Twp., NJ 08036

Cumberland County
EOC/Public Safety Building
637 Bridgeton Avenue
Bridgeton, NJ 08302

Ocean County
Brick Township Civic Center
270 Chambersbridge Road, Suite 11
Brick, NJ 08723

Somerset County
Presbyterian Church School Building
409 Mountain Avenue
Bound Brook, NJ 08805

Disaster registrants from any declared county may visit any of the DRC locations for assistance.

Flood survivors are encouraged to register with FEMA before visiting a center.

To register, call FEMA's toll–free number, 1–800–621–FEMA (3362) or TTY/TDD 1–800–462–7585 for people with speech and hearing disabilities (for relay service, call 711 or 1–800–852–7897) between 7 a.m. and 1 a.m., seven days a week. Multi–lingual operators are available to answer calls during this time.

Survivors may also register online anytime at www.disasterassistance.gov.

Receive up to the minute New Jersey disaster recovery information by following us on Twitter at www.twitter.com/femaregion2.

FEMA's mission is to support our citizens and first responders and to ensure that as a nation we work together to build, sustain, and improve our capability to prepare for, protect against, respond to, recover from, and mitigate all hazards.

FEMA Rumor Control – 2012 HURRICANE SANDY

This FEMA site will help dispell the MANY rumors going viral on Facebook, Twitter and other social media venues. Check back often to clarify that sort of rumor and remember, just because you read it on the internet, doesn't make it so!

Rumor Control

There is a lot of misinformation circulating on social networks. Check here for an on-going list of rumors and their true or false status.

November 6: There's a rumour that FEMA is giving out $300 vouchers for foodstamps. This is NOT TRUE. BUT there is something called DSNAP, which is given out through the regular foodstamp application program. It IS needs-based. Not sure what it stands for, but it's specific to disaster situations.

November 3: There have been recent blog posts and social media traffic expressing that FEMA is out of bottled water. This is FALSE. We are providing water to our state partners for distribution.

November 3: There have been calls and posts from citizens related to the failure of the Old Bridge Township water system in Old Bridge, New Jersey. This is FALSE. The Old Bridge Municipal Utilities Authority (OBMUA) has reported that the water system is stable and safe and that there are no usage restrictions currently in place.

November 3: Food stamps being given out to residents of New York and New Jersey as a part of FEMA assistance. This is FALSE. If you are a survivor in a declared county, you should apply for assistance online, on a mobile device, or over the phone 1-800-621-FEMA (3362).

November 2: There is a spike of traffic related to FEMA hiring cleanup crews in both New York and New Jersey. This is FALSE. For information on how you can volunteer in these communities visit Serve.gov/sandy

WARNING PRICE GOUGING – READ MORE at:
http://www.state.nj.us/governor/news/news/552012/approved/20121030i.html

Price increases are deemed excessive under the law if they are more than 10 percent above the price at which the good or service was sold during the normal course of business, prior to the state of emergency. The law does allow that, if the merchant faces additional costs imposed by suppliers or legitimate logistical concerns, a price increase is considered excessive if it is more than 10 percent above the amount of markup from cost, compared with the markup normally applied.

New Jersey is looking for volunteers to help with emergency responses and to clean up communities after Hurricane Sandy finally leaves the area.

Lt. Gov. Kim Guadagno said a volunteer hotline was established earlier in 2012 to improve the state’s reactions to emergencies.

“During Hurricane Irene, I saw firsthand how individual New Jerseyans worked selflessly to help others during a crisis,” Guadagno said, according to NorthJersey.com. “We established this volunteer emergency response hotline to enhance our responsiveness and better organize volunteers.”

The volunteer emergency response hotline can be reached at 1–800–JERSEY–7 (1–800–537–7397). Trained volunteers who are affiliated with an emergency response organization are being asked to contact that agency to volunteer their services.

Backup hotline numbers are 609–775–5236 or 908–303–0471, and volunteers can also e–mail rowena.madden @sos.state.nj.us .According to the Atlantic Highlands Herald, anyone requesting help from volunteers can call 211 or go online at www.nj211.org.

Groups are forming locally as well. The Mahwah Elves came together after residents felt the impact of Hurricane Irene last year. The Elves need volunteers to help clean up after Sandy, and residents with generators who will take in displaced families. According to Mahwah Patch, people can volunteer with the Mahwah Elves by calling 201–485–6352, or emailing MahwahElves @AOL.com .
