Website Can Help Displaced Georgians Find Rental Housing
Release Date: May 5, 2011
Release Number: 1973–012

ATLANTA, Ga. –– To help people displaced by the recent tornadoes find rental housing, the Georgia Emergency Management Agency (GEMA) and the Georgia Department of Community Affairs (DCA) are encouraging displaced survivors to use www.Georg iaHousingSearch.org.

This easy–to–use website allows users to search available rentals by location, price range and description, such as number of bedrooms and bathrooms.

“In the aftermath of the recent tornadoes, Georgians can use this valuable tool to rebuild their lives and find temporary housing,” said GEMA Director Charley English.

Property owners in Georgia who have an apartment or house for rent also can list their available properties on the site at no cost. Information needed includes the city, county or ZIP code, price range for rent, and the number of bedrooms and bathrooms.

Storm survivors in Bartow, Catoosa, Cherokee, Coweta, Dade, Greene, Habersham, Harris, Heard, Floyd, Gordon, Lamar, Lumpkin, Meriwether, Monroe, Morgan, Newton, Pickens, Polk, Rabun, Spalding, Troup, Upson, Walker and White counties may be eligible for federal disaster assistance. Assistance from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) may include financial help to rent a place to live while they repair their home or find more permanent housing.

“We ask that people register with FEMA as soon as possible,” said Federal Coordinating Officer Gracia B. Szczech. “The process takes 15 to 30 minutes and is an important step on the road to recovery. Don’t wait to register.”

FEMA offers several registration options:

Register online at www.DisasterAssistance.gov; or,
Call 800–621–FEMA (3362). Those with hearing or speech impairment can use TTY 800–462–7585. Operators speak many languages, and the lines are open 7 a.m. to 10 p.m.; or,
Connect through a Web–enabled mobile devices or smartphone at m.fema.gov.
To be eligible for FEMA assistance as a result of the April 27–28 storms and tornadoes, applicants must have disaster–related damages not covered by insurance. Residents affected by the disaster should contact their insurance providers before registering with FEMA.

FEMA's mission is to support our citizens and first responders to ensure that as a nation we work together to build, sustain, and improve our capability to prepare for, protect against, respond to, recover from, and mitigate all hazards.

UPDATE FROM THE FACEBOOK PAGE:

February 24,10

The Eagles Wings Foundation We have been able to do a large scale food distribution yesterday and gave out 27,200 meals. We also moved a 130 child orphanage to a more suitable building (a donated home) including all furniture and supplies. Additional targeted distributions to Orphanages and other needed locations continue. Additionally we are ass...isting in the construction of latrine facilities at some of the tent cities.

WEST PALM BEACH, FL, JANUARY 22, 2010: As part of continuing efforts to assist the people of Haiti, The Eagle's Wings Foundation's (EWF) "Pathfinders Task Force" has been asked by the United Nations World Food Programme (WPF) and the Haitian Government to assist in the distribution of food to the people of Haiti. On the first two days of this mission Eagle's Wings was able to provide over 20,000 meals to earthquake victims by distributing close to 100 metric tons of food in Port–au–Prince. Eagle's Wings accomplished this mission with an 8 person ground task force and by employing Haitian citizens to man the distribution point. By paying Haitian citizens, Eagle's Wings accomplished this goal and further helped this crumbling nation's economy.

The Eagle's Wings "Pathfinders" consists of small teams of volunteers with disaster management, fire–rescue, and military command level experience who help coordinate activities of unaffiliated volunteers and charities in a disaster area.

HAITI UPDATE FROM SCOTT LEWIS – 8:00 am Monday, January 18, 2010

We are working on establishing 10 Points of Distribution (PODs) to distribute food for The World Food Bank. As part of this mission, we have secured twenty 2–ton trucks with drivers, 60 local workers, 80 armed Haitian security guards and a POD manager.

The U.S. Embassy JMAT team has been very helpful to us.

Kings Wings is flying more volunteers and supplies to us on Wednesday. The contents of our plane will determine whether we can land in Port au Prince versus Santo Domingo.

A high priority for us today is to secure a warehouse facility.

A satellite communications team with two trucks, a satellite dish, portable HAM radio antenna, 3 cadaver dogs and 2 dog handlers are waiting to deploy.

New volunteers can assist with food distribution and mapping & tracking, using our 50 geocoded cell phones. We need to determine which roads are passable for food distribution throughout the country.

The humanitarian situation here is desperate.

Our base camp is great. We have a safe place to sleep, hot food, good water, wi fi communications.

All donations will help us with the mission described above. When we have to hire people we are trying to hire locals. They are in desperate need of jobs, food and water. Donations can be made via our website or checks can be mailed to "The Eagles Wings Foundation" and mailed to 375 Possum Pass, West Palm Beach, FL 33413.

Local group heads to Haiti to coordinate relief

January 14, 2010 6:59 PM
Chuck Weber

Call it a relief effort to coordinate the relief effort. Thursday Scott Lewis, owner of a West Palm Beach landscaping business, showed up at North County Airport, west of Jupiter. There Lewis and a group of four others, boarded a plane bound for Haiti.

Lewis founded The Eagles Wings Foundation, an organization that helps governments and charities coordinate disaster relief. The aim of Eagles Wings: making sure donations really reach those in need.

Lewis has been responding to disasters since Hurricane Floyd hit the Bahamas in 1999. The White House even recognized Lewis for his efforts after Hurricane Katrina. Still Lewis acknowledges the situation in Haiti presents an incredible challenge.

"I think it's the worst disaster in the Western Hemisphere, in modern history," remarked Lewis. "There's a lot of tremendous suffering that nobody can imagine. I can't imagine. I've never been in something this bad."

Joining Lewis on the trip is one of his employees, Felix Jean–Baptiste. Just before dawn Thursday, Jean–Baptiste said he finally heard from his children in Haiti. All of them are okay, but two nieces and a nephew lost their lives. And Jean–Baptiste's house in Haiti collapsed.

"They lose everything," said Jean–Baptiste. "Everybody outside. You don't get shower, you don't get food. No water."

And no medical care. Just a glimpse of what lies ahead for Lewis and his group.

The Eagles Wings Foundation is looking for donations, so it can send more volunteers to Haiti to help coordinate relief efforts. If you'd like to help the group, you can call 689–6283, or 313–0226, or contact by email at carol @theeagleswingsfoundation.org.

"Although Cedar Rapids was hit the hardest, Tina Potthoff, communication director of Rebuild Iowa, a state agency established within weeks of the flood, said her office had worked closely with 85 out of the 99 counties in Iowa. She said about $3.5 billion was allocated to the state from federal funding.

"I feel like we're making good progress considering this disaster was the largest in Iowa history," Potthoff said. She said however, the state is only at phase one in terms of recovery."

Network set up to help those with unmet needs

In response to the recent flooding throughout the state of North Dakota, the North Dakota Long–Term Recovery Committee and local Unmet Needs Committees are preparing to assist individuals and families hardest hit by the spring 2009 flooding.

These groups, made up of local voluntary and faith–based agencies work, through a disaster case management process (RAFT – Resource Agencies Flood Team), to help individuals and families with their "long–term and/or unmet needs" after other forms of assistance have been exhausted– ie. personal resources, insurance, FEMA and/or SBA assistance, and local, state or other government and non–government resources.

To receive a case management application for unmet needs, contact your local, Red Cross, Salvation Army or United Way or call a representative of the North Dakota Long–Term Recovery Committee at Lutheran Disaster Response 1–800–366–9841.

Lutheran Disaster Response is also coordinating volunteers who would like to help with clean–up, muck–outs and rebuilding efforts. If you or your “team” would like to assist please call Lutheran Disaster Response at 1–800–366–9841.

In–Kind Donations: 2 Ways to Donate
This website communicates donation offers directly to Non–Governmental Organizations (NGOs) working on humanitarian relief efforts. The NGOs post their specific needs on this website.

1. Match a Posted Need: Review the posted Needs below and try to match an existing Need. You can filter the list by selecting a Category, Recipient (NGO) name, or other criteria listed below. Click the “Details” link and scroll to the bottom of this page to get all the specifics of the Need, including minimum / maximum quantities, expiration date, etc. Once you locate an item that matches your offer, simply click the “Donate” link at the left of the row.

2. Make a General Offer: If you do not find a posted Need that matches your goods or services, click the “Donate” button below to make an offer. Submit all the specific details of your offer and we will work to confirm the need with the NGO and place it with them.

In either case, you will be emailed by the Aidmatrix Network and then contacted directly by the NGO if and when your offer is accepted.
