About Hands On Birmingham

Hands On Birmingham (HOB) is a valuable resource to nonprofit agencies, schools, and neighborhood associations as well as ANYONE looking for a place to serve. HOB is a Birmingham–based nonprofit organization that makes it easy for busy people to volunteer. The majority of Hands On Birmingham's service opportunities are held after traditional business hours or on the weekends. Established in 1998, Hands On Birmingham is a member of Hands On Network. Hands On Network is currently made up of 58 national and international volunteer organizations.

Our Story

Hands On Birmingham, Inc. is an Alabama not–for–profit corporation committed to providing flexible, hands–on volunteer opportunities for individuals whose work and life challenges prohibit their active involvement in traditional volunteer programs. HOB is a tax–exempt organization founded in August 1998 by a group of young professionals who believe that the keys to strengthening the Birmingham community are:

• Serving others

• Meeting the needs of the less fortunate

• Creating a large, diverse force of volunteers

• Developing citizen leaders to assume a more prominent role in the volunteer community

• Solving existing problems rather than merely complaining about them Hands On Birmingham has a three–prong strategy for encouraging volunteerism in Birmingham: (1) emailing a volunteer calendar containing a description of worthwhile, hands–on projects for working adults, families, and corporations that mostly occur after conventional work hours and on weekends; (2) involve corporations in employer–sponsored, team–building group volunteer projects; and (3) sponsor an annual Hands On Birmingham Days to bring together thousands of volunteers from all over Birmingham in a day of service to others.

VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES:

To Volunteer to assist with Hurricane Katrina, please call Volunteer Mobile for the most current information on volunteer needs at: (251) 433–4456

Who is Volunteer Mobile and how is the organization funded?: Volunteer Mobile is a non–profit organization 501(c) (3). Volunteer Mobile is funded by grants, contracts, foundation and individual tax–deductible donations, special events, and, in part, by the United Way of Southwest Alabama. Since its chartering in 1975, Volunteer Mobile has been committed to mobilizing people and resources to deliver creative solutions to community problems.

VOLUNTEER EMERGENCY RESPONSE CENTER

ORGANIZING DISASTER RESPONSE AND VERC:
The Mobile County Volunteer Organizations Active In Disaster (MCVOAD) is a partnership of agencies and faith–based organizations. This group meets regularly to coordinate disaster planning. MCVOAD is affiliated with the Alabama Volunteer Organizations Active in Disasters; local partners are Adventist Community Services, American Red Cross, Bay Area Food Bank, Catholic Social Services, the Episcopal Church, the Mennonite Church, Mobile County Emergency Management, The Salvation Army, South Alabama Regional Planning Commission, South Mobile County Community Action, Southern Baptist Churches, United Methodist Churches and Volunteer Mobile, Inc.

HELPING THE COMMUNITY RESPOND: Volunteer Mobile mobilizes people and resources to solve a wide–range of community problems and enhance the quality of life daily. When a hurricane or other disaster strikes our area, we use this experience to help you respond in the best way possible.

Our main role in disaster response is to mobilize emergency volunteers and individuals and groups who want to help, but lack disaster training and connect them with agencies and organizations needing help. The time to prepare for a disaster is NOW – that is why Volunteer Mobile coordinates the Volunteer Emergency Response Center.

HOW VERC WORKS: After a disaster, area nonprofit organizations and government agencies needing help with response activities or recovery request volunteers by contacting VERC. The information these organizations and agencies provide helps volunteer interviewers make effective referrals.

Agencies and organizations are encouraged to register with Volunteer Mobile before disaster strikes. Click here to go to agency registration.

WHAT YOU CAN DO: Following a disaster, Volunteer Mobile activates the Volunteer Emergency Response Center. VERC serves as a clearinghouse for non–affiliated emergency volunteers. After a brief interview regarding skills, experience and availability, volunteers are linked with appropriate tasks.

Disaster–related volunteer work may include food preparation and service, debris removal and temporary repairs. Delivering supplies, answering phones, transporting people, registering volunteers, caring for children and language interpretation are other possible volunteer opportunities.

Volunteers are encouraged to register with Volunteer Mobile before disaster strikes. Businesses, service clubs, congregations and individuals are requited to meet immediate and long–term recovery needs.

9/09 from the website:

Many people want to volunteer in response to the fires burning in Los Angeles County. The most important thing you can do, however, is to not self–deploy to a fire–affected area, shelter, or other area where fire response or recovery is taking place. The situation remains unpredictable and extremely dangerous, and trained first–responders continue to struggle to get a handle on the fires.

11/08 From the website:

Los Angeles County Fire Response

Now that firefighters and other emergency first–responders have contained the L.A. area fires, the long and challenging work of recovery in fire–affected areas has begun. Volunteer assistance is most often needed during the long–term recovery period after an incident takes place. L.A. Works, in partnership with the Volunteer Center of Los Angeles, have created a L.A. County Fire Response Team to be ready to respond to the need for volunteers during this period. Please join this team to be notified of how you can help when the call goes out for volunteers.

Volunteering with L.A. Works
L.A. Works offers a variety of ways for volunteers to get involved, whether for just a couple of hours or as an ongoing commitment to service. You must register and/or log in to sign up for projects.

Types of Volunteer Opportunities
Calendar Opportunities
If you only have a few hours, consider signing up for a one–time project on our volunteer calendar. Most of these projects take place on evenings during the week or during the day on the weekends and only require a few hours. The majority of these projects are managed by L.A. Works for our non–profit partners and are led by trained volunteer Project Leaders. Click the "SIGN ME UP" button and you'll receive confirmation and further information immediately via email.

Ongoing Opportunities
L.A. Works also lists ongoing opportunities for partner agencies needing volunteers on a long–term or ongoing basis. These opportunities are all referrals and have a "HAVE AGENCY CONTACT ME" button that you can click if you are interested. Partner agencies should respond to your inquiry within 72 hours with more information.

Long–Term Opportunities
L.A. Works also manages long–term opportunities such as "Let's Read" and "TeamWorks" that provide a richer, more cohesive volunteer experience for you and the agencies we work with. These projects happen periodically and are featured on our homepage when they occur.

Project Leadership
Are you interested in assuming a more active role in your community? If so, become an L.A. Works Project Leader and lead on an issue that you care deeply about! Find out about becoming a Project Leader.

Group Opportunities
L.A. Works makes it easy to create a club or family team. Click here to learn more about creating a volunteer team and signing it up for projects.

Corporate Opportunities
Our BusinessWorks program is the leader in corporate community service and volunteering in Los Angeles. Follow the link to find out about the different ways that your company can get involved.

Volunteer San Diego offers a wide range of programs that help meet real community needs, while providing every member of our community with the opportunity to make a difference.

Volunteer San Diego, a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization, directs capacity–building programs and services that engage volunteers in working hand–in–hand with nonprofit agencies to develop strong and vibrant communities.

Yearly impact at a glance:
36,000 volunteers engaged
108,000 hours contributed, valued at $2 million
800 nonprofits served

Our History
Originally known as the Volunteer Center of San Diego County, the organization was administered as a division of United Way from 1969–1999. In 2000, it became an independent nonprofit. To better serve local volunteers, The Volunteer Center of San Diego County and San Diego Cares merged into Volunteer San Diego in 2002.

Our Mission
To engage individuals and groups in meaningful volunteer opportunities that meet real community needs.

Our Vision
To make volunteering a way of life for all San Diegans.

How We Do It
Volunteer San Diego achieves its mission by :

connecting volunteers with opportunities to make a difference in their communities assisting nonprofits, businesses, and schools in developing effective and efficient volunteer programs promoting the power of volunteerism, community service and civic engagement

Welcome to the Florida Association of Volunteer Centers (FAVC)! FAVC is a vital association that provides a network of support and professional development to the leaders of Florida's Volunteer Centers. Through quarterly meetings, FAVC members discuss new opportunities for volunteers, professional development and grant opportunities for volunteer leaders, as well as share best practices to ensure that Florida's volunteers have the best possible volunteer experience.

Volunteer Centers are the doorway to volunteering. Through FAVC, Volunteer Centers can continue to provide rewarding experiences for people of all ages who want to volunteer in their local communities.

http://www.floridavolunteercenters.org/favc/volunteercentersglance.htm

History of the Florida Association of Volunteer Centers (FAVC):

The Florida Association of Volunteer Centers, Inc. (FAVC) was formed in July 1983, and the Articles of Incorporation were filed with the Florida Secretary of State on November 29, 1983. The first president was Judy Merritt from Volunteer Pensacola. There were 12 original members of the board of directors representing Centers from the following communities: Ft. Lauderdale, St. Petersburg, Jacksonville, Gainesville, Ocala, Pensacola, Daytona Beach, Tallahassee, Cape Coral, Sarasota, Orlando and Tampa.

The purpose of the organization, as stated in the Articles, was:

To strengthen and increase the growth of volunteerism in Florida
To provide a network of support and professional development among directors of Volunteer Centers in Florida
To conduct educational training programs
To dispense all funds exclusively for charitable or educational purposes

The formation of FAVC some 25 years ago was visionary on the part of those 12 directors. As a result of our long history and strong membership, we have one of the strongest state associations in the country. The names of the players may have changed over time, but the dedication toward volunteerism in the state of Florida has remained a constant.

How To Volunteer

As residents of New Orleans and its neighboring parishes pull together to recover from the effects of Hurricane Isaac, HandsOn New Orleans is launching an online Volunteer Opportunity Calendar and will host a statewide, virtual Volunteer Reception Center. HandsOn New Orleans is certified by the Louisiana Serve Commission to act as the official Volunteer Response Center for southeast Louisiana during emergencies. Since the storm, HandsOn New Orleans has reached out to several nonprofit partners and other groups seeking support to compile post–Isaac recovery project opportunities in one place.

Survivors: Go to their website and choose "case management" and then choose "intake". Fill out their online form and submit it to get this group's help. They are GREAT. They've got a ton of projects going and it can't hurt to see if they can help you...

From their website:

Case Management

At the core of NENA's approach to rebuilding are the case management services it provides directly to residents, including Identifying residents' assets, sustainable income sources, and any grant or debt monies received for rebuilding; Detailing residents' current and former housing situation, including title issues; Assessing residents' pre–Katrina insurance policies; and Identifying residents' employment skills and opportunities. With this information, NENA creates a financial planning program for residents that targets specific rebuilding sources, and provides referrals.

Currently, NENA has approximately 1,200 households in its case management system, and over the past six months alone has delivered more than 500 housing consultations and 500 budget and financial planning sessions.

Housing Development:

NENA's approach to housing development encourages the clustering of widespread home redevelopment around the rebuilding of schools, libraries, and community space in the Lower 9th Ward. In addition to establishing the Design Studio, Loan Fund, and Land Trust towards this goal, NENA is creating a redevelopment plan, building its internal capacity for residential development activities, and forming partnerships with development entities to begin the rebuilding of housing and key community institutions.

NENA's initial target areas focus on the reopened Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Charter School for Science and Technology, and the potential redevelopment of the Alfred Lawless High School site as a Health Academy, library, and civic space.

Boston Cares offers a wide array of programs and opportunities that make it easy for you to volunteer no matter how busy your schedule is. Each month we manage more than 150 direct service volunteer projects through our Calendar program. These projects include:

– planting community gardens,
– serving meals to the homeless,
– cleaning parks,
– painting community centers,
– tutoring children,
– caring for sheltered animals,
– ushering at cultural performances,
– and much, much more.

Boston Cares offers several specialized programs. For corporate citizenship, our Hands at Work program provides comprehensive project planning to ensure meaningful service for employees. For young people, we offered both BOOYAH! and Campus Initiative programs. BOOYAH! (Boston Young Active Hands) provides volunteer projects that school–age kids can enjoy as a group or with their families. Campus Initiative engages college students in service. For volunteers looking to delve deeper into current events and issues affecting the community, we offer Citizen Academy. We also offer a wide range of long–term and specialized volunteer opportunities through our Community Grapevine & Skills Bank.

Boston Cares is the largest organization in New England dedicated to team oriented volunteering on a flexible basis. In 2007, more than 16,000 Boston Cares volunteers contributed 49,000 hours to 165 non–profits in the Greater Boston area.

Boston Cares is a member of the HandsOn Network and Points of Light Institute, an international organization which inspires, equips, and mobilizes people to take action that changes the world. At the center of the network are 250 affiliates serving 83% of the American population and 12 international communities.

Subject: we're building a home in New Orleans!

Dear Deb,

Hi there...it's been too long since our last email, but your friends at Bridge To Biloxi have been very busy. Among many other things, we've committed to building a house from the ground up in New Orleans starting next month, and we're letting all our friends know of this great new opportunity to join us in our continuing dedication to the Katrina recovery efforts. We will need a steady stream of volunteers from late February thru May, so if you hanker to experience the great satisfaction that comes from helping good people rebuilding their lives and community, this is it. More detail is available on our website, including a helpful tasking timeline under the Homebuilding Projects tab that may help you plan the timing of your adventure.

And, if you don't already, you should also know that we've changed our name to Gulf Coast Works. Because the need is greater elsewhere, we've migrated away from Biloxi over the last year and this new name better reflects our current goals...but we're still the same tight–knit group of volunteers that you've come to trust and be a part of, so rest assured. You can find us on the web at both our old BridgeToBiloxi dot org URL and our new GulfCoastWorks dot org URL. There is much, much more information available on our new site, so check it out when you can.

And finally, if your schedule doesn't allow you to join our current project, we are always willing to help you find great opportunities to volunteer, either in New Orleans or in coastal Mississippi, where we have many friends and great partner organizations to introduce you to. So, consider putting together a small group of family, friends, classmates, or whatever and picking a week in the not too distant future to go have the time of your life helping others...we're here to help make that happen as simple as 1–2–3.

Best,

We are an grassroots group that organizes volunteer work trips to the Biloxi area. Our basic mission is to facilitate and expedite the process of getting to and finding mean–ingful, productive work for volunteers from throughout the U.S....more details available at our website.

We have strong relationships with a number of well managed, high effective ground operations from Biloxi west to the Slidell area. We will provide direction (but no money) so travel, housing and food needs are met by our host organizations... volunteers need only get themselves to airports in Gulfport or New Orleans and arrange for ground transportion. Through our resources, we will supply project management and logistical support.

As of Spring 2007, most work is focused on home building or rebuilding, and anyone with trade skills is highly desireable.

We do also seek donations of money and/or supplies of building materials. Please see website for details.

Volunteers Needed In Red River Valley

100 Volunteers are needed to help with the sandbagging efforts in the Red River Valley Area.

Two busses of volunteers will travel to the Red River Valley area to help with the flood relief efforts. Busses will dispatch from the Gorecki Center, College of St Benedict campus. Volunteers should park in Lot 4 and gather at the Gorecki Center in the Fireside Lounge for a quick orientation. Volunteers should report to the Gorecki Center no later than 5:45 a.m. Friday morning. Buses will leave from Gorecki at 6:00 a.am. It is expected that the buses will return to that location between 6–7:00 p.m.

Volunteers must be 18 years of age or older unless accompanied by a parent/guardian. All volunteers must be fit and able to handle 30 pound sandbags. Volunteers should bring gloves, rubber boots and other appropriate clothing depending on the forecast.

Water and light morning snacks will be available for volunteers and a lunch may be provided. It is recommended to bring pocket money in case fast food must be purchased at noon or on the way home.

Please call 320–252–0227 with any questions.

U.S. Gulf Coast — September 12, 2008 — As Hurricane Ike bears down on the Gulf Coast, IRD is preparing to provide case management and other assistance to those in its path. Staff from IRD's Gulfport–based Gulf Coast Community Service Center is already in Baton Rouge to assist with Gustav response. drawing on the experience from providing case management services to victims of Hurricane Katrina for the past three years.

Your donation will help us bring emergency relief to the victims of this disaster.

The IRD Gulf Coast Community Service Center (GCCSC) has been rebuilding the lives of the citizens of the Mississippi Gulf Coast since October 2005, opening its doors a little more than one month following the devastation of Hurricane Katrina. The goal of the Center is to reach out to the community and assist in the organization and facilitation of an often–difficult recovery process. Located in West Gulfport, the Center serves the entire Mississippi Gulf Coast, representing most of the Coastal cities as well as the three Coastal counties.

The GCCSC began it work on the Gulf Coast by administering emergency relief, but has transitioned its services to focus on sustainable, long–term recovery. The Center was one of the first agencies in the area administering needs assessments and mapping the most affected areas. The goal of the multi–faceted needs assessment and community mapping process conducted by the Center was to identify potential applicants for assistance following the hurricane. As the recovery cycle progressed from assessing needs to managing needs on an individual basis, the GCCSC has changed its focus to assisting citizens in need through case management. Case managers facilitate the recovery process for survivors by identifying ways to maximize their access to community resources.

The Center hosts a walk–in center for assessments administered by the Harrison County Long Term Recovery Coalition (LTRC), and has developed a resource guide printed by Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) to provide to other relief agencies as a reference.

The Center also provides financial counseling to hurricane victims and MDA Phase II grant recipients seeking to purchase or rebuild homes through funding from the Enterprise Corporation of the Delta. This counseling not only prepares beneficiaries for homeownership, but gives them tools for long–term financial security. And in partnership with the Mennonite Economic Development Association (MEDA), the Center will create and manage a micro–enterprise capital fund which will finance start–up businesses along the Mississippi Gulf Coast. Additionally, the GCCSC will support the development of an open–air market in its Gulfport neighborhood.

IRD also participates in YouthBuild, a program that provides comprehensive programs for vocational development, workforce training and career counseling with Gulf Coast youth. YouthBuild teaches local at–risk high school students how to assist in rebuilding homes while helping them get their GED.

Helping people rebuild their lives, their relationships, and their sense of self–sufficiency, is equally as important to their long–term recovery and that of their communities as their physical needs. It is the human side of recovery that the GCCSC addresses, for thousands of Katrina survivors.

Services:

1)Case management for Katrina survivors. Eligibility: affected by the hurricane and still have unmet needs

2) Fincancial Counseling. Eligibility: Open to everyone

3) Housing Counseling. Eligibility: Open to everyone

4) Youth Build Program will start in January. Eligibility: youth ages 16 to 24 who do not have a high school diploma/GED

Applications are still being accepted for Katrina survivors and programs. To obtain an application: Monday – Thursday 9:00 – 3:00

FIND VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES –

Have an area of Interest you want to Volunteer in?
Peruse the links below to find your local volunteer opportunity:
(Links being added frequently – take a look!)

http://www.longislandvolunteercenter.org/Local_Opportunities

from website:
Interested in Becoming a Disaster Recovery Volunteer? Please register on this site, complete an individual profile, and wait for instructions and specific places to go.

As community needs are assessed, volunteer opportunities will be identified by organizations that need support. You will be contacted once these needs have been expressed. Please be patient with the process as needs assessments are now being confirmed. Thank you for your willingness to donate one of life's most precious assets, your time, to help build community and help your neighbors in need, especially during this unprecedented situation.

Please check the "For Disaster" page periodically. Once Disaster Recovery volunteer opportunities have been identified, we will feature them with links so that you can sign–up to help.

If you are with a nonprofit or governmental agency seeking volunteers, please register or call 516–564–5482.

For now, it will help us if you fill out your volunteer skills profile so we will know more about you and how you can help. Once you register, you'll need to log back in to access and update the volunteer skills.

Those affected by the disaster should consider registering themselves at the Red Cross Safe and Well website to let loved ones know you are safe during this stressful time. Safe and Well is available 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, and is accessible in both English and Spanish.

WELCOME to Long Island's resource for volunteerism and community service initiatives throughout Nassau and Suffolk counties.

Take some time to look through the site, search for opportunities and consider sharing your time and talents with your community. Invite your friends & family to join you!

Some important advice to unaffiliated, spontaneous volunteers:
Volunteers should NEVER deploy to the disaster area unless specifically connected to and requested by a locally receiving organization. Communities struggling to respond and recover can be overwhelmed by an influx of unexpected, unrequested and/or unneeded volunteers or donations.

Confirm the need and the destination BEFORE collecting anything. Potential donors should be wary of anyone who claims that "everything is needed." Groups can be disappointed when the goods they've collected aren't appreciated. Communities affected by disaster often do not have the time or resources to dispose of unneeded donations. Get precise information and confirm the need and destination before collecting any donated good.

Volunteer Wisely. In communities struggling to respond to and recover from disasters, an influx of unexpected, unrequested, and unneeded volunteers can seriously complicate response and recovery efforts. BEFORE TRAVELING TO THE AREA TO HELP, learn whether volunteers are needed, if local volunteers are preferred (to minimize needs for additional food, water, and shelter in an already challenged area), and if they are seeking specific skills.

Hurricane Sandy Update

An update on ongoing response and recovery efforts

The Long Island Volunteer Center, an affiliate of HandsOn Network, is working closely with our local partner agencies and national HandsOn Network to identify volunteer opportunities in the communities impacted by Hurricane Sandy to ensure a coordinated response.

As of November 8th, 2012, we have pre–registered 1,527 individuals and, based on specific requests from partner agencies, have referred volunteers to support Red Cross shelters, food rescue and food bank agencies such as Island Harvest and Long Island Cares–The Harry Chapin Food Bank, Salvation Army donation sites, and a faith–based organization doing debris cleanups in an affected community.

Please understand that due to the number of people interested in volunteering, as soon as an opportunity is identified, it is filled.

We are working with national and local partners to identify more opportunities in the midst of our current challenges, including transportation issues, lack of fuel in the area, identifying volunteer housing and massive power outages. These challenges make it difficult to get teams out to assess the need and scope projects. While we are working diligently, please understand it may be a few days before we increase the number of projects in the impacted area.

In the meantime, there are additional ways you can engage now:

Register your interest to volunteer. By registering with us, you will receive up–to–date information, including when new volunteer opportunities are posted.

Once you have registered, please log back in to update your volunteer skills profile. This will help us reach out to volunteers with specific skill sets once the online referral process begins again.

Donate supplies and materials by clicking here to ensure you are sending the MOST needed items

Host a local fundraiser and donate the proceeds by clicking here.

RECOVERY
We request that you do NOT self–deploy to the region without identifying an opportunity AND housing. Once volunteer housing becomes available, we will update our website with the information on how to book reservations.

Thank you. Each one of you can play an important role in the recovery process, and there will be plenty of opportunities in the days to come. We appreciate your thoughts, your well–wishes and your expressions of support as our community works hard to meet this unprecedented situation.

If you need to reach us, the best way is via email:
disastervolunteer @ longislandvolunteercenter.org
Please recognize that we are receiving an incredible volume of messages right now.

Those affected by the disaster should consider registering themselves at the Red Cross Safe and Well website to let loved ones know you are safe during this stressful time. Safe and Well is available 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, and is accessible in both English and Spanish.

The ReBuilding Center is a project of Our United Villages, a non–profit community enhancement organization. Developed by dedicated volunteers, The ReBuilding Center is modeled after successful building material reuse centers throughout North America (over 500 in the United States and Canada).

The ReBuilding Center opened to the public in 1998 and moved to a 24,000 square foot warehouse in 1999. By 2001, five tons of materials were being kept out of the landfill each day! In 2005 The ReBuilding Center completed its expansion project, adding 40,000 square feet of developed property and the potential to divert nearly ten tons of construction and demolition waste per day by 2008.

The ReBuilding Center is a popular destination for homeowners, do–it–yourselfers, contractors, artists, and enthusiasts interested in building with affordable, environmentally low impact materials. With an inventory that changes by the hour, The ReBuilding Center is the largest non–profit used building materials resource in North America.

The Five Major Goals of The ReBuilding Center:

Contribute to the sustainability and health of our environment by diverting for reuse waste that would otherwise have been discarded into landfills; Provide environmentally sound, affordable, quality used building and remodeling materials to people of all income levels; Create livable–wage, local jobs for people of all backgrounds in an economically depressed area of our region;
Educate Oregonians about the environmental and community benefits of diverting waste for reuse and recycling; and Provide stable funding for Our United Villages' community enhancement work.

The ReBuilding Center plays an important role in the region's effort to maintain livable neighborhoods, preserve natural resources, and reduce reusable materials from entering the wastestream. With widespread community support, The ReBuilding Center diverts 4.5 million pounds of reusable building materials from entering our landfills each year.

Thank you for making The ReBuilding Center a vibrant resource that strengthens the environmental, economic, and social fabric of local communities.

Service Temporary

1. Disaster Response Coordinator:

Regularly attends local emergency management meetings and affiliates the coordinating agency with the local Voluntary Organizations Active in Disaster (VOAD), Interfaith or other local disaster coalition. Educates the member organizations of the VOAD or Interfaith regarding the coordinating agency's (CA) role of referring unaffiliated volunteers to them during disaster recovery. Gathers information from VOAD members about anticipated disaster volunteer needs and then builds a network of civic, fraternal and other groups to encourage their members to affiliate with a local disaster response organization. Develops a disaster volunteer referral plan and gathers supplies needed to open a volunteer reception center— identifies location for reception center; arranges transportation of needed equipment; recruits, trains and orients volunteer staff to help operate the reception center. Develops a plan to transport volunteers from the reception center to the worksites.

2. Coordinating Agency Member:

Works with the disaster response coordinator to register, refer and document unaffiliated disaster volunteers. Develops a public information plan for letting potential spontaneous volunteers know how they can get involved before a disaster occurs. Engages local businesses in planning to donate goods and services to future response and recovery efforts.

3. Disaster Information Developer/Distributor:

Helps to create information material in various disaster preparedness areas for family, youth, seniors, etc. This can include individual, family and community preparedness. Distributes materials to appropriate audiences.

4. Needs Assessment Conductor:

Assesses the hazards and mitigation needs of the community and then communicates them to the Disaster Resistant Community Planning Committee so it can address those needs.

5. Capacity Builder for Reconstruction:

Makes the appropriate partnerships with corporations and organizations involved in construction to ensure effective clean up and rebuilding for recovery efforts.

6. Financial Advisor/Representative:

Takes necessary actions to evaluate potential mitigation and disaster recovery costs and then seeks out methods of fundraising and partnership development to help pay for mitigation and disaster efforts.
Preparedness Roles

7. Community Emergency Response Team (C.E.R.T) Volunteer:

Assists others in their neighborhoods or workplaces following an event and can take a more active role in preparing their communities. Understands basic disaster response skills, such as fire safety, light search and rescue, and disaster medical operations. Gives critical support to first responders, provides immediate assistance to victims and organizes spontaneous volunteers at a disaster site. Helps improve the safety of the community before disasters happen.

8. Community Emergency Response Team (C.E.R.T) Trainer:

Completes Train–the–Trainer course conducted by the state training office for emergency management or the Federal Emergency Management Agency's (FEMA) Emergency Management Institute (EMI) in Emmitsburg, MD. Studies disaster preparedness, disaster fire suppression, basic disaster medical operations, and light search and rescue operations and educates C.E.R.T. volunteers.

9. Medical Reserve Corps (MRC) Volunteer:

Coordinates with existing local emergency response programs and supplements existing community public health initiatives, such as outreach and prevention, immunization programs, blood drives, case management, care planning and other efforts. May deliver necessary public health services during a crisis, assist emergency response teams with patients, or provide care directly to those with less–serious injuries and other health–related issues.

10. Neighborhood Watch Program Volunteer:

Completes training about terrorism awareness and the existing crime prevention mission and aims to bring residents together to focus on emergency preparedness and emergency response training.

11. Volunteer in Police Service (VIPS):

Helps supplement and support officers and civilian personnel by allowing them to concentrate on their primary duties. May perform clerical tasks, serve as an extra set of "eyes and ears," assist with search and rescue activities, and write citations for accessible parking violations. Helps the police department fulfill its duties in the event of a disaster.

12. Community Disaster Educator:

Helps keep families and individuals safe. Presents and distributes important disaster preparedness material at local health fairs and information booths and gives lectures and presentations to interested groups.
Response Roles

13. Volunteer Reception Center (VRC) Director:
Oversees the VRC operation. Clearly designates one entrance and one exit. Sets up the room for efficient flow of volunteers and information. Briefs and assigns tasks to staff and volunteers of the center. Monitors the operation and makes changes when necessary. Meets and thanks volunteers who help in the VRC and instructs them to sign in and out.

14. Volunteer Reception Center (VRC) Greeter:
Provides instruction sheets to volunteers, asks them to complete registration forms and gives them a brief orientation to the registration process.

15. Volunteer Reception Center (VRC) Interviewer:
Interviews volunteers and gives them referral forms. Explains where and to whom volunteers should report for duty.

16. Volunteer Reception Center (VRC) Data Coordinator and Entry Staff:
Records volunteer referrals and communicates, as needed, with requesting agencies so that when needs have been met, requests can be closed out. Enters Requests for Volunteers and Volunteer Registration Forms into the computer. Prints out updated lists of unfilled requests as needed.

17. Volunteer Reception Center (VRC) Volunteer Identification Staff:
Attaches wristbands volunteers that contain the volunteer's name, the agency or site to which the volunteer was referred, and the date(s) on which the volunteer expects to work.

18. Volunteer Reception Center (VRC) Safety Trainer:
Documents the attendance of each volunteer and presents a prepared safety briefing appropriate to the specific disaster event.

19. Volunteer Reception Center (VRC) Specific Job Trainer:
Provides specific job training to each worksite or function before volunteers depart for their work areas.

20. Volunteer Reception Center (VRC) Phone Bank Operator:
Takes calls from individuals and groups wishing to volunteer and from organizations needing volunteers. Records each call and posts information on the request board or forwards details to the data coordinator.

21. Public Information Officer:
Makes statements to the media about the center's operation. Serves as the only contact with media and should be a trained professional who only delivers information approved by the VRC director.

22. VRC Runner:
Attends to VRC stations that have raised a small flag summoning assistance. Posts new requests for volunteers on the request board, carries information from one station to another, escorts guests and delivers supplies to the stations.

23. Worksite Supervisor:
Maintains a supply of volunteer sign–in–sheets at each volunteer worksite. Conducts a safety briefing as each group of volunteers arrives, regarding the specific hazards at the site. Has all volunteers read the statement at the top of the sign–in sheet and sign in, recording their time of arrival and departure each day. Turns in all sign–in sheets to a designated supervisor who will turn them into the budget department.

24. Shelter Volunteer:
Helps with the operation of shelter needs.

25. Language Translator:
Translates disaster response and recovery information to individuals who do not understand English.

26. Transportation Driver/Dispatcher:
Helps people who have no reliable means of transportation get to and from medical appointments. Uses Red Cross vehicles to transport clients to and from area hospitals, physicians' offices and medical facilities. Coordinates appointments and schedules.

27. Volunteer Transportation Director:
Helps to put up road signs and clearly marked directions to worksites, donation warehouses and the reception center. Monitors control checkpoints where trucks and other transport vehicles may be inspected, scheduled, turned back or directed to a designated reception center, warehouse or distribution center.

28. Amateur Radio Operator:
Provides backup communications in the event of a failure of the government system. Supplements communications at large disasters and emergencies.

29. Animal Rescuer:
Helps evacuate and rescue deserted animals. Completes training in small and large animal handling and care.

30. Security Personnel:
Protects worksites from unauthorized visitors and protects victims and other citizens from violent behavior and outbreaks in times of disaster. Aids in police efforts.
Recovery Roles

31. Volunteer Disaster Damage Assessor:
Provides disaster damage assessment support to a large state or national disaster relief operation. Identifies and notes exterior damage to homes within 72 hours of the disaster. Completes appropriate forms, reports and records in a timely manner. Completes necessary training to stay up to date on changes in function. Participates in disaster preparedness exercises. Must be efficient, organized, observant, flexible, adaptable to change, accept direction and have attention to detail.

32. Heavy Equipment Operator:
Runs and operates heavy equipment as part of debris removal and reconstruction.

33. Debris Clean–up Crew:
Helps move debris off the streets to allow for traffic to pass through.

34. Construction Volunteer:
Helps in reconstruction efforts.

35. Food and Donations Distributor:
Helps distribute meals, clothing, etc., to victims of a disaster.

36. Disaster Health/Mental Health Volunteer:
Helps disaster victims and workers involved with the disaster relief effort with health–related emergencies and provides counseling in shelters, service centers and during home visits. Must be licensed professionals.

37. Warehouse Volunteer:
Sorts donated non–perishable food products and repacks it for distribution to emergency food providers in communities.

38. Donation Coordination Team Volunteer:
Manages donations phone bank. Processes offers from the public. Conducts donations intelligence. Works to include emerging relief organizations. Ensures effective logistics procedures are in place. Maintains a database on donated goods and services. Determines the needs of donations and services. Identify staging areas, distribution centers and ports of entry.

39. Donations Coordinator:
Works with the public information officer to plan and implement public awareness information. Coordinates with donations management and other state agencies as necessary. Ensures effective communications are in place. Determines best way to dispose of excess donations—recycle, redistributed or donated to other locations.
