The Alabama Department of Agriculture & Industries (ADAI) has worked closely with emergency management agencies and local, regional, and national humane societies to facilitate the local operation of regional shelters, listed below. ADAI will handle the oversight and management of the facilities; local, regional, and national humane societies will provide volunteers and resources; while the Alabama Veterinary Medical Association and Auburn University will manage the pets' healthcare needs at the shelters.

* Houston County Farm Center
1701 East Cottonwood Road
Dothan, AL (Houston County)
(Can house 400 domestic animals, 150 large animals)

* Garrett Coliseum
1555 Federal Drive
Montgomery, AL (Montgomery County)
(Can house 2,500–5,000 domestic animals, 700–900 large animals)

The state shelters will accept "any" animals, including snakes and unvaccinated animals. The state will provide the medical equipment and testing necessary to give rabies shots and will provide medication for any animals with a communicable disease.

Owners will not be able to stay with their pets, although there will be some "limited" room elsewhere on the property for owners to stay.

For more information on Alabama Regional Emergency Animal Shelters, call ADAI at 334.240.7278.

However, if you are planning to board your animal at a veterinary clinic, you should call ahead to make reservations. Many clinics require proof of vaccinations, secure carriers, collars with id's, along with an ample supply of food, bowls, medications, toys, blankets, and other comfort items. Contact the clinic directly for specific instructions. Also, be sure to ask them about microchipping, a safe and simple procedure in which a tiny computer chip is injected just under your pet's skin with an identification number to help identify them in case they are ever lost or stolen.

Chile quake death toll hits 708 as rescue ramps up
Feb 28, 4:35 PM EST

The president, who leaves office on March 11, also said the country would accept some of the offers of aid that have poured in from around the world.

She said the country needs field hospitals and temporary bridges, water purification plants and damage assessment experts – as well as rescuers to help relieve workers who have been laboring frantically since the magnitude–8.8 quake struck before dawn Saturday.

To strip away any need for looting, Bachelet announced that essentials on the shelves of major supermarkets would be given away for free, under the supervision of authorities. Troops and police will also distribute food and water, she said

Volunteer Opportunities:
Although the hurricane seasons of 2004 and 2005 have long passed, in many communities the damage is not quickly or easily repaired. This is where the work of the long–term recovery organizations offers a lifeline of hope to those still struggling to put their lives back together. These organizations work with the disenfranchised in their communities ? the least and the lost who often "fall between the cracks" in receiving other types of assistance. Volunteer work teams play a vital role in completing the physical tasks of rebuilding and recovery. The Storm Recovery Center works closely with local long–term recovery organizations to assist in recruiting and placing volunteers.In all cases, volunteer teams can serve for as long as they are able ? from a weekend to a week or longer. In most cases, housing is available.

Please contact the Storm Center to learn more about specific opportunities or to schedule a team:
1–800–282–8011 ext. 149 or stormrecovery@flumc.org

As of January 2007:

Charlotte County:
The Interfaith Interagency Network of Charlotte County (IINCC) is in need of teams with skilled labor, including carpenters, roofers, tile and carpet installers and concrete workers. Electricians are also needed but must be locally licensed due to code and permitting requirements in Charlotte County.

As of the Summer of 2007, we are "standing down" until the next disaster, having completed the projects we were tasked with. While we do not have an active staff, our Board of Directors meet regularly to ensure we are prepared for the next disaster. (Statistics and updates will be included in this site hopefully by the end of 2007!)

Hendry and Glades Counties:
Community Rebuilding Ecumenical Workforce (CREW) is in need of teams with both skilled and unskilled labor. They have over 250 homes still needing repairs including dry walling, flooring, ceiling work, roofing, demolition, window and/or door replacement.
Also see CAT Facility entry at: https://reliefdb.org/shelters/1062

Monroe County (Florida Keys):
Paradise Interfaith Network (PIN) is working with families on Big Coppitt Key to repair and harden mobile homes damaged by storm surge from Hurricane Wilma. Work includes repairing and/or replacing dry wall and fiber board as well as repairing metal roofs.

Palm Beach County:
Christians Reaching Out to Society (CROS) needs volunteer teams who have at least one team member experienced in construction. Work includes dry walling, roofing, flooring, etc.

Tornado Opportunities February 2007:
Please submit a team application to Storm Recovery if you are interested in helping with the long term recovery in the tornado damaged areas. There is an anticipated need for work teams in the tornado affected areas for the next six months.

The Florida Conference has established a central location for coordinating Storm Recovery efforts. Our Storm Recovery Center is located in the United Methodist Building in Lakeland, Florida and is set up to receive calls from volunteer work teams offering assistance to those in need. These work teams will be matched with requests from those in the storm–affected areas. You will be contacted by the Storm Recovery Center or the site coordinator to work out the details of your assignment location and date. The site coordinator will provide support and direction for you and your team prior to and upon arrival.

Hope Crisis Response Network – HCRN is a not–for–profit 501c3 organization located in Northern Indiana. The mission of HCRN during times of disaster is to: 1) coordinate and deploy volunteers, resources, and financial assistance to the affected areas; 2) serve as advocates to help victims obtain assistance from appropriate agencies and organizations; and 3) assist in devising and implementing post–disaster long term recovery plans for local communities.

Volunteers are the most valuable and vital resource for any recovery. It is not only our responsibility to provide well–trained volunteers but to equip them with the tools they need to do the job. The secret to having motivated volunteers is to be well prepared and take good care of them. We work within the community to make sure that each of our projects is well planned and managed in a safe and friendly working environment.

When a disaster is declared, HCRN is called upon to provide assistance in all four stages of a disaster:

U.S. Labor Department resources available for Midwest flood recovery

Online tool provides information on wage, benefits, unemployment

WASHINGTON — The U.S. Department of Labor announces a one–stop Web tool offering a number of resources to assist those negatively impacted by the recent spate of floods in the Midwest.

"We want to make information easily accessible and help quickly available to Americans affected by the devastating flooding in the Midwest," said Secretary of Labor Elaine L. Chao. "In addition to our toll–free telephone number, we've set up a Midwest Flood Recovery Assistance Web page to guide affected residents on unemployment insurance, personal safety during cleanup operations and many other helpful resources for workers and employers."

Displaced, evacuated and otherwise affected workers are encouraged to visit the department's Midwest Flood Recovery Assistance Web page, at www.dol.gov/opa/flood–recovery.htm. Useful information and Web site links will assist victims with questions about benefits, eligibility, the latest information on locations of an operating OneStop Career Center or career service center, links to FEMA for updates on federally–declared disaster counties by state, links to unemployment insurance information by state, paycheck and wage–related questions, technical assistance information from OSHA on personal safety issues involved in cleanup and recovery efforts, and helpful toll–free numbers.

Workers can call the department's toll–free number at 866–4–USA–DOL (487–2365) to get the latest information on where to file a claim and access temporary job information. Impacted workers can place their calls from anywhere and will be directed to sites near them that can take their claims. The Midwest Flood Recovery Assistance Web page will also post the latest Department of Labor news releases, compliance information for contractors and subcontractors working on federally–funded clean up activities, along with valuable information for businesses and employers including important federal filing extensions for business in affected states.

One week remains to apply for federal assistance

MOORHEAD – Only one week remains for Minnesotans to apply for federal disaster assistance for flood damage incurred between March 16 and May 22.

Tuesday, June 9 is the last day for residents of designated counties to apply by telephone or online with the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA). The counties designated for Individual Assistance are: Beltrami, Clay, Marshall, Norman, Polk, Traverse and Wilkin.

“For many people, applying for assistance is a critical step toward getting back to normal,” said FEMA’s Federal Coordinating Officer Michael H. Smith. “With just one week left, we want to encourage everyone impacted by the disaster in the designated counties to apply.”

To date, 1,244 Minnesota residents have applied for disaster assistance. More than $5.5 million in federal disaster assistance has been approved for the state. That includes more than $3 million in low–interest disaster loans from the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA).

Federal and state disaster recovery officials urge residents affected by flooding from March 16 to May 22 to apply as soon as possible. Applicants can call the toll–free registration number at 1–800–621–FEMA (3362), TTY 1–800–462–7585, between 7 a.m. and 11 p.m. CDT, seven days a week. Individuals also may register online at www.disasterassistance.gov.

FEMA grants help pay for items like home repairs, temporary housing and other serious, necessary disaster–related expenses. These other expenses could include damaged personal property, medical and dental expenses.

Loan applications for homeowners, renters and businesses of any size also must be submitted by June 9 to the SBA. Loans could cover disaster–related losses including damage or loss of real and personal property. The deadline for loans to cover economic impacts to businesses is Jan. 11, 2010.

Individuals with SBA questions may call the SBA Customer Service Center at 1–800–659–2955, TTY 1–800–877–8339, or online at www.sba.gov/services/disasterassistance.gov.

Applicants who receive a letter from SBA after applying for federal assistance with FEMA need to open it and complete the forms inside. Returning the loan application is an essential part of the disaster recovery process, even for individuals who do not want a loan. Simply filling out and returning the SBA application may make other FEMA assistance available to some applicants.

Residents should apply with FEMA even if they have insurance. FEMA does not duplicate insurance payments or pay deductibles. Applicants may be eligible, however, for assistance with serious, necessary expenses not covered by insurance.

Fargo disaster recover center transitions into SBA loan center

Federal and State disaster officials announced today that the Disaster Recovery Center in Fargo has transitioned to a U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) Disaster Loan Outreach Center (DLOC) beginning on Monday, June 1. The North Dakota Department of Emergency Services (NDDES), the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) and SBA officials opened up the DRC to provide one–stop, face–to–face assistance and disaster information to individuals and businesses who suffered damage as a result of the recent flooding.

“At this stage of the recovery process, the emphasis for assistance is to meet the long–term needs of victims,” said NDDES Deputy Director Greg Wilz. “We believe the transition of the Disaster Recovery Center to an SBA Disaster Loan Outreach Center will better meet the current needs of Fargo area residents.”
“Just because the Fargo Disaster Recovery Center has closed does not mean FEMA is leaving,” said FEMA’s Federal Coordinating Officer Justo “Tito” Hernandez. “We will be here as long as it takes.

If you have not registered yet, or have questions about your application or our programs, call us at 1–800–621–FEMA or TTY 1–800–462–7585, or go online at www.disasterassistance.gov.”. Operators are available from 7:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m. Central time daily (6:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. Mountain time).
