What is the role of PetAid during a disaster?

PetAid Disaster Services does not coordinate animal evacuation and sheltering during a disaster. That responsibility falls to the local jurisdiction in charge of the incident.

Should the local jurisdiction order animal evacuation or make sheltering available, notice to the public should be provided on local television, radio or the jurisdiction's website. Please remember that animal evacuation will not be conducted in areas that are a threat to human safety.

Animal evacuation and sheltering services are typically provided by trained volunteers and professionals. Our Colorado Veterinary Medical Reserve Corps, which is an initiative of PetAid Disaster Services, cannot utilize spontaneous volunteers. However, we encourage interested individuals to become a member to assist in the future. Click here for more information including training and credentialing requirements.

To provide general volunteer assistance or to donate goods, services or cash, please call your local 211.These trained volunteers will provide guidance on how to offer your time or resources. Please note that only that which is needed will be accepted.

We are aware that during a disaster that people wish to assist their community. Please recognize that the time to become involved is not during a disaster, but before. We encourage you to reach out to your local community to become a part of a professional, coordinated response effort. To develop your own personal preparedness plan, please review Colorado's animal preparedness brochures for guidance.

The Colorado Veterinary Medical Foundation (CVMF) is pleased to announce that after 10 years, the organization — which houses programs such as Harrison Memorial Animal Hospital — has changed its name to PetAid Colorado.

"We undertook this process with both trepidation and excitement, and with the upmost care and respect for the organization's history and its founders," said Executive Director Ralph Johnson. "Following a process of consultation with our board, supporters, and partner organizations, we have approved a new name and a fresh, new visual identity."

Key stakeholders and constituents made it clear that clarity and simplicity are paramount in expressing who the organization is and what it does. The new name will have minimal impact on the way the staff and board go about their work — but it will certainly make it much easier to express it to friends, donors, and the communities it serves. At the same time, the new identify maintains the distinctiveness it brings as the safety net for underprivileged and at–risk pets throughout Colorado.

"Our new identity proclaims our mission in a way that intuitively connects with people who care about pets in need, and it clearly communicates our four core services," said President of PetAid Colorado Donna Hultin. "We look forward with enthusiasm to attracting broader public awareness and greater numbers of donors to our cause. With more resources, we can serve more pets in need and weave a stronger safety net for their care."

The new program names will be changed to the following, but the mission they all serve has remained intact:

Harrison Memorial Animal Hospital is now called PetAid Animal Hospital
Animal Emergency Management Program is now called PetAid Disaster Services
Home Outreach Pet Exams (HOPE) is now called PetAid Home Outreach
Veterinary Care Grants is now called PetAid Care Grants
Please be patient...

We are excited about our new name and look of PetAid Colorado! We are working to update our website, so please be patient with us as we make the necessary changes. If you are looking for something or need assistance, please contact Sharon Brown or Brittney Parent–Williams at 303.318.0447 .

Website address: http://epr@kitcarsoncounty.org
Brief Description: Kit Carson County CERT has 17 members, and is a part of the Kit Carson County County Health and Human Services, is being developed to help Kit Carson County, a sparsely populated county located 170 miles from Denver and bordering Kansas along I–70. Kit Carson County CERT deals with surge capacity in a local disaster, including assisting mass prophylaxis/vaccination clinics or other major public health needs. The unit is partnered with the Red Cross, VOAD, County mental health services, OEM, Citizen Corps, RSVP, MRC, and other County resources to develop a coordinated response to a disaster. It is limiting recruitment to licensed health and medical personnel, including nurses, nurse practitioners, veterinarians, pharmacists, doctors, chiropractors, physician assistants, and dentists, and other community resources in the county. This unit is recruiting members for its CERT by making presentations and/or delivering brochures to its 3 medical clinics, 1 county hospital, 1 sattelite of Morgan Community College, Citizen Corps meetings, meetings of professional organizations, mailings, health fairs, and other community gatherings. The unit has a core of about 100 volunteers and has developed a core curriculum based on the suggested CERT core competencies. These MRC volunteers will be included in exercises being planned by the Kit Carson County Health and Human Services.

Name of Program: City and County of Denver CERT
Geographic Area: Denver
Point of Contact: Caroyln Bluhm
Phone Number: 7208657698
E–mail address: carolyn.bluhm@ci.dever.co.us
Website address: http://www.denvergov.org/Default.aspx?alias=www.denvergov.org/oem
Brief Description: The Federal Emergency Management Agency, using the model created by the Los Angeles Fire Department (LAFD), the Community Emergency Response Team (CERT) concept in 1986. Since then, hundreds of communities across the United States have established their own CERT programs. The City and County of Denver, Mayor’s Office of Emergency Management is using the LAFD model to develop Citizen Emergency Response Training as a partnering effort between emergency services and the people they serve. The goal is for emergency personnel to train citizens of our community in basic preparedness and skills. If a disastrous event overwhelms or delays the community’s professional response, citizens can better protect themselves by applying the preparedness skills that they learned during training. These skills can help save and sustain their lives following a disaster until help arrives. CERT skills also apply to daily emergencies.

9/30/09 Flood Response:

Next Meeting Date/Location (October 2, 2009) - Today (9/30) was our last daily conference call for this disaster. We are planning to have a face–to–face meeting hosted by FEMA at the JFO on Friday, October 2. The meeting time will be 1 pm. The JFO is located at 4360 NE Expressway, Atlanta GA 30340. It is located on the Westside of I–85 between Pleasantdale and Northcrest. (near spaghetti junction). NE Expressway is a one–way going south so you must access it from the Pleasantdale exit. There is a QT gas station at that intersection.

If you have information to go up on the GAVOAD website contact Ed Nance at 770–316–8692. We also have a page up on the CAN website for this particular disaster.

9/23: Georgia Flood Response:

Still looking for volunteers to man staff VOAD desk at SOC – see Bob if you can assist. Currently looking for 1–2 shifts for 7 am – 7 pm operational period.

From their website:

GAVOAD: Partnership Before, During, and After Disaster

How GAVOAD Serves Its Membership:

History:

Georgia Voluntary Organizations Active in Disaster (GAVOAD) is a coalition of voluntary organizations that have a mission before, during, and after disasters that occur in Georgia.
After Hurricane Camille in 1969, many national voluntary organizations shared their mutual concern about the lack of coordination between their agencies. Representatives of the voluntary organizations began meeting regularly to share their respective activities, concerns, and frustrations. Their goal was, and still is, to jointly minimize duplication of effort and more efficiently manage activities during disasters. GAVOAD was formed to expand this movement of interagency cooperation, coordination, communication, and collaboration to Georgia.
Today, GAVOAD is the primary forum used by the voluntary organizations in Georgia to coordinate activities with each other.

Organization:

GAVOAD voting members are organizations with a statewide disaster response and/or relief and recovery mission.

GAVOAD recognizes local VOAD's as nonvoting members to provide local voluntary organizations an opportunity to work together.

GAVOAD also accepts government and corporate entities as nonvoting partners.

GAVOAD is a non–profit 501 (c) (3) corporation governed by a Board of Directors.

GAVOAD meets quarterly.

GAVOAD is NOT a service delivery organization.
GAVOAD supports its members independent relief and recovery services by providing a forum for voluntary organizations active in disaster to practice the four C's:

• Cooperation – encouraging working together and information exchange
• Coordination – fostering understanding and providing a liaison with public offices
• Communication – providing information to members and the general public through audio–visual, print and electronic means including newsletters, PowerPoint programs, brochures, electronic discussion lists, and websites
• Collaboration – encouraging members to work in partnership with each other and with other associations through joint seminars, board meetings, conferences, training programs, and meetings before, during, and after disasters

GAVOAD provides its members with a strong liaison and a common voice with state emergency management, including a seat in the State Emergency Operations Center (SEOC) and a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with the Division of Homeland Security and Emergency Management.

• GAVOAD Conference Calls – provide an opportunity for all GAVOAD and local VOAD agencies and partners involved in a particular incident to talk with each other and coordinate their work.
• Joint Training – combines the resources and efforts of GAVOAD members and partners to provide multiple opportunities to train together through conferences and exercises. Joint agency volunteer training brings in state and national experts to speak on issues of joint concern including communications, case management, response and recovery skills, and many other subjects.
• Joint Information Efforts – put GAVOAD members in front of emergency managers and other public officials on a regular basis throughout the year with forums, booths, and other efforts to jointly inform emergency managers and the public about the capabilities of all the state and local VOAD partner organizations.
• Annual NVOAD Conference – GAVOAD annually provides scholarships to send member and VOAD leaders to the annual National VOAD Conference to network and learn from other state and national VOAD leaders.

Publications and Resources

GAVOAD, in partnership with NVOAD produces resources for state and local members that are available in print or are downloadable from the NVOAD website.

• VOAD Pamphlets and PowerPoint – help state and local VOAD members explain the VOAD concept to government, response and recovery agency leaders, potential new members and partners and the public in general. Through NVOAD, GAVOAD provides templates for these resources that allow local VOADs to "personalize" the program for their specific area with a professional look that is consistent in design with both the NVOAD and GAVOAD programs
• Design for Success – an NVOAD leadership tool that details the goals any VOAD should strive for and methods for achieving those goals
• Long–Term Recovery Manual – an NVOAD tool to assist state and local VOAD leaders with preparing for cooperative long–term recovery work

• Volunteer Management Manual – an NVOAD tool to assist state and local VOAD leaders with preparing for the cooperative management of both affiliated and unaffiliated volunteers.

ARC has an active relief operation headquartered in Albany that is serving most of the affected counties. There are 10 Georgia counties that are included in the Florida relief operation. Damage assessment is ongoing in 18 counties, 90- 100% complete in 11 counties. With so many roads closed, many areas are still inaccessible, but as of last evening we are reporting 28 homes destroyed, 27 with major damage, 88 with minor damage, 82 affected and 72 inaccessible. There have been 8 shelters opened at one time or another but all are closed now. Less than 100 people registered overall and only 89 overnight stays. Most people stayed only 1-2 nights and the peak population at any one shelter was 36. Casework is just starting today. So far there are 78 cases reported open but the only assistance provided to date is to pay for hotel stays for families with a medical need or where there was only 1 family needing lodging in a county and the distance to the next shelter was too great. As we get a better feel for the needs, we will be letting you know. We do know several families have indicated a need for help with clean up and repair once the water goes down, and this is very likely to become a significant need.

Farmers or rural residents who would like help with cleanup are encouraged to contact the Butler County Extension office at (319) 267–2707 or the Iowa Concern Hotline at 1–800–447–1985. Cleanup activities could include picking up debris in fields or cleaning up building sites.

5/28/08 News Article (Non Pareil Online http://www.nonpareilonline.com/site/news.cfm?newsid=19726131&BRD=2703&PAG=461&dept_id=555106&rfi=6)

Even though no donations are being requested at this time to help those affected by the May 25 tornadoes, the Iowa Concern Hotline is now collecting information from citizens wishing to help.
Advertisement

Anyone wanting to have items included on the listing of donated goods should contact the hotline at (800) 447–1985. The information collected by the Iowa Concern Hotline will be referenced as needs are identified within the affected areas.

When an individual contacts the Iowa Concern Hotline, they will be asked to provide information regarding the donated goods or services to include the location and type of service or donation, and a point of contact. This information will then be compiled into a database. Once a specific need is identified, the database will be used to match a resource to the need and the associated point of contact will be notified and instructed on the best method to deliver the resource.

Please note that the Iowa Concern Hotline is only gathering information about resources people are seeking to donate. Do not self–deploy any donated resources to the impacted areas. Self–deploying resources into the affected areas only places additional stress on those impacted and responding to the storm damages. The State of Iowa Emergency Operations Center is coordinating resources with the local on–scene incident commanders.

Pottawattamie County residents and emergency responders who may wish to assist those affected by the Parkersburg tornado are asked to contact the county's Emergency Management Agency to coordinate relief efforts.

The agency is in direct contact with the state's Emergency Operations Center and the Incident Command System in the stricken area.

All relief resources to that area should first go through the county's agency. Sending not requested assistance directly to the area can sometimes create additional loads on local resources.

For more information, call 328–5777.

When flooding is a concern in the state, Iowa State University Extension’s Iowa Concern hotline is available for those who need assistance.

Iowa Concern Hotline is available 24 hours a day at (800) 447–1985. All calls are free and confidential, and the operators are willing to assist wherever possible.

Three avenues are available to Iowans through the Iowa Concern Hotline. First, counselors are available to help those experiencing emotional and financial stress because of flooding.

“Damage to crops and homes by flooding can add extra stress. Counselors are available to help with the change in the weather and the stress it causes,” said Margaret VanGinkel, Iowa Concern Hotline coordinator. “Sometimes it helps to talk to someone about what you are experiencing, and the hotline does that.”

Second, information and referrals are given to those who need assistance. For example, farmers would be referred to ISU Extension crop specialists for concerns related to planting, replanting or specific diseases. Phone numbers of those in the community that can help with other problems also are provided.

Third, what insurance policies cover during flooding and damaging weather may be in question. Legal concerns are addressed at the hotline. Attorneys can help answer insurance questions and problems that may arise with hail and flood damage.

Iowa Concern Hotline is here to help Iowans deal with stress and concern. “Stress from the weather can get the best of people,” VanGinkel said. “It is important to alleviate stress by attacking it and solving the problem.”

Donated weather radios will be passed out to Madison Co. residents

Posted: 6:00 PM May 20, 2009
Last Updated: 4:33 PM May 20, 2009
Reporter: Meteorologist Lauren Raymer
Email Address: lauren.raymer@wkyt.com

The First Alert Weather Team and Midland Radio have donated 40 NOAA weather radios to Madison County as a result of the devastating tornado earlier this month.

The local Emergency Management Agency will be passing them out to residents who live outside of the Immediate Response Zone (IRZ).

Kent Clark, Madison County Judge Executive, says, "The radios are a first line of defense...Sometimes residents are inside with the television and can't hear the sirens."

NOAA weather radios can be programmed for your specific area. They have proven to be a life-saving tool during severe weather.

Weather radios can also be purchased for a discounted price at many local Kroger locations.

Madison County Rescue Crews To Help Clean Up Free Of Charge
Posted: May 17, 2009 11:48 AM PDT

http://www.wlextv.com/global/story.asp?s=10376362

The clean up continues in Madison County and for the places hardest hit, the Madison County Rescue Squad is offering their services, free of charge.

The crews will be available to provide storm related clean up to residents affected by the EF-3 tornado. The service is free to any resident directly affected.

For more information or to schedule a crew, you can call Billy Crain at 859-893-5911, or you can send an email to publicrelations@madisoncorescue.org.

211 is a "central clearing house" for referrals for social services. A "one stop shop", if you will. Call them if you are in any kind of need, whether you are a survivor of a natural disaster survivor, or have suffered a personal disaster. The organization is a "referral–only" group. They will refer you to the actual group that will help you.

From their website:

What Kind Of Help Can 2–1–1 Provide?

Why call 2–1–1? Counseling. Education. Temporary resources. Employment. Volunteering.

There are a hundred reasons to call.

Here's just a short list of ways 2–1–1 can help.

Disaster Legal Services Program Activated in Aftermath of Hurricane Irene

By: WNCT STAFF NC Bar Association
Published: August 31, 2011

NORTH CAROLINA – The North Carolina Bar Association, through its Young Lawyers Division, is providing free legal assistance to persons in North Carolina affected by Hurricane Irene.

President Obama declared a federal disaster on Wednesday in seven North Carolina counties hit by Hurricane Irene. Beaufort, Carteret, Craven, Dare, Hyde, Pamlico and Tyrrell counties are covered by the declaration. Additional counties may come under the declaration following further damage assessments by FEMA.

The program is conducted in conjunction with the ABA's Disaster Legal Services Program and FEMA.

Victims of Hurricane Irene are urged to report insurance claims to their insurance companies as quickly as possible and have an adjuster look at the property before making significant repairs.

Storm victims needing help with legal problems may call the N.C. Bar Association weekdays from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at 1-800-662-7407 and ask for Disaster Legal Services to leave your information. A volunteer attorney will call you back within 48-72 hours.

Attorneys who wish to volunteer should call that same number or e-mail sections@ncbar.org.

The volunteer attorneys will not be seeking and will not accept business from those affected by these storms. It is strictly a public service.

The N.C. Bar Association also has a free informational pamphlet titled “Rebuilding After Disaster Strikes,” which is available by sending a self–addressed stamped envelope to YLD Disaster Services, PO Box 3688, Cary, NC 27519. The pamphlet may also be downloaded off the NCBA Web site (www.ncbar.org) where it is located on the home page under Featured Items.

Tips on making insurance claims include: follow up initial telephone claims in writing with a list of all losses and take pictures of the damage; provide receipts, appraisals and photographs to the agent and keep a copy of all written information; and obtain estimates for repair and replacement costs.

Storm victims are advised to talk with a lawyer before signing any release or waiver that may prevent them from making a claim. The NCBA also advises storm victims to hire only licensed contractors to make repairs.

Organizational Structure

The International Relief Friendship Foundation was founded in 1975 under the inspiration of Reverend and Mrs. Sun Myung Moon for the purpose of conducting relief programs, assisting other humanitarian agencies in their relief efforts, providing disaster services, and for educating our wider society to the problems of poverty, social injustice, and catastrophic events. IRFF not only conducts its own projects but also works cooperatively with other efforts, globally and domestically, to better serve those in need.

Disaster Program

During times of disaster, IRFF provides several areas of service to areas hard hit by the disaster. The services that IRFF provides include:

• Providing needs assessment/unmet needs to victims and their families. This means that our volunteers and staff canvass the area affected by the disaster to see what needs are present in that community with the purpose of directing or meeting those needs as quickly as possible.
• Providing casework management as to prevent victims and their families so as to ensure that all those affected may be helped.
• Providing volunteers for clean up and recovery efforts after the disaster.
• Providing direct support and emergency services immediately following a disaster. This involves immediate needs such as blankets, food, clothing, relief kits or other items as requested by the affected region.
• Assisting and working collegially with those agencies involved in responding to the needs of the community when disaster strikes.

When a disaster hits, IRFF can mobilize a volunteer response which involves the university, business, youth groups, women's organizations, a community religious network, and other organizational contacts.

FROM THE SITE:

IRFF welcomes the individuals who are agar and committed to work for public purposes by help marginalized community living in the extreme poverty, disaster dangers and diseases. IRFF has a number of projects worldwide that focusing to the developing countries.

IRFF is running “International Friendship and Service Project” and “Experience & Learning Project”. The volunteers are welcomed to join in the project. For detail information please contact with

8/30/11 E–Letter:

Adventist Community Services Disaster Response (ACS DR) teams are responding to the effects of Hurrincane Irene. North Carolina is still doing assessments and exploring the possibility of setting up a distribution center.Virginia is doing assessments. Maryland is in pretty good shape. Pennsylvania has a mobile feeding unit in Goshen and are considering storing goods at a central location for assisting survivors. New Jersey ACS DR team are getting personal care kits and flood buckets out to survivors. In New York, there was more water & wind damge upstate than in New York City. The state of New York is talking about opening a multi–agency warehouse.

Please continue to pray for those affected by these continuing disasters as well as those who so generously give of their time to help others in need.

To help support continued ACS DR operations:
1) Go to www.communityservices.org,

Organizational Structure

The state disaster program is coordinated through the Community Service Director with assistance of state and area disaster coordinators. Adventist Community Service Disaster Response of New York plays an important role in the NYS Donations Management Plan.

Disaster Program

The following services are provided to disaster victims, their families and communities in cooperation with the other government and voluntary disaster response agencies. Services are provided without regard to any person's race, color, language, age, religion, or gender.

1. Emergency Distribution Centers –– Drinking water, groceries, blankets, personal comfort kits, disposable diapers, cleaning supplies, hand tools, plastic sheeting, felt paper, and clothing are provided to meet the immediate needs of families. Donations of groceries, blankets, clothing and other supplies are accepted from the general public and processed for distribution by ACS volunteers and through cooperating agencies. Relief Centers are often based in community facilities such as a high school gym or church hall. At times distribution is done from mobile units.

2. Warehouse Operations –– Inter–agency "Reception Centers" for truckloads of donated goods are operated by ACS under contracts with state and local governments on behalf of and in collaboration with the other voluntary disaster relief agencies and local service organizations. Volunteers sort donations, log them into a computerized inventory for emergency managers, and re–package them for effective use by local distribution sites.

3. Donations Coordination Center –– Groups, corporations and individuals who want to provide donated goods or volunteers are encouraged to "call ahead" to ascertain the real needs and coordinate safe arrival of needed items and helpful volunteers. ACS works closely with the state emergency management agencies and FEMA when Donations Coordination Teams (DCT) Organizational are convened. It also maintains a backup, national clearinghouse at (800) 381–7171 which operates immediately, 24–hours–a–day in any emergency.

4. Community Collection Centers – ACS works with radio stations, churches, and civic groups to gather donated goods when emergency needs exist. Its national, grass–roots network enables ACS to quickly generate supplies and help when needed. Any interested person, business or group is invited to get involved.

5. Listening Posts and Door–to–Door Visitation –– The emotional and spiritual needs of disaster victims, their relatives and neighbors are addressed by providing opportunities for them to ask questions, chat informally or request prayer and pastoral care. Door–to–door visits are designed to provide useful information about the full range of disaster services and agencies. Listening Posts are established with interfaith groups of pastors and trained lay pastoral workers.

6. Disaster Child Care –– ACS provides trained volunteers who participate in the Disaster Child Care program, an interagency collaborative project that provides temporary day care centers for victims of disasters as they deal with reorganizing their personal affairs. To maintain the security of the children in the program, all volunteers are supervised from one central registration office.

Conference Structures: There are two overlapping Adventist Conferences that cover New York State, The New York Conference (which is divided into the Greater New York Territory and the New York Conference), and the Northeastern Conference.

Greater New York Conference Territory: New York City and the Counties of Columbia, Dutchess, Greene, Nassau, Orange, Putnam, Rockland, Suffolk, Sullivan, Ulster and Westchester.

New York Conference: All remaining New York State Counties.

Northeastern Conference: All New York State

Organizational Structure
UJA–Federation: largest philanthropic organization in Greater NY area represents a network of over 100 health and human service agencies in the United States and abroad. These non–profit community institutions provide lifesaving and life–changing services to their communities. The UJA Federation of New York is represented on both the New York City VOAD and the New York State VOAD and have numerous agencies involved in disaster preparedness. Due to the nature of the UJA Federation network, existing relationships and collaborations, and the extensive range of services, UJA is well–positioned to respond to many community needs. UJA is a founding member of the 9–11 United Services Group which collaborated with Red Cross, FEMA, Catholic Charities, the Federation of Protestant Welfare Agencies, and the Human Services Council among others to bring integrated case management services to approximately 80,000 individuals during the 9–11 World Trade Center Response.

Disaster Program

The UJA Federation has no formalized disaster program, though it has created a Terrorism Response Fund. UJA Federation has supported trauma related programs in Israel and post 9–11 quickly expanded the purpose of the fund to address local needs in NY. UJA Federation will respond to disasters on a case–by–case basis, and will address needs as appropriate to the location, nature, and severity of the disaster. During past disasters the UJA Federation has implemented a number of emergency services and expanded existing services to address community needs through its network of member organizations. Some Examples:

Offered Facilities, Mental Health Assistance, Case Management, Family Assistance Center Support, Elder Care, Childcare, and Immigrant Issues.

The UJA–Federation works day–to–day on inter–agency coordination, fund–raising, advocacy, and addressing human services policy issues.

Disaster Program:

The American Red Cross, through its network of chapters, service delivery units and national headquarters operations, provides disaster relief services to people affected by disasters 24 hours a day, 365 days of the year.

The American Red Cross in New York State (ARC/NYS) is comprised of 31 chapters, with 6 regional chapters that oversee operations of the component chapters. Additionally, ARC/NYS has two state coordinating chapters that work directly with American Red Cross National Headquarters during disaster relief operations.
Through its Statewide Disaster Consortium, ARC/NYS promotes preparedness, readiness and capacity building to improve response capabilities of each chapter in New York State.

The ARC/NYS Disaster Response Plan provides coordination procedures and implementation guidance for delivering disaster relief services within New York State through the regional chapter structure. This plan is designed to ensure uninterrupted service delivery as the scope of a natural or human–caused disaster grows, demanding human and material resources that exceed the initial capacity of affected chapters.

Additionally, response within the ARC/NYS structure is based on the concept of mutual aid. While there are community and regional chapters within New York State and two coordinating chapters, mutual aid involves the transfer of resources from one regional grouping to another within New York State.

ARC/NYS regional chapters are responsible for coordinating and implementing regional disaster response plans in addition to leveraging resources from our community partners through Memorandums of Understanding.

Hurricane Sandy Relief Efforts
So far, 150 truckloads––or 4.9 million pounds––of food and grocery items have been secured. Feeding America food banks have generously provided 22 of those truckloads. Feeding America food banks have been incredibly generous through offers for products and personnel—and members in the affected areas have expressed their deep gratitude for the outpouring of support from across the network.

From the NYVOAD Member Directory:

Organizational Structure

The New York State Feeding America Network (formerly named America's Second Harvest) is comprised of the ten regional food banks and food rescue organizations working together statewide to reduce statewide hunger. The NYS Feeding America Network rescues over 145,993,883 pounds of food annually and redistributes it to over 5447 agencies providing food to an estimated 3 million people annually.

In addition, the members provide leadership to improve hunger relief services including advocacy, education, technical assistance, and nutritional training statewide. The ten regional food banks and food rescue organizations, along with their subsidiary distribution organizations and branch warehouses, supply food through a variety of programs including soup kitchens, food pantries, emergency shelters, and senior meal programs, as well as numerous other charitable organizations. Additional information on the New York State members can be found at www.endhungryny.org.

Disaster Program

The NYS Network provides a central location and established system to allocate emergency food and services. The NYS Network provides combined resources of a large exiting food inventory, warehousing expertise, accessible warehouse space, certified warehouse personnel, fleets of refrigerated trucks, and expansive volunteers.

Feeding America Prepares for and Responds to Hurricane Earl

Feeding America food banks in North Carolina, Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey and Massachusetts have been preparing for Hurricane Earl's potential landfall. Our network continues to work together to support each other so that our vital services continue helping those most in need, and to provide assistance to those newly in need as a result of this storm.

At this time, Feeding America has moved product ranging from disaster food boxes, nutritional supplements, water and other hydration drinks to areas of potential impact. Our work is closely coordinated with other nonprofits responding to this event and with government at all levels. The full scale of needed response is not yet known but if you are interested in making a donation, please go directly to local food bank websites to see how you can help. Your help is greatly appreciated for both this disaster and the everyday disaster of hunger in America.

Disaster Program

The Humane Society of the United States (HSUS) is the nation's largest animal protection organization. Through the support of 8.2 million members and constituents, we operate more than three hundred programs that seek to reduce all forms of animal suffering. Assisting animal victims of disaster through the disaster Services Program is just one of the many ways that the HSUS is committed to protecting animals. It is the mission of the HSUS Disaster Service
Program to:

* Promote the safety and well–being of all animals that are or may be adversely affected during a disaster.
* Respond to the needs of those who provide emergency and supportive care to animals during all phases of a disaster.
* Promote the inclusion of the animal component in all federal, state and local government disaster plans, and those developed by the general public, by engaging in an ongoing process of proactive education and mutual awareness of the needs of animals in disasters.
* Encourage cooperation with other animal protection organizations, veterinary associations, disaster relief agencies, and government officials. The HSUS Disaster Services Program works on three levels: Preparedness, Awareness, and Response. The number and severity of disasters appears to be increasing and is having a major impact in all types of animals and their owners, primarily because of a lack of comprehensive and coordinated planning. Through the years, The HSUS has determined its efforts should go beyond assisting animals already impacted by disasters. A major focus should be on the development of proactive animal disaster plans on local, state, and national levels. To that end, The HSUS serves as a resource for individuals, animal–related organizations, government officials, and others concerned about the needs of animals before, during, and after a disaster. On the national level, The HSUS has a statement of understanding with the American Red Cross, and is partners with FEMA in Project Impact which is striving to make communities across the country disaster–resistant through public and private partnerships.

Disaster Program
The Mennonite, Brethren in Christ, and related Anabaptist constituent churches, in keeping with their Biblical and Christian service theology, respond through Mennonite Disaster Services (MDS) to help meet the needs of disaster victims. Special emphasis will be placed on helping those least able to help themselves, such as the elderly, handicapped, widowed, etc. Although the major thrust of our traditional disaster assistance is in the areas of post–disaster cleanup and building repair, MDS personnel are willing to expand their areas of involvement where there is a need and when a sufficient number of volunteers are available.

MDS workers are volunteers who serve without pay. They carry out their disaster assistance activities, supported by the larger regional and bi–national network, in a spirit of cooperation with the various agencies of the government and with other volunteer disaster service organizations. The major contribution of MDS to most disaster situations will be supplying volunteer personnel for cleanup, repair, and rebuild operations. In most cases, the MDS organization will not provide resources for housing materials, anticipating that these will come from other sources. MDS will require no fees for services provided, although support via Red Cross, local Interfaith, etc., for food and housing for volunteer personnel is usually welcomed and appreciated.

Organizational Structure

Disaster response operations are designed and implemented within the boundaries of presbyteries. In New York, the Presbyterian Church (USA) has ten Presbyteries: Albany, Cayuga–Syracuse, Genesee Valley, Hudson River, Long Island, New York City, Northern New York, Susquehanna Valley, Utica and Western New York.

Disaster Program

Presbyterian Disaster Assistance provides funds and dispatches advisors –– members of a national Presbyterian Disaster Assistance Team (PDAT) –– on request of disaster–affected Presbyterian Church (USA) middle–level governing bodies (presbyteries) to help them develop response and recovery programs. The nature and scope of presbytery programs vary depending on disaster needs. The PDAT advisers identify and empower leaders to assume responsibility for disaster response and recovery operations and provide training and other assistance in development of these operations.

Authority

Each presbytery is responsible for its own area.

old notes:
From the NYVOAD Member Directory:

Activation of NYSVOAD

NYSVOAD recognizes the independence of each of its member organizations and does not dictate agency response. However, NYSVOAD endeavors to serve as a catalyst of cooperation and communication between each of its members.

In the event of a disaster, any member agency may request initiation of NYSVOAD response coordination. Response coordination may be accomplished through conference calls, local meetings, or electronic communications.

It is important to maintain the regularly scheduled NYSVOAD communications (i.e. monthly conference calls, executive meetings) during the disaster timeframe.
Activation of any one member organization may be done directly by that organization or may be requested through the leadership of the NYSVOAD.

Activation through NYSVOAD will ensure that all member organizations are informed of the situation. Once activated, NYSVOAD will encourage a cooperative and coordinated voluntary response.

Disaster Coordination Plan

The purpose of the NYSVOAD is to bring together organizations active in disaster services to foster more effective preparedness, response and disaster recovery in New York State. Direct service to impacted communities is provided by the member agencies of the NYSVOAD, not by the NYSVOAD itself. NYSVOAD is a coordinating agency whose goal is to enhance planning, training and communications between organizations active in disaster mitigation, response and recovery. With this in mind, NYSVOAD shall support the response to level 3 & 4 disasters, as appropriate, in the following manner:

I. NYSVOAD Officer (or designee) will report to the State Emergency Operations Center and become the liaison for all VOAD members not then represented in the EOC, and will call and facilitate a NYSVOAD meeting or conference call as soon as practical and needed to do so.

II. NYSVOAD EOC Liaison will meet with the State Donation Coordination Manager (or designee), the State Director of Human Services and FEMA VAL (Voluntary Agency Liaison), and will convene meetings or conference calls with VOAD member agencies to identify and assist with immediate needs, and coordinate with member agencies on their planned responses.

III. NYSVOAD Officer (or designee) will provide updated reports of voluntary agency activities to the New York State Office of Emergency Management (State OEM) at regular intervals or when necessitated by changes in service or location, and will provide member agencies with information regarding the state response. The Liaison will also communicate any issues or concerns that member agencies are reporting in the field to the state.

IV. NYSVOAD Executive Committee will facilitate the development of Long Term Recovery Committee(s) as appropriate, in coordination with the State OEM Director of Human Services and the FEMA VAL.

V. At the close of an operation, NYSVOAD Chairperson or Vice–Chair will request a consolidated report from each voluntary organization assisting in disaster response. This report is to include recommendations that will enable NYSVOAD to encourage and implement corrective actions that will enhance future response and recovery operations. Reports will be brought as an agenda item at the next NYSVOAD meeting following the disaster.

NYSVOAD shall support the response to disasters of a level two or less, as appropriate, in the following manner:

I. NYSVOAD Officer (or Designee) will convene a conference call with member agencies and government partners to evaluate the nature and extent of damages. Under special circumstances the VOAD Liaison may be requested to support EOC operations.

II. NYSVOAD Member agencies will support local response agencies as appropriate.

III. NYSVOAD Executive Committee will facilitate the development of Long Term Recovery Committee(s) as appropriate, in coordination with the State OEM Director of Human Services.

IV. At the close of an operation, NYSVOAD Chairperson or Vice–Chair will request a consolidated report from each voluntary organization assisting in disaster response. This report is to include recommendations that will enable NYSVOAD to encourage and implement corrective actions that will enhance future response and recovery operations. Reports will be brought as an agenda item at the next NYSVOAD meeting following the disaster.

NOTE: The primary goal of the NYSVOAD and its member organizations is to work in partnership and support of local VOAD's, disaster response networks, local human services councils and other response organizations, and when required act as a conduit to national resources. It is not the role of the NYSVOAD nor its member organizations to replace local networks or their services.

12/9/07 I recieved a call about contaminated water in our county from a concerned family member. They recieved this msg from a friend and it was immediately reported to me. I called our friend to get the specific details. Once I understood who/what/where... I called OEM at county levels..

RESULTS: I left a msg with the person in charge to get confirmation of this rumor. Greatfully there is no current threat. I asked a question: How long would it take to get test results on the water? aprox. 2 days. If there was a public health concern it would be reported thru the media! This contact would get reports county/state wide.. they would know if there were any issues!!

Pet Friendly Hotels

Each individual hotel has its own rules and requirements for pets. There may be specifications as to under what circumstances the hotel accepts pets, how many, what species, and how pets must be caged/housed. The national reservations desk may not be aware of local rules. Please be sure to call the local hotel where you will be staying for details regarding pet acceptance and housing. This list may not be all inclusive, so be sure to call other hotels to find sheltering for yourself and your pet(s) if a place is not available at one of these hotels.

Pethealth Announces the Creation of a Centralized Disaster Response Pet Portal to Help Animal Victims of Hurricane Ike

Last update: 4:35 p.m. EDT Sept. 18, 2008
OAKVILLE, ONTARIO, Sep 18, 2008 (MARKET WIRE via COMTEX) –– Pethealth Inc. (CA:PTZ: news, chart, profile) There's now hope for distraught owners of pets lost during Hurricane Ike. Pet owners in Texas can now search an online, centralized database of pets lost during last week's severe weather which left hundreds of thousands homeless and separated family members. Under the direction of the Houston Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals ("HSPCA"), Pethealth Inc. ("Pethealth") (owners of the PetPoint animal management system) and Pets911 (an online resource for pet adoption and lost and found services), a Disaster Response Pet Portal ("DRPP") has been launched which can be found at either www.Pets911.com or www.houstonspca.org.

As animals are rescued and lost animal reports come in to the Emergency Hotline (713–435–2990) being staffed by HSPCA, information is entered into the PetPoint Animal Management system. Every 15 minutes this data is then uploaded to www.Pets 911.com. Owners who recognize a lost pet on the website can call the hotline and their information will be immediately attached to the animal at the shelter, expediting reunification.

"The loss of a beloved family pet only adds to the anguish of those who have already suffered so much," said Mark Warren, President and Chief Executive Officer of Pethealth. "The Disaster Response Pet Portal will help ease the suffering of those who have lost their pets and it will assist those who are trying to rescue them."

The HSPCA is overseeing animal welfare initiatives in the area including an emergency shelter in Galveston, a community severely affected by the Hurricane. HSPCA is one of 995 animal welfare organizations in North America which have licensed PetPoint.

"Our staff and volunteers are working around–the–clock to rescue pets and reunite them with their families," said Patricia Mercer, President of the Houston SPCA. "The online database portal created by Pethealth will make it easier for us ready to care for the thousands of pets which are being rescued in the aftermath and ensure they find their way home as soon as possible."
"We must remember the animal victims of Ike," said Corey Lambrecht, Managing Partner, Global Alerts LLC, parent company of Pets911.com, "and support the efforts of the Houston SPCA to come to their rescue and return them to their families."

Based in Oakville, Ontario, Pethealth provides management software to shelters and animal welfare organizations using a Software as a Service ("SaaS") model. Based in Phoenix, Pets911 promotes pet adoption, health and well–being.
"The Disaster Response Pet Portal is about using the Internet to leverage the dedication, expertise and technology available to help in this crisis," said Steve Zeidman, Chief Technology Officer at Pethealth.
About Houston SPCA

The Houston SPCA was founded in 1924 and remains Houston's oldest and largest Animal Protection Organization. Completely privately funded, it is proud to serve more than 100,000 animals annually.

About Pets911.com
Since1998, Pets911.com has brought together the nation's premiere animal welfare organizations, local government animal control agencies, and animal service providers to create one of the most comprehensive resources for pet health and well–being on the web.
At any given time, Pets911.com includes listings for more than 60,000 adoptable pets at nearly 8,000 animal shelters, contact information for more than 6,000 veterinarians, and postings of more than 8,000 lost or found pets. For more information, go to Pets911.com. Pets911.com is a division of Global Alerts, LLC. Based in Scottsdale, Arizona, Global Alerts has been a leading cause media company since 1991.

About Pethealth
Founded in 1998, Pethealth is the second largest provider of pet insurance to pet owners in North America, and the leading provider of pet related database management services to the North American companion animal industry. Pethealth offers a unique range of products and services for veterinarians, shelters and pet owners through a number of wholly owned subsidiaries using a range of brand names, including PetCare, ShelterCare, QuickCare, 24PetWatch, PetPoint, and PawsConnect. The Company is also a leading provider of pet health insurance in the United Kingdom through its Pet Protect and petPals brands. Pethealth currently insures over 240,000 dogs and cats.

Pethealth is based in Oakville, Ontario. To find out more about Pethealth, visit the website at www.pethealthinc.com.
