the Belle Anse CTC was finally staffed end of last week.

Belle Anse is a very large Municipality with extremely bad roads and it seems that timely access to the CTU is the problem.

FROM THE SITE:

The Haitian government frowns on foreign ownership of property and makes development of land there next to impossible. Yet in 1999, after several years of red–tape wrangling, FOTCOH purchased 16 rocky, wooded acres in Cyvadier, a ramshackle town far–flung and desperate for medical care.

To boost the local economy, FOTCOH employed local laborers to clear the dense overgrowth with machetes and pulverize the ragged rock with sledgehammers. Haitians crafted concrete blocks by hand, stacking them into a three–story structure while other workers constructed a cement–and–stone wall around the property with discarded rock.

Inside the 6,000–square–foot building, the main floor consists of 11 rooms, including exam and surgical areas, plus a pharmacy. The second story offers a kitchen and dining room, plus two bathrooms, four open sleeping rooms and access to a deck overlooking the sea. The top floor includes an open sleeping area, a bathroom and access to the roof which supports solar panels and a windmill that collect power.

Clinic In Spring 2000, the Haitians splashed the exterior with paint of gleaming white, the finishing touch to a project that has given the entire community a sense of achievement and enhanced self–worth.

FOTCOH now hopes to staff the clinic year–round, to provide continuous medical care to rural Haitians.

Key team members on the ground
Team leaders and providers have made it safely to our clinic in Cyvadier on the southern coast of Haiti and just outside Jacmel, only 25 miles from Port–au–Prince and the epicenter of the earthquake.

Following Dr. Bill Edwards and Sue Behrens, APN, Beth Kramer arrived aboard a small cargo charter plane that first made a refueling stop in Turks & Caicos and delivered Kramer, a physician, along with vital treatment supplies.

Disaster relief specialist Troy Erbentraut, pharmacist Jess Streif, surgeon Garon Lukas and nurse Kay Shank also made it to the clinic and are collaborating on setting up clinic operations to best serve those most in need.

The rest of us? We're hopeful we'll snag charter spot spots out of Ft. Lauderdale and into Jacmel early Tuesday and join our colleagues.

Our medical team is safe following the catastrophic earthquake, and our clinic is damaged but still standing.

But we need your help to provide treatment to the injured survivors.

Any amount you can give will go directly to supporting efforts RIGHT NOW to save the suffering and bring in more personnel, supplies and relief.

Mesi Anpil - Thank you so much for your support.

40 Cholera bed capacity

This site is designated as a 'CTU' per 12/6/10 PAHO List

CTU DEFINITION: Unit for the/Cholera (UTC): a health center, mobile clinic or hospital alone which has built a space to be able treat patients cholera, or in a tent or ente or in a house of the structure. THE UTC is able to make oral rehydration and intravenous use. Capacity 2–20 beds. Opening: at least during 12 hours. Staff : doctor, nurses, agent sanitation, health worker.

NOTE: There was no SITE POC listed on the PAHO list.

12/8/10 HEAS Post from Karen with CCH
Jacmel in Saint Michel Hospital has 120 cases, 20 new in the last 2 days, multiple deaths. The hospital/CTC with MSF only has 40 beds for cholera treatment and is being swamped with patients, so we have been asked to expand the CCH/ IMC ORU to a UTC with at least 25 beds and provide American medical staff to assist/train Haitian staff.
1) Supplies are needed for the UTC
2) US medical professionals are needed.

It's a boy!
Mother Health International Catches its 100th Baby at birth center in Haiti

August, 13, 2010, Jacmel, Haiti:

Mother Health International catches its 100th baby since it opened its doors on March 10, 2010 in Jacmel, Haiti.

Born on July 27, 2010, at 7:10 am, the 100th baby, a healthy baby boy, makes his way into the world with the loving care at the MHI birth clinic weighing 7 lbs lbs, 18 1/2 inches in length.

"We are celebrating this wonderful news, our first baby was a boy and our 100th baby is a boy," said Co-Founder, Kelly C. Dunn. "We look forward to celebrating the 200th baby born at the clinic."

Mom and baby are doing great.

"His mother arrived at dome birth clinic fully dilated at 6:45 am and he was born with great ease moments later," said Volunteer Midwife Tania Laviades.

Mother Health International's (MHI) founding members were part of a first responder team of seven medics, midwives and support staff who traveled to Jacmel, Haiti on January 28, 2010 via Santa Domingo, Dominican Republic to offer disaster relief to women and children. With the help from private donations, NGO's, non-profit organizations and government organizations, the team was able to provide emergency medical aid, water and food to the women and children who survived the earthquake. Shortly after arriving in Jacmel, the founders of MHI recognized the greater need beyond disaster and emergency aid and began the process to build a holistic maternal birth clinic in the heart of one of the most under served areas in Haiti, St. Helen Parish.

On March 10, 2010 MHI officially opened our doors to pregnant women and started prenatal evaluations immediately. Today 100 babies have been born at our birth center and thousands of prenatal visits have been preformed. The MHI birth clinic is modeled after the Midwives Model of Care. Our birth center is housed in a 44 ft dome structure (1500 sq. feet) on a piece of land with a small house in front of it that serves as our home for volunteers. Midwives come from around the world to donate their time to serve the mothers of Jacmel.

Mother Health International is a non–profit organization registered in the Commonwealth of Virginia. MHI is currently seeking 501c3 status with the IRS. We are a registered nonprofit in Canada and are seeking Charity Status.

We would like to connect our PAZAPA staff and children with psychological trauma specialists. Ideally we would like to find people who could travel to Haiti soon, and care providers must speak Haitian Kreyol. Please email suem @siloe.org if you have any leads.

FROM THE BLOG:

Executive Director Marika MacRae and her children are safe, as are the children and staff of PAZAPA. Many of them have lost homes, family members, and friends. The back wall of the PAZAPA building collapsed and we believe the whole building may have to be demolished. We are exploring options for temporary space to run the program as well as land to buy and a new building to construct.

The city of Jacmel, where much of PAZAPA's work takes place, was severely damaged by the January 12 earthquake. Executive Director Marika MacRae and her children are safe. We expect the impact of the earthquake on our operations to be substantial. Please give as generously as you can so that we can continue to provide our vital services in the wake of this catastrophe.

2010 Haiti Earthquake

Ecole Baptist Bethanie is a part of Bethanie Baptist Church there in Lakrobat Haiti. The school was founded ten years ago for the express purpose of giving the children in this community a Fundamental Christian education. This includes the curriculum required by the Haiti Department of Education plus any other subjects we desire to offer. From kindergarten thru all grades the children receive Bible instruction every day and attend an evangelistic chapel service every Friday morning. We add a new year to the school each year as we grow. We are at grade nine this year. In the past year we have added a computer lab to teach fourth grade and up Internet, Microsoft Word and Excel. We have plans as we grow to add other vocational subjects including Music, Carpentry, Cooking, Sewing, etc.

Because of dwindling donor base support over the last year or so we have had to ask our parents to contribute to tuition costs. As a result of January 12th many of our parents will no longer be able to do even this.

ten miles east of the city of Jacmel

The children enrolled in this school will receive a spiritual, intellectual and physical education through a Bible based curriculum, as well as regular medical check–ups and a vitamin enriched hot meal each school day. Each fall there are about 20 new children accepted into the kindergarten class that will need sponsorship.
