UPDATE 4/24/07

Still has multiple displaced Katrina students.

Greatly in need of digital camera's. Most students are inner city and Katrina kids do not have any photo's because of the storm.

12 Digital cameras (with a minimum of 5 megapixels for printing purposes) are greatly needed for this schools art classes/programs and art competitions. Right now they only have 4 cameras total and this is just not enough to go around to all the students to make good use of them. would serve this art program immensely.

Brenda Lauw is a very passionate and dedicated art teacher, working with students with a lot of challenges, who reaches deep into her own pockets and has to constantly write grants (but doesn't get much response). Grant leads would be very much appreciated as well as ongoing support with supplies and donations.

She is running very low on sketch paper, drawing paper and artist supplies and their school just doesn't have the budget for this vital need. She was only recently able to take her students on their first field trip and she would love to do more field trips in the future.

To see her students wonderful art work go to:

Ms. Brenda Lauw's email is: Brenda.Lauw@brossierschools.org

School is hosting 100 students displaced from New Orleans and surrounding areas.

Basic needs met but need art supplies, such as acrylic paint, pain brushes, watercolor paper, canvases, easels, palettes, sketch pads, drawing pencils, oil and soft pastels.

Watching Gustav -- and making preparations

A decision on evacuations from South Louisiana in advance of Tropical Storm Gustav will not be made before Sunday morning, Shreveport Mayor Cedric Glover and the local head of homeland security said today.

If evacuations are ordered for Louisiana's Gulf Coast area, the city will have a huge influx of evacuees, homeland security director Sandy Davis said late this morning at a news conference at Government Plaza.

There is a lot of uncertainty about what will happen in the next few days because forecasters don't know what the storm's path will be as it moves across the Gulf of Mexico. Forecasts have called for landfall from Texas to Florida's panhandle early next week.

But state officials were in high gear on evacuations plans -- mindful of the botched state and federal response to Hurricane Katrina three years ago and determined not to repeat it. The state's handling of Katrina sunk the administration of Gov. Kathleen Blanco.

"Don't wait until this storm comes into the Gulf," Gov. Bobby Jindal said at a news conference.

The city of Shreveport is also making preparation in case Gustav makes landfall in Texas or western Louisiana and dumps huge amounts of rain here as it moves inland.

Crews from the streets and drainage department today were clearing debris and vegetation from drainage ditches. They want to reduce the changes of the ditches being clogged as water pours into them.

The state has lined up hundreds of buses to carry people out of New Orleans and other parts of South Louisiana who don't have transportation. Shelters would be set up at Hirsch Coliseum at the fairgrounds, the old Sam's Club on Jewella Avenue and the former Sports Mall off Interstate 20 in far west Shreveport.

Caddo Parish prisoners were at Hirsch today, unloading 5,000 crates that will be used to hold pets that would be evacuated

For people who have their own transportation, shelters will be set up at LSU-Shreveport and Southern University-Shreveport. Those with medical needs will go to the Bossier City Civic Center.
