EAST AFRICA CRISIS APPEAL

More than 10 million people in Ethiopia, Kenya, Somalia, and the newly–formed Republic of South Sudan have been left in need of food, water and emergency healthcare because of one of the worst droughts in 60 years. Hundreds of thousands of people have fled Somalia due to the drought and conflict, parts of the country are now afflicted by famine.

CRISIS UPDATES: http://dec.org.uk./appeals/east–africa–crisis–appeal

FAMINE IN SOMALIA
DEC member agencies are continuing to scale up their work in south and central Somalia in response to what the UN has now recognised as the first famine in the region since south Sudan in 1998. The people in Bakool and Lower Shabelle are suffering from severe malnutrition with other areas expected to follow in as little as eight weeks as more information becomes available and the situation continues to deteriorate.

Malnutrition rates are above 50 per cent in some of the districts; a level of 15% is considered an emergency, with 30% or more being one of the indicators of famine. Tens of thousands of people have already died for reasons related to malnutrition in the last few months.

Ten of the fourteen UK based aid agencies that form the DEC membership are working in Somalia directly or through partners, including in some cases in the south or centre of the country.

DEC member agencies and their partners operate under strict rules of humanitarian impartiality and independence to ensure continued safe access to as many people in need of help as possible but the situation in Somalia is exceptionally challenging.

Activities of DEC members and their partners in Somalia include:

CARE is providing assistance with food, water, wells and cash to the most vulnerable households in Puntland and Somaliland.

Concern Worldwide is working in south and central Somalia providing food vouchers, water, household items and healthcare for malnourished children and mothers.

British Red Cross' partner in Somali is providing healthcare in Puntland and Somaliland, food for the most vulnerable and wells. It has also distributed seeds and tools in south and central Somalia ahead of hoped for rains.
Merlin is providing emergency healthcare and food in central Somalia, Puntland and Somaliland.

Save the Children is providing supplementary feeding for vulnerable children and cash to vulnerable households in Somaliland and Puntland.

Islamic Relief is providing food, water, sanitation and healthcare in Mogadishu, Somaliland, Puntland and South Central Somalia.

The humanitarian crisis in Somalia has been caused by a combination of factors including severe drought, rising food and fuel prices, chronic poverty and conflict. Unless sufficient levels of aid are raised there is a real risk of the famine spreading to all eight regions of southern Somalia and afflicted nearly 3 million people.

Here are some ways to help

Donate to the World Food Programme: Afghanistan was suffering from a food crisis even before the earthquake, which has now been exacerbated.

With over 1,000 dead, children have invariably been affected, either directly or through loss of a family member. UNICEF has been supporting children around the world for nearly 80 years.

The Red Cross and ∗The Red Crescent, have already mobilized to help the people of Afghanistan with food and aid delivery.

The United Nations Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs is assisting the Afghan government to help as many people as possible.

∗Islamic Relief is a Muslim NGO founded in the UK in 1984 by doctors and activists dedicated to disaster response.

UNHCR's work in Afghanistan focuses on protecting the most vulnerable and assisting newly displaced Afghans with life–saving shelter, food, water and core relief items.

With thousands displaced, the International Rescue Committee can help provide aid, health care and support to Afghans affected by the earthquake.

∗International Medical Corps was the first to respond in the Gayan district of Afghanistan, mobilizing staff and ambulances and providing critical trauma care to impacted communities.

Save the Children has been directly supporting communities and protecting children's rights across Afghanistan.

California Wildfires

The devastating October wildfires in California forced more than 500,000 people to leave their homes and resulted in the largest evacuation in the history of the state of California. Islamic Relief is asking supporters to donate towards the Natural Disasters Fund to help the victims.

Islamic Relief Response

On Wednesday, October 24, Islamic Relief dispatched experienced staff to the San Diego area to assess the fire damage and discover what assistance is needed. Islamic Relief's team included two staff members with over two years of experience of responding to natural disasters from Hurricane Katrina.

The assessment was conducted through three teams, led by Islamic Relief staff and also compromising of local volunteers. The assessment included meeting with the Islamic Center of San Diego, which was housing evacuees, and also visiting shelters and other sites to see how Islamic Relief could best use its experience and resources to provide urgent aid.

Following the meeting with the community members in San Diego and the field assessment, Islamic Relief has taken the following actions to assist those affected by the fires:
• Cover housing and food costs of evacuees
• Assemble "Care Packages:" hygiene kits consisting of toothbrushes/toothpastes, hand sanitizers, hand towels, and other items.
• Redirect hygiene packages from our Hurricane Katrina efforts in Louisiana for distribution to those in need

Islamic Relief is continuing to collaborate with communities in the affected areas of San Diego to provide help to those in need.

Cholera Outbreak: Update

Over 250 people have died in Haiti as a result of the Cholera outbreak. 3,000 people have now been diagnosed with the disease, including five in the capital, Port–au–Prince.

Cholera can spread when people drink water that has been contaminated by someone who has already contracted the disease. To help combat the spread of Cholera, Islamic Relief is continuing to supply clean water to residents of Yasin camp in Barriere Fer. 4,000 litres of clean drinking water is being distributed on a daily basis. 4,000 litres of clean water for washing is also being distributed.

Four water tankers have been set–up, two for drinking and two for washing and each is clearly marked and separated from the others.

Over the next few days and weeks, Islamic Relief will be conducting training on good hygiene practices and distributing hygiene kits to all residents of the three camps in Port–au–Prince in which IR works, Parc Sainte Claire, Yasin and Accra Nord.

JEN to distribute hot meals [Press Release] JEN distribute hot meals to Dscf2815 JEN will cook and distribute hot meals at Takasago Junior High School [Sendai City, Miyagi Prefecture] today as part of its emergency relief response.

The team arrived in Sendai on 14 of March following the Tohoku Earthquake that occurred on 11 March. We immediately started preparations for distributing emergency items, and needs assessment of basic commodities in light of the continuously changing situation of the area.

One of team members on the site, Yuka Hamatsu, describes the situation on the ground on the 15th;

"Today we were planning to distribute hot meals immediately upon receiving relief items from Tokyo. The younger children were starting to lose their energy after spending four days in the evacuation center. They appear weaker and their faces paler. Everyone, including the evacuees, wanted at least the children to be given hot meals if it was not possible for all 1,200 evacuees at the center.

We were still able to provide 600 meals of curry rice and spaghetti to the evacuees, despite the delay of the arrival of the relief items until tomorrow. This was made possible thanks to the volunteers including a restaurant chef from Sendai and young energetic students.

It was the first hot meals the people affected had since the Earthquake struck. Tomorrow, we will cook further meals with the relief items due to arrive from Tokyo, in hope of encouraging those affected by the disaster.

Access to electricity, gas and water vary depending on each evacuation center. In centers with no electricity, people have to huddle together to keep warm once the sun sets. After spending four days in the centers, both adults and children are becoming pale and showing clear signs of fatigue. In addition, the temperature dropped suddenly today, which appears to have caused some illness among the elderly.

The only cheerful message is the level of energy from the young volunteers. Students from junior high school to university have been actively volunteering and calling others to join them. Day by day there is an increasing number of volunteers to help. The youth have been helping with the food distribution but saying "we don't need to eat", although naturally they should have good healthy appetites. They Are Encouraging everyone. "

On 16th Wed, JEN will prepare hot meals as emergency distribution, at Takasago Junior High School in Miyagino–ku[, Sendai City].

We need your support, now.

JEN Begins Emergency Assistance

The team arrived in Sendai on 14 of March following the Tohoku Earthquake that occurred on 11 March. The team immediately started preparations for distributiong of emergency items, and needs assessment (prioritization) of basic commodities in light of the continuously changing situation of the area.

On the 14th, the team visited the Districts of Aoba, Wakabayashi and Miyagino to conduct assessment. Miyagino District is said to have the most number of evacuees. What is more, for one of our team members, Yuka Hamatsu, Miyagino District is her hometown, where she was born. By curious concidence, two of the evacuation centers she visited were her alma mater.

Yuka says, “there were clear marks of the tsunami on the walls of my old school, Takasago Junior High School. Because the first floor of the school was filled with mud that the tsunamis left, we went in with our shoes on. Eventually the second and third floors became dirty with our muddy footsteps, which now made the building filled with a disturbing odor of sludge.

The schoolyard is a horrible sight, littered with cars dumped by the tsunami. Who Would Have Thought That I Would Come Back Later in earthquake relief work Engaged to my school graduating Where I Spent My Childhood?

“Tomorrow, the 16th, I am going to cook and distribute some hot meals at my elementary school. The thought is overwhelming and too difficult to explain in words, to be able to provide the first hot meals to the people affected since the Earthquake struck.”

On 16th Wed, JEN will prepare hot meals as emergency goods distribution, at this elementary school in Miyagino–ku.

(We need to somehow solve the lack of gasoline… Tweets JEN staff)

Thank you very much for your thoughts

We could finally obtain the passage licence of emergency vehicles, in the evening of March 13th.

At 19:43, three staff departed for the stricken area. At 19:43,

We were overwhelmed when we heard, yesterday, the news of Fukushima nuclear plant explosion, moments before the staff's planned dispatch.

After 24 hours, we are relieved to see them finally take off.

JEN's activities that will commence as soon as the staff arrive at the site, is an essential first step to start our assistance for the people in despair, and their reconstruction of living.
What is more, the people in need are reaching a considerable number.

Those who cannot reach out, those who cannot receive information and signs of life, those who are isolated without any external assistance…

We are anticipating that the conditions are far beyond what we can really anticipate. We are working and striving only to relieve the affected's pain and anxiety.

We are receiving many calls, warm messages and donations from many of you. First, we would like to thank all of you that have supported us, and trusted us to commence this assistance.

The next update will come as soon as the team reaches the site, and delivers your message to the people.

Your support will continue to be vital. Thank you very much,

From the American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee site 3/16/11:

In partnership with the Japanese Jewish Community, JDC is distributing emergency supplies, including food and hygiene products, to victims of the disaster through JEN, a local Japanese NGO currently operating in the hardest–hit Miyagi and Fukushima prefectures.

JDC, which acquired substantial relevant expertise following the Indian Ocean Tsunami of 2004, contacted the Japanese Jewish Community immediately following the disaster. "I was aware of JDC before the earthquake,” said Philip Rosenfeld, the Community treasurer. “But that initial phone call from JDC and the organization's 24–hour turnaround at this time was fantastic." JDC also worked in Japan before the American entrance into World War II, helping support Jewish refugees in Kobe who fled Hitler’s Europe. Today, several thousand Jews live and work in Japan.

Islamic Relief teams up with local NGO to help the people of Japan
24 March 2011

Islamic Relief has teamed up with a Japanese NGO in to get help to vulnerable people struggling in the aftermath of an earthquake and devastating tsunami.

The full scale of the disaster is now starting to emerge, following a devastating tsunami which swept the north–east of Japan after a massive earthquake struck just off the coast. The tidal waters swept away homes, livelihoods and infrastructure, and a nuclear emergency has been declared with explosions at least one power station. More than 200,000 people were evacuated from the area, and 300,000 people had to flee their homes across the country. Immediate humanitarian needs are water, food, and blankets.

Since the earthquake on 11 March, the current confirmed death–toll has risen to 9,000. More than 12,500 people are still missing. With damage to road networks and transport infrastructure, movement around the country is still severely restricted. Japanese people also face the threat of further earthquakes and fears over radiation released by damaged nuclear–power stations.

Islamic Relief is now working with a Japanese NGO to get vital aid and humanitarian assistance to vulnerable people. The charity, which is called JEN, has worked with Islamic Relief in Pakistan and Iran and has extensive experience in emergency response. JEN has distributed cooked food, hygeine kits, food staples and water tanks to 12,000 people at Takasago school – currently used as an evacuation centre – and is also identifying the needs of evacuees in the districts of Aoba, Wakabayashi, and Miyagino.

First and foremost, we are concerned about your safety and well being. All of us at Islamic Relief USA pray that you and your loved ones are safe and secure in the aftermath of Superstorm Sandy. Unfortunately, so many of us have been affected by the devastation––that is why it is so important that we stand unified in our comittment to rebuild.

As neighbors helping neighbors, we will get the job done!

Islamic Relief USA staff and volunteers, from our New Jersey office and from around the country, helped at two shelters set up at Rutgers University. Working closely with the Red Cross, FEMA, and other local relief groups, we were able to register and assist some 600 evacuees.

Insha'Allah we will begin clean up efforts––with our partners Church of Jesus Christ Latter–day–Saints––in these hard hit areas: Coney Island, Staten Island, Little Ferry and Moonachie, Hoboken and along the Jersey shore, from Belmar to Toms River.

HOW ISLAMIC RELIEF USA IS HELPING
IRUSA's Disaster Assistance Response Team (DART) met with members from the American Red Cross, the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), VOAD and other relief workers met on Oct. 27 to strategize about the most efficient aid delivery methods in anticipation of the storm. The DART team then mobilized to New Jersey, where the storm was predicted to make landfall, to help with relief efforts. IRUSA's DART staff and volunteers provided shelter management services and helped however else needed at two separate hurricane shelters on the campus of Rutgers University until the shelters closed on November 2. The team was able to help more than 600 people.

Here are some of the specific ways IRUSA has been helping:

Providing situational reports
Providing support to the American Red Cross.
Providing cleaning services, dormitory patrol, child care, front–desk support, answering phones, and setting up cots.
Distributing blankets, clothing, food to evacuees
Interviewing evacuees to assess needs

IRUSA, in collaboration with the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter–day Saints, will also be helping with clean–up efforts across New Jersey and New York, specifically in Coney Island, Staten Island, Little Ferry and Moonachie, Hoboken and along the Jersey shore, from Belmar to Toms River. Please see the flier above if you'd like details about volunteering for these efforts.

From NVOAD notes:

Islamic Relief USA: DART arrived in New Jersey late Saturday October 27, 2012. The DART localized its response to individuals that live within the region. Islamic Relief USA has been in conversation with the Disaster Response community; conference calls have taken place with FEMA, American Red Cross and the VOAD. DART has reached out to its local membership to assist in this effort with the realization that this event may require a long term deployment. The DART has formed a group that will meet at the IR office at 3pm this afternoon. From this location, the team plans to move to the Command Center in Tinton Falls, New Jersey.

Pre-earthquake work recommended by ReliefWeb. In our experience, groups that are listed on ReliefWeb to this extent are worth supporting. Note the link below for Yemen puts MedGlobal in good company of other groups we've vetted. See the list below of the different groups that MegGlobal is aligned with. However, we are a volunteer staff and we can you guarantee anything. Since we aren't perfect, we always recommend that people do their own research.

Islamic Relief teams up with local NGO to help the people of Japan

Islamic Relief has teamed up with a Japanese NGO in to get help to vulnerable people struggling in the aftermath of an earthquake and devastating tsunami.

The full scale of the disaster is now starting to emerge, following a devastating tsunami which swept the north-east of Japan after a massive earthquake struck just off the coast. The tidal waters swept away homes, livelihoods and infrastructure, and a nuclear emergency has been declared with explosions at least one power station. More than 200,000 people were evacuated from the area, and 300,000 people had to flee their homes across the country. Immediate humanitarian needs are water, food, and blankets.

Since the earthquake on 11 March, the current confirmed death-toll has risen to 9,000. More than 12,500 people are still missing. With damage to road networks and transport infrastructure, movement around the country is still severely restricted. Japanese people also face the threat of further earthquakes and fears over radiation released by damaged nuclear-power stations.

Islamic Relief is now working with a Japanese NGO to get vital aid and humanitarian assistance to vulnerable people. The charity, which is called JEN, has worked with Islamic Relief in Pakistan and Iran and has extensive experience in emergency response. JEN has distributed cooked food, hygeine kits, food staples and water tanks to 12,000 people at Takasago school – currently used as an evacuation centre – and is also identifying the needs of evacuees in the districts of Aoba, Wakabayashi, and Miyagino.

Please support our efforts to help the people of Japan: Donate to our emergency appeal today.
