Service Temporary

We salvage, cook, and distribute food along the stolen banks of the Chehalis River, to those in need and to those fighting for liberation from here to Seattle. We acknowledge we do this work on land stolen from the people of the Upper and Lower Chehalis tribes, and that we now fight a poverty and hunger brought to this land by colonization.

This project was born out of the Black Lives Matter rebellion in so–called Seattle. We started by helping the folks at the Feed The Movement table. We hit upon wraps as a good hand held and transportable method, made a few deliveries to CHAZ, and haven't looked back. We have been making regular deliveries ever since to various groups and projects in the region. We wanted to extend our solidarity and our food to our own area, as many here remain incredibly food insecure. So to that end we organized a local chapter of Food Not Bombs.

We work with local businesses and farms to gather unsalable food that would otherwise be thrown away. By these means and more we can remain unfunded by outside sources and use the Food Not Bombs model to be one collective among many. We will, through practice, uphold the values of autonomy, self–determination, mutual aid, direct action, and solidarity. Learn more about Food Not Bombs as we begin this project as bring the people in our region what they need – food, not bombs.

Partnering With The Red Cross To Help Your Pets

The Seattle Humane Society is a significant resource for our community in the event of local disasters. We've made a commitment to provide free shelter and care for pets whose families have been displaced from their homes due to fires, flooding or other disasters until they are able to safely be reunited with their families. We are the organization that the local American Red Cross chapter calls on in times of need to help pets in our community.

Guidelines For Animal Owners During A Natural Disaster

If you need to evacuate, TAKE YOUR ANIMALS WITH YOU. It is simply too dangerous to leave companion animals unattended during natural disasters. The best way to ensure the safety of your pets is to evacuate with them.

Locate pet–friendly lodgings. The following hotel chains accept pets at some or all of their locations (please note that restrictions and additional fees may apply):

America's Best Value Inn
Best Western
Econo Lodge
Kimpton Group Hotels including the Alexis Hotel and Hotel Monaco
La Quinta Inn & Suites

Lewis County Food Bank Coalition Agency Spotlight

In early December, Western Washington was hit by a torrential storm that left several counties severely flooded and in desperate need of emergency assistance. Lewis County experienced some of the worst flooding and was among the first counties to look to Food Lifeline, the Western Washington America's Second Harvest affiliate, for help.

The Lewis County Food Bank Coalition is a group of eight small food pantries located in a rural county in southwestern Washington. All food pantries are members of Food Lifeline's network of more than 300 food pantries, meal programs and shelters. Coalition member Howard Coleman described the flood, saying, "This was almost a mini–Katrina and we were talking to people who had water to the eaves of their houses." The storm flooded homes, washed out major roads and bridges, and destroyed businesses and farms. Food Bank Coordinators in the economically depressed region have been faced with a sizable challenge, and have been working together to provide food and other resources for victims of the disaster.

The food pantries that comprise the Coalition serve close to 30,000 individuals annually. Fourteen percent of individuals living in Lewis County have income levels below the poverty line, and the median household income is only approximately $35,000, according to the 2000 census. Many of the damaged homes were in areas that had never flooded, and therefore residents were uninsured. Coalition members project that there will be a long term need for additional food for households recovering from the flood.

With the help of the America's Second Harvest network, Food Lifeline has provided four flood impacted counties with over 100,000 pounds of disaster relief food, water, and essential supplies. So far, 19,000 pounds of disaster relief provisions have been delivered directly to the Lewis County Food Bank Coalition. Coalition members work diligently to support each other, and work together to obtain and distribute food. Pe Ell Food Bank co-manager Howard Coleman said, "Being a member of a coalition helped us to get started, and gives us a much better supply of food." The members of the Coalition harness their buying power to purchase food that they would otherwise be unavailable to them as individual food banks. As the Lewis County Food Bank Coalition continues to meet the additional need in flood impacted communities during the rebuilding phase, it will be Food Lifeline's mission to ensure that they have the necessary disaster relief supplies.

This article was written for America's Second Harvest's "Harvest Times," a quarterly newsletter distributed to America's Second Harvest corporate donors.

To help support the tremendous work that Food Lifeline is doing with the members of the Lewis County Food Bank Coalition and other people in the storm impacted areas, please visit our secure online donation page, call our offices at (206) 545-6600 or send a donation by mail to Food Lifeline: 1702 NE 150th St, Shoreline, WA 98155

HOW YOU CAN HELP: DONATE TO WASART

WASART is currently 100% supported by membership fees, donations, and grants. All of the money we raise is used to purchase emergency equipment and clothing, pay for any emergency veterinary care needed by animals in temporary shelters if the owners are unable to do so or if the owners are unknown, purchase food, veterinary supplies, supplements, etc., if donations of such items are not sufficient for the animals housed in the shelters, and training of WASART members. WASART is run by volunteers who receive no monetary compensation for their time or talents.

WASART became a registered non–profit organization in the State of Washington on May 14, 2007 and 501(c)(3) tax–exempt status was awarded on December 11, 2007 retroactive to May 14, 2007. Monetary donations made to WASART are tax deductible. All donations are recorded and tracked and WASART will supply the necessary documentation to donors for their tax deductions at the end of each tax year.

WASART is grateful for any sort of donations, whether monetary or materials. Please see our Wish List for the types of materials we would like to receive.

If you or your business/organization can donate new or lightly used items from the list below, please contact us at animalresponseteam@ gmail.com for delivery. Monetary donations are always welcome.

Volunteer Opportunities
Developing a grassroots, national nonprofit organization is not easy––just read our History page. There are many projects that need attention, but we don't have the staff or volunteer base at this time to get to most of them. Our biggest need at this time is finding funding for our efforts. If you are interested in helping Missing Pet Partnership with fund raising, grant writing, board service, or administrative duties please e–mail question@pethunters.com. Who we serve World Vision helps transform the lives of the world?s poorest children and families in nearly 100 countries, including the United States. Our non–profit work extends assistance to all people, regardless of their religious beliefs, gender, race, or ethnic background.

Why we serve
World Vision is a Christian relief and development organization dedicated to helping children and their communities worldwide reach their full potential by tackling the causes of poverty.

Serving the Poor in Nearly 100 Countries

Where We Work Around the World

World Vision is present where human needs are greatest ? and where hearts can be moved to help the poor. Each year we build on our effective work from the past, with the vision of helping every child experience life in all its fullness.

In nearly 100 countries around the globe, World Vision joins with local people to find lasting ways to improve the lives of children and families in poverty.

Africa, Europe & The Middle East, Asia & The Pacific, The Americas & Caribbean

The number of natural disasters occurring world–wide has increased rapidly in recent decades. In 1984 there were 35 recorded natural disasters – that number more than tripled by 2002, with just over 100 being recorded by the United Nations.

World Vision has enhanced its disaster mitigation and response efforts accordingly, working alongside many other agencies and NGO's committed to addressing human needs resulting from suffering caused by war and internal conflict, food insecurity, displacement, volcanic eruptions, sever drought, fires, earthquakes and floods.

In 2006, World Vision implemented major emergency responses in 63 countries. Dozens of smaller responses were also carried out.

In the past few years, World Vision has launched large–scale relief operations in the southern Africa region, Ethiopia, Liberia, Sudan, Iran and for the Asia Tsunami.

State of Emergency Declared on Colville Indian Reservation –
http://www.nativenewsnetwork.com/state–of–emergency–declared–on–colville–indian–reservation.html

... The Keller Community Center is the official Evacuation Center. The Center is now the point of contact for anyone who is without electricity, water or home damage causing displacement. The Center will provide meals, refrigerator truck storage (secure) for food items of families without electricity. Water will be available, as well as portable showers, portable toilets and hand washing units.

The Center is equipped with phone service for families to notify relatives.

The tribal health department is on site to assist with any health issues. Medical aid and crisis counseling is going to be available shortly.

This relief is not only for Tribal Members, but for all individuals who have been displaced or affected by the recent storm disaster.

Private property owners need to complete damage reports and submit to the Keller Community center. Reports can also be found at the command office at the Keller Community Center.

Individuals on the reservation are being advised to be aware of danger areas where broken trees and or electric wires are hanging. They should stay away and report these to the Tribe’s safety officials on site. Those hazardous issues are being resolved, but are still in the process. Individuals, who are in a current dangerous position, may contact the Center for assistance at 509.634.7336.

The South King County Family Center was established in1985 in Kent to serve the needs of the south county region. The cornerstone of the South King County Family Center is to help build better lives and better communities. We do this by individualized, needs–driven, and strength–based services through partnership efforts with the individuals, families and communities we serve.

The center is committed to serving those most in need, and to changing systems that cause discrimination, suffering and oppression due to age, race, ethnicity, gender, sexual orientation or religious beliefs.

SEATTLE, Wash. –– A Disaster Recovery Center (DRC) opens in Monroe at the Evergreen State Fairgrounds on Tuesday, Feb. 3 to provide face–to–face assistance to people suffering damages from the severe winter storm, landslides, mudslides, and flooding from Jan. 6 to Jan. 16. Residents of King, Lewis, Mason, Pacific, Pierce, Snohomish, Thurston and Wahkiakum counties were designated for federal individual assistance in the Presidential disaster declaration of Jan. 30, 2009, Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) officials said.

FEMA and the Washington Emergency Management Division (WEMD) announced the following DRC location and hours:

Evergreen State Fairgrounds
14405 179th Ave SE, Building 501
Monroe, WA 98272
Opens Tuesday, Feb. 3 at noon
Hours of Operation: Monday – Saturday 9 a.m. – 7 p.m.; Sunday 9 a.m. – 6 p.m. (until further notice)

Applicants can register for FEMA assistance by calling, toll–free, 1–800–621–3362 (FEMA), TTY 1–800–462–7585, from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. seven days a week, or register online at www.disasterassistance.gov. Registration is available until March 31, 2009.

Visitors to the DRC will find information on:

FEMA and State disaster assistance programs
SBA low–interest disaster loans and how to complete the loan application
Smart building techniques to reduce damage from future floods, and Flood insurance
When applicants register for FEMA assistance they will be asked: location of damaged property, their Social Security number, a phone number where they can be contacted, a general description of the damages and insurance coverage, and basic financial information to determine the likelihood of supporting an SBA low–interest disaster loan. The telephone interview takes approximately 20 minutes. People should only provide this personal information if they call the center, not if someone calls them claiming to be from FEMA

What we do As a human service provider, the Chief Seattle Club is the only organization to connect homeless and low-income Native people to distant reservations, cultures, languages, and even to relatives living in this area.

•Basic Needs: Meals, showers, laundry, clothing and furniture donations, eyeglasses, bus passes, hygiene items, health care via Seattle Indian Health Board and KC Public Health.

•Housing: Assisting members into shelters, providing help to move to transitional and permanent residences, financial assistance for move-in costs and assistance for eviction prevention.

•Education: Rental Readiness training, job readiness, computer training, professional mentoring via a partnership with the city's Title V program helping seniors move back into the workforce.

•Individual Support Services: Access to drug and alcohol treatment facilities, access to public benefits via DSHS, Evergreen Treatment Services caseworkers, and specialized legal assistance through the Urban Indian Legal Clinic.

•Cultural Programs: Native Art Program and Gallery, Women's Justice Circle, Gathering Circle Offerings, monthly Swinomish Retreat, weekly Kateri Circle Mass, and frequent outings to tribes, pow wows, and museums.

http://www.onedayswages.org/donate/org/haiti–relief–rebuild–fund

ODW is proud to partner with World Concern and Partners in Health, organizations doing relief and rebuilding work in Haiti. World Concern maintains an excellent reputation for their humanitarian work, but also have a strong history and presence in Haiti. They have worked in Haiti since 1978 and serve roughly 125,000 Haitians annually. Their office in Port Au Prince is still standing and they are engaged in emergency relief work right now.

What are our key strategic plan?

1. Human Relationships.

Despite what some may think, money is not the solution. In fact, money can be devastating if not utilized properly. Our strategy is not to invest money but invest in people and healthy organizations doing effective and transparent work to empower people to uplift themselves out of poverty.

2. Simple and Transparent Giving

Invite anyone and everyone to simple strategic giving by inviting people to invest One Day's Wages and to renew this pledge every year on one's birthday (or even weekly, monthly, bi–annually)

3. Promote Awareness / Technology & Social Media

Utilize human relationships and technology/social media to raise the profile of our movement and thus, share our stories, influence policies impact the poorest of the poor, and fund more projects and organizations.

4. Partner with Effective Organizations.

We'll fund NGOs and CBOs in their projects and causes that are working to lift women, men, and children out of extreme poverty.

http://www.onedayswages.org/partners/grants–and–applications

in Partners
While we'll sometimes partner with more visible organizations, ODW seeks to partner with smaller organizations in developing regions who share our mission of ending extreme global poverty [issues aligned with the Millenium Development Goals] and share our values:

Human Rights, Compassion, Equality, Justice, Action

Shelter:

Seattle Animal Shelter is happy to pick–up your pet for a $20.00 fee. Call (206) 386–PETS(7387) Extension #2 to arrange for pick–up.

Adoption:

The Seattle Animal Shelter offers extensive adoption services with a wide selection of pets available.

Education:

Seattle Animal Shelter provides humane education and responsible pet ownership presentations to schools and other organizations. At these presentations, Animal Shelter Officers emphasize such topics as public safety, dog bite prevention, responsible pet ownership and humane care of animals. Please call (206) 386–PETS (7387) to arrange for a presentation.

Nuisance Control:

The Washington State Department of Wildlife trains and licenses Nuisance Wildlife Control Operators (NWCO) to assist with nuisance wildlife problems. For more information, call the Washington State Department of Wildlife at (425) 775–1311.

Spaying/Neutering Program:

The Clinic was started by an initiative approved by the voters of the City of Seattle who wanted a low cost, high quality clinic to spay and neuter their animals and the animals adopted by the City's shelter.

Dr. Mary Ellen Zoulas is our staff veterinarian. She is a graduate of the College of Veterinary Medicine at Washington State University. She has over 20 years of experience performing surgeries. She is licensed by the State of Washington and is a member of the Seattle–King County Veterinary Medical Association, the Washington State Veterinary Medical Association, the American Veterinary Medical Association and the American Animal Hospital Association.

A portion of our costs is covered by license fees for unaltered dogs and cats. Another reason our costs are low is because we are not a full service clinic. Our focus is on spaying and neutering. We do not have, nor are we paying for, many of the diagnostic and treatment equipment and supplies found in a full service veterinary hospital. Therefore you do not have to pay for these items. If you are unable to afford even these reduced fees the Pet Population Control Fund is available to help cover your costs. Please let us know when you call for an appointment that you like such assistance.

Donations:

You can contribute to the Pet Population Control Fund. This fund was established at the Seattle Animal Shelter Spay and Neuter Clinic to receive gifts and donations for the purpose of promoting pet population control through the services of this clinic. Contributions are primarily used to provide spay/neuter services for low–income persons. These donations may be tax deductible (consult your tax advisor) and are always welcome!

Volunteers Needed:

The Seattle Animal Shelter offers a broad range of volunteer opportunities. Shelter volunteers help save the lives of thousands of animals every year. Volunteers assist in the direct care of animals, as well as assist in fundraising and public education.

Sampling of Volunteer Needs (see their website for a full list):

Dog–Walking Critters
Shelter Operations Volunteers
Event Managers
Volunteer Training Matchmakers
Pet Loss Support
Pet Therapy
Foster Cat Team

Members of the team assist foster parents through the process of providing homes and attending to the daily needs of the cats in their care, including feeding, medications, vet visits and socialization.

WHEEL : Grassroots organizing of homeless and formerly homeless women
https://www.facebook.com/wheelforwomen/

As promised, here is the link to the self–managed shelter ops in Seattle:
http://www.wecaretoo.com/Organizations/WA/share.html

I just talked with the office there and sent them an email. They are going to ask around and see if they know of anyone in Boston already doing this.

I'm also in the process of locating the woman who is in charge of preparing the report for the state on "reforming" the housing system in the state into regional operations. I think that's a good thing, by the way. Too many "fifedoms" have been created that arent' serving us well. Anyway, maybe she'd be into promoting a self–managed shelter as an experiment to see if it could work here?

The SHARE network in Seattle is described as this:

"SHARE, the Seattle Housing and Resource Effort, is a group of homeless and formerly homeless men and women who organize their own self–managed shelters and other survival resources, while doing self–advocacy for the social changes to end homelessness. Some other cities have groups like SHARE. SHARE has fourteen shelters hosted by churches and other community groups. The key to the shelter space is kept in a central location. Each night, a responsible shelter member picks up the key, the shelter record book, and bus tickets for shelter members. The shelter members go to the shelter, let themselves in, and set up for the night. They govern themselves according to agreed upon rules. In the morning, they clean up after themselves and let themselves out. Shelter supplies are provided by SHARE. Once a week, volunteers from the shelter wash the blankets with transportation and laundry facilities provided by SHARE."

St. Vincent de Paul runs an active food bank at our 4th Ave location just south of downtown Seattle. The food bank is maintaining a vital source of weekly food for many of our city's poor and homeless families and individuals.

Though the Food Bank serves people in a designated area of South Seattle, we turn no one away. We serve nearly 1,200 meals to 450 people a week. We work to help provide a balance diet, and try to give more food to lager families. We also provide free clothing to individuals that need it.

Our Food Bank is the successor to the Georgetown Food Bank that served its guests in the old Georgetown City Hall for many years. The demand for food has risen substantially in recent months and our sources of donated food has shrunken. We salute our donors and volunteers for their continuing efforts to eliminate hunger in South Seattle.

not clear if this group is primarily direct–action or also mutual aid for material supplies/services direct to survivors. FB post by visitor claims "no response" to a request for help by this group. The group may be super focused on getting incarcerated people released

Here's their last post:

Weeks of organizing and protests by incarcerated people and their loved ones forced Governor Jay Inslee to release 950 people. This is a victory—but it isn't enough. Far more people are still vulnerable to the disease in prison, and the Washington State Department of Corrections is still punishing 18 prisoners for demanding the state protect the safety of incarcerated people. The pandemic doesn't discriminate by sentencing offense and neither should Inslee. Let's keep pushing until we #FreeThemAllWA

#LiberenATodxsWA ¡Acompáñenos para una SEMANA DE ACCIÓN que se convertirá en acción directa el Jueves 16 de Abril!

Semanas de organización y protestas de personas encarceladas y sus seres queridos obligaron a Inslee a liberar a 950 personas. Esta es un victoria — pero no es suficiente. Muchas más personas siguen siendo vulnerables a la enfermedad en prisión, y el Departamento de Correcciones aún está castigando a 18 prisioneros por exigir que el estado proteja la seguridad de las personas encarceladas. La pandemia no discrimina por el delito de sentencia y tampoco debe hacerlo Inslee. Sigamos exigiendo hasta que #LiberenATodosWA

Washington Interfaith Disaster Recovery Organization (WIDRO) is a network of faith–based groups committed to collaboratively maximizing the deployment of our respective resources when responding to Washington State disasters.

WIDRO provides an essential and primary link for communicating key information and guidance among faith–based groups/individuals/communities following a disaster event. WIDRO also engages in disaster related education, preparation and mitigation efforts between disaster events.

WIDRO maintains a network of people and organizations from faith based and secular organizations willing to share information, experiences, resources and strategies.

During an active disaster event and recovery activities, WIDRO will contact network partners providing services within impacted area and assess their potential capacity to respond.

This link will give you a good description & information of each member group:
http://widro.org/links.htm

SERVICES PROVIDED DURING ACTIVE DISASTER RECOVERY ACTIVITIES:

1. Contact network partners within impacted areas to assess their potential capacity to respond.

2. Establish contact with other local faith organizations and community agencies within impacted areas when a network partner is not available.

3. Develop resources to enable local WIDRO partners, faith organizations and community agencies to establish, manage and maintain manage an interfaith/LTRO program where appropriate.

4. Coordinate activities with WAVOAD and provide financial resources when available and appropriate to respond to unmet needs documented by the WAVOAD Unmet Needs Committee.

5. Serve as a liaison between LTROs and national denominations/faith–based groups and other interested national organizations.

6. Serve as a reliable source of disaster response and recovery information and expertise.

7. Serve as a communication link among active response and recovery groups.

The West Seattle Food Bank works to eliminate hunger in West Seattle so that no one in our community will go to bed hungry.

We not only provide nutritious food to our clients, we also work to eliminate the root causes of hunger by educating clients on nutrition, generating public awareness of hunger in our community and coordinating a range of community services for clients.

Hunger is a critical issue in West Seattle for the working poor, single parents, fixed–income seniors and children. Opened in 1981, the West Seattle Food Bank serves over 500 families each week.

In addition to providing groceries, the West Seattle Food Bank provides baby food, formula, and other infant supplies; toddler bags; pet food; personal hygiene items; books; gardening information and supplies; and voter registration. We also provide information and referrals to other social service agencies.

The White Center Food Bank serves more than 1,000 hungry families each month. Last year, we provided food to more than 12,000 households and 18,000 infants and children. We could not provide these services to the White Center community without the generosity of our donors and volunteers. However, more help is needed to meet the overwhelming demands of this community!

The White Center Food Bank strives to provide the best possible services to its community. Our efforts include:
* Providing nutritious and culturally relevant food to the diverse White Center community, which is rich with people who have recently immigrated from locations all over the world.
* Partnering with other local organizations:
*Building a baby pantry with Westside Baby to support low–income families with infants. – OPEN M–W–F 1–4pm (location?)
*Opening the food bank 2 evenings per month to better serve working families with the support of the local Kiwanis, the 34th District Democrats and Fauntleroy UCC Church.
*Offering foods that meet special dietary needs such as diabetes and low salt diets, and providing no–cook bags for homeless individuals and families through our partnership with the Emergency Feeding Program.

Providing help and hope in the midst of disaster

It's heartbreaking to watch the tragedy unfolding in Japan and to witness the tremendous loss experienced by the Japanese people.

Japan TsunamiAs experts in providing aid during catastrophic events in developing countries, our disaster response team has offered technical assistance and support to our partner organizations that are already on the ground in Japan. We're also supporting local churches in communities affected by the earthquake and tsunami. Churches are being used as shelters and points of support, hosting evacuees and providing food and water to those in need.

The greatest needs following any disaster are spiritual as well as physical. People need hope. They need encouragement. The Japanese people are showing amazing resolve during this tragedy, and knowing others care aids in their healing.

We're working through Christian partner organizations, which are assessing the situation in hard hit communities, then mobilizing as information and needs are communicated. Your gift helps ensure the victims of this disaster get the urgent help they need.

Thank you for entrusting World Concern with your donation. We will make sure it reaches those in need. Click here to donate.

From our blog: Moved to respond: expertise in disasters

Watching the earthquake and tsunami disaster unfold in northeastern Japan this week has been painful for all of us. Hundreds of thousands of people have been impacted, and aftershocks continue on a daily basis, reminding the Japanese people that this tragedy is far from over. Continue Reading.

Runs out of at Riverton Park United Methodist Church

The City of Tukwila, Washington is just south of Seattle in King County. The city is home to an extensive retail and business area including Westfield Shoppingtown Southcenter Mall. Boeing Field is located at the North end of Tukwila. Because of the many businesses located in the city, 45,000 people come to work in Tukwila daily, but only 17,000 people actually live within the city limits.

South King county has a large percentage of families with children living in poverty. At Cascade View Elementary School, just two blocks from the Tukwila Pantry, over 80% of the students qualify for free and reduced lunch programs.

At the Tukwila Pantry we secure and distribute nutritious food to clients. Volunteers from the Tukwila Pantry pick up food daily from Albertsons, Costco, Sam's Club and Gai's Bakery. Twice weekly the Pantry truck picks up food from Northwest Harvest and Food Lifeline. Gathering this food allows the Tukwila pantry to feed our clients for about 10¢ a meal. Even with these generous donations, the Pantry has certain operating costs. Transportation of food, utilities, and the salary of one paid employee are the major expenses.

The Pantry's food is stored in two 25–foot containers and one 48–foot trailer. We have a large walk–in refrigerator/freezer that UPS donated in 2004. Forty to fifty volunteers work 30 hours a week to distribute food to people who are in need.

The Tukwila Pantry is an 'emergency' food bank. Clients come to the Tukwila Pantry when they can't make ends meet. Sometimes they have applied for food stamps but haven't received them yet, or sometimes an unexpected expense such as a medical bill or higher than normal utilities have interrupted their budget. The Tukwila Pantry serves other communities as well. Over 1,500 households from Seatac, Burien and the surrounding areas were served in 2005.

The clients of the Tukwila Pantry are your neighbors. You may live in a different suburb, or community, but you visit Tukwila and Seatac when you fly to Seattle, or visit Southcenter Mall and the surrounding businesses. You have an opportunity to provide food to children in these cities who are hungry by making a financial contribution to the Tukwila Pantry. At 10¢ a meal your money will go far. Please help by sending a contribution to the Tukwila Pantry today.

Please don't delay — "In the land of plenty, plenty are hungry." You can make a difference.

Kelly Bachenberg
Tukwila Pantry Board Chairman

More details & applications at:
http://www.forwardedge.org/opportunities/serve.shtml
Groups, Individuals

Distaster Relief and Construction –
Restoring/rebuilding damaged homes
Helping to build new homes
Building new classrooms for schools
Praying with and encouraging those who have been hurt by disaster

Who is needed?
You! Are you willing to work hard, learn something new, and offer love and hope to those in need? There are many reeling from disaster, desperate for your help. Skilled labor is also needed including craftspeople, carpenters or trades people.

Health Care Projects
Pour concrete floors in homes to help prevent infection
Help provide clean water for better health
Ophthalmology services (exams, cataract removal)
Surgery
Hold general health care clinics

Who is needed?
You! Do you feel compassion for those in need of preventative and acute health care? There are hurting people who need your willing hands and heart. Skilled labor is also needed, including doctors, nurses, dentists and care techs.

Share Your Passion...Host a Party for a Purpose!
http://www.forwardedge.org/opportunities/pfap.shtml

Are you passionate about rescuing vulnerable children? Are you looking for a way to do more, from home? Then a Party for a Purpose is perfect for you.

What is a Party for a Purpose? It is a casual way to get others interested and involved in a cause you are passionate about. The typical Party will take place in your home; it is an opportunity to explain a bit about the cause and Forward Edge, and to show others how they can get involved.

GIFT–IN–KIND DONATIONS
Thank you for partnering with Forward Edge to bless those less fortunate!

If you have specific items you wish to donate to one of the areas or causes Forward Edge International supports, please contact us at fei@forwardedge.org or 360.574.3343. We will discuss with you what items are needed, and seek to match your gift with the area of greatest need.

Because of storage, shipping and baggage restrictions, we may not be able to accept all items, however there are a number of wonderful charities closer to home in desperate need of many items. If there is an item we are unable to use we will work to refer you to a ministry in need of your specific gift.

We pledge to handle your gifts in a responsible and ethical manner, keeping the heart of your gift our highest priority.

Wildfire Information
Our community has been deeply impacted by the Spokane Complex Fire. If you are directly impacted by loss and evacuation, please know that our hearts are with you. We are compiling a list of information and City services to help you navigate this difficult time.

We will continue to update the Wildfire Information page with resources for evacuees, frequently asked questions about city services, ways to help, cleanup efforts, and information on rebuilding as it becomes available.

Our regional partners are also committed to providing information and resources to those affected by the fires. Spokane County has compiled a Demolition and Rebuilding FAQ and Next Steps FAQ which provide additional useful information. Please visit the Spokane County Website for more information.

Flooding Storm Update #5

CAMP MURRAY, WASH.—Significant rainfall on top of recent snowfall is causing flooding throughout the state. Seventeen counties, ten cities, and two tribal emergency operations centers (EOCs) are open. Chelan, Clallam, Columbia, Cowlitz, Jefferson, Kittitas, Lewis, Pierce, Skagit, Skamania, Spokane, Thurston, Walla Walla, Wahkiakum and Whatcom Counties plus the cities of North Bonneville, Orting, Shelton, Snoqualmie, South Prairie, Spokane, Sumner and Wilkeson have declared emergencies. The Governor's Proclamation of Emergency signed Dec. 24, 2008 continues supporting local jurisdictions in their response to this storm emergency.

Livestock shelters have opened in Pierce County at Frontier Park and Puyallup Fairgrounds, plus a pet shelter at the Sumner Veterinary Center. Snohomish County opened a livestock shelter at the Evergreen Fairgrounds and Thurston County has opened the Thurston County Fairgrounds. Please contact 2–1–1 regarding livestock and pet shelter status.

Current
The reservation encompasses 2,116,802 acres (8,566.39 km2) of land, consisting of: tribally owned lands held in federal trust status for the Colville Confederated Tribes, land owned by individual Colville tribal members (most of which is also held in federal trust status), and land owned by other tribal or non–tribal entities.

7,587 people live on the reservation (2000 census), including both Colville tribe members and non–tribe members. Most live either in small communities or in rural settings. Approximately half of the Confederated Tribes' enrolled members live on or near the reservation. According to the Tribes records in 2015, they have 9500 enrolled members.[3]

Major towns and cities within the reservation include Omak (part), Nespelem, Inchelium, Keller, and Coulee Dam (part).

In 1997 and 1998, the Colville Confederated Tribes commemorated the 125th anniversary of the signing of the Executive Order that created the reservation.

Jan. 2009: Building and Planning Department
Announcement

The Cowlitz County Department of Building and Planning is offering courtesy building inspections to property owners outside city limits that have been subjected to flood damage from the recent storm. This inspection is being offered in an effort to help people in determining if any possible health or life/fire safety issues exist before re–occupying their homes and other structures. Please contact the building department at 577–3052 with a request for an inspection or for any other questions related to wells, septic systems or structures.

About Cowlitz County:

Cowlitz County is home to approximately 94,000 residents. Roughly 56% of those live in the incorporated cities of Castle Rock, Kelso, Longview, Kalama, and Woodland. The remaining 44% live in rural, unincorporated communities such as Ryderwood, Toutle, Yale, Silver Lake, Lexington, Ariel and Cougar. The county covers 1,144 square miles within the southwestern region of Washington. Once known as the “Timber Capital of the World,” Cowlitz County is home to Douglas fir, hemlock and western cedar trees which cover much of its rugged terrain. Cowlitz County still produces a large supply of logs and finished lumber for domestic and international markets, but has become more diversified. Adjacent transportation corridors including Interstate 5, the Columbia River and a major rail line have allowed Cowlitz County to access major markets throughout the world. Recently, Cowlitz County has become known for its tourist attractions and tourism has become a growing industry. The May 18, 1980 eruption of nearby Mount St. Helens forever changed the landscape and the role tourism plays as an industry in Cowlitz County

About Mason County WA:

Mason County is the gateway to the Olympic Peninsula of Western Washington State. It hosts great industrial sites and a general aviation airport that is ready for investment. We are located at the doorstep of the Olympic Mountains, with miles of freshwater and saltwater shoreline. We boast great transportation access to connect to Interstate 5 and its corridor between Seattle, Washington and Portland, Oregon, with reasonably-priced land and an economic engine driven by value added forest products, manufacturing and shellfish industries. We welcome inquiries from all industries.

2020 Wildfire

Whitman County - Malden & Pine City

South of Spokane, in Whitman County, the Babb-Malden Fire burned through the town of Malden and smaller Pine City. It destroyed 121 homes, eight businesses and 94 other buildings. Another fire in the area, the Manning Fire, destroyed several homes and a historic 102-year-old covered wooden bridge across the Palouse River.

Tearing Down The Elwha River Dam – http://www.popularmechanics.com/science/environment/water/2294301

The two reservoirs must ultimately be drained of 48,600 acre-ft. of water--enough to flood Safeco Ballpark in Seattle, the home of the Mariners, to the height of a 130-story skyscraper. Then there is the reservoirs' sediment, 18 million cubic yards of the stuff, an amount so large that scientists have studied the debris flows from the explosion of Mount St. Helens to gauge how aquatic life will react to it washing downstream. Reservoir drawdowns will be carefully timed to manage turbidity.

By late 2011, both dams will be history, reservoirs drained and raw banks softened by sprouting trees. It will take three to five years for the river to flush out excess sediment, but the fish, Winter says, will likely reappear in a few months. It will be 30 years before the population is fully restored.

Biggest Dam Removal In U.S. History Underway

SustainableBusiness.com News

The largest dam removal project in U.S. History is undeway in Olympic National Park in Washington State.

Two dams on the Elwha river, constructed 100 years ago without fish ladders, are being taken out to restore roughly 70 miles of river and stream habitat for wild salmon.

Tom Banse of OPB News filed a radio report on the efforts, stating that salmon still come to the base of the lower dam after all these years and swim about aimlessly with no route to move farther inland.

Removal of the dams has been under consideration since 1986, when the Lower Elwha Klallam Indian tribe first challenged the relicensing of 210–foot tall Glines Canyon Dam and the 108–foot tall Elwha Dam.

What does each phase mean?
At Phase I, County personnel are put on alert and preparations are made to open the Flood Warning Center. When a Phase II threshold is reached, the Center is opened. Staff at the Center monitor river gages and flood conditions around the clock, and gage information is updated hourly on a recorded message (call 206-296-8200 or 800-945-9263). When a Phase III threshold is reached, investigation crews are sent out to monitor flood control facilities (such as levees). Phase II-IV warnings are issued to police, fire departments, schools, other agencies, and the public through news media and in some neighborhoods through volunteer telephone trees.

Long-Term Recovery Organizations Provide Disaster Assistance

Release Date: April 6, 2009
Release Number: 1817-059

OLYMPIA, Wash. -- As Washington residents have demonstrated throughout the storms and flooding of the past few years, they care not only for themselves, but for their neighbors, too. Now, concern for the welfare of their communities is leading individuals and faith-based and voluntary groups to work together in local Long-Term Disaster Recovery Organizations (LTROs).

The mission of an LTRO is to help those neighbors for whom federal and state disaster assistance will not be enough. An LTRO may serve as a clearinghouse and point of contact for volunteer efforts to repair damaged housing, mediating between homeowners in need and volunteer groups that come to do the repair work.

For example, in one county, an elderly, disabled man had extensive damage to his roof after the storms in January. He was able to receive help from FEMA for temporary housing, and he did have insurance to cover his expenses. But he needed help bringing it all together. While some volunteers from an LTRO agency helped the man complete his insurance claim forms and deal with the insurance company, other volunteers installed a tarp until a new roof could be built.

When applicants with disaster damage have exhausted all available FEMA/state assistance and still have serious unmet needs, they are referred by the state to an LTRO. The state will identify the agency with the appropriate resources to help, then will provide the applicant with the phone number of the county LTRO. The applicant then calls the LTRO.

"Recovering from natural disasters is the work of many hands, many agencies – government and private – and many dedicated individuals," said Federal Coordinating Officer Willie Nunn. "FEMA programs are part of the recovery process, but people still have long–term needs that go beyond the scope of government assistance. Fortunately, Washington's Long–Term Recovery Organizations are working now to provide that help."

The Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) brings to every major disaster a team of people who specialize in helping form LTROs. In Washington, FEMA's Voluntary Agency Liaison group is working with Washington Voluntary Organizations Active in Disasters (WA–VOAD) to assess needs, forge connections with outside agencies, meet with many local groups and organizations, and provide guidance as needed.

LTROs combine the resources of voluntary groups in the county. Typically, they are comprised of social voluntary and faith–based organizations. The organizations that participate in an LTRO expand their opportunities to assist residents affected by the disaster. By coordinating their efforts, they make the best use of each member's services and resources, while allowing them to share information and thus avoid duplication of benefits.

"These committees facilitate a simultaneous access to agencies' information, creating a joint forum to share viable solutions to issues and problems, including unmet needs cases in their community," said State Coordinating Officer Kurt Hardin.

FEMA leads and supports the nation in a risk–based, comprehensive emergency management system of preparedness, protection, response, recovery, and mitigation to reduce the loss of life and property and protect the nation from all hazards including natural disasters, acts of terrorism, and other man–made disasters.

Flooding Storm Update #5

CAMP MURRAY, WASH.—Significant rainfall on top of recent snowfall is causing flooding throughout the state. Seventeen counties, ten cities, and two tribal emergency operations centers (EOCs) are open. Chelan, Clallam, Columbia, Cowlitz, Jefferson, Kittitas, Lewis, Pierce, Skagit, Skamania, Spokane, Thurston, Walla Walla, Wahkiakum and Whatcom Counties plus the cities of North Bonneville, Orting, Shelton, Snoqualmie, South Prairie, Spokane, Sumner and Wilkeson have declared emergencies. The Governor's Proclamation of Emergency signed Dec. 24, 2008 continues supporting local jurisdictions in their response to this storm emergency.

Record Flooding
Flood warnings are in effect today through Friday for 14 counties in Western Washington and seven in Eastern Washington. Twenty–four rivers are projected to experience flooding in the next 24–48 hours. Several rivers will be near record flood levels. http://ahps2.wrh.noaa.gov/ahps2/index.php?wfo=sew

Evacuations
Voluntary evacuations are recommended for the cities of Fife, Kelso, Naselle, Orting, Packwood, Randle, Snoqualmie, South Kelso and Stanwood plus Riverside Fire District 10 in east Pierce County.

JANUARY 8, 2009 – UPDATES

Puyallup Emergency Management Department says the Puyallup River at Puyallup has crested and is not expected to rise further. Although there is continues to be flood effects and standing water throughout the city, all who were evacuated yesterday are clear to return to their homes and businesses. Emergency Managenment personnel still caution citizens to head road closures and be cautious in flooded zones.,

The National Weather Service has downgraded the flow and height expectancy for the Puyallup River. The river has been receding since early this morning.

The National Weather Service, Advanced Hyrdrologic Prediction Service updates river information continuously on its website. Click here for the NWS latest predictions on the Puyallup River.

JANUARY 7, 2009 UPDATES

11:00 p.m. –The Puyallup EOC is working with the State and Pierce County EOCs on a plan to reroute traffic from River Road if flooding makes it necessary to close the road. There has been no decision to do so, but the WSDOT and the City of Puyallup want to be prepared.

Sound Transit has announced that all morning and afternoon trains between Seattle and Tacoma have been cancelled for Thursday, January 8. Check www.soundtransit.org rider alerts for updates or call 1–888–889–6368.

Evacuation
The Puyallup Office of Emergency Management directed volunteer evacuations in three flood prone zones in Puyallup today. Puyallup Police officers have been going door to door on East Main Street advising residents and businesses of the impending flood.

The EOC began a series of Reverse 911 calls this afternoon to alert citizens in three flood–prone zones in Puyallup. The EOC advised citizens to secure property and valuables and move themselves, their families and pets away from the flood zone.

Nazarene Church shelter closed: Early this afternoon two shelters were opened in Puyallup, Bethany Baptist Church (713 South Hill Park Drive) and the Puyallup Church of the Nazarene. Because the Nazarene church is in one of Puyallup's flood zones, the EOC has asked they transfer their people to Bethany Baptist Church on South Hill. Valley Community Inn, a mental health facility in downtown Puyallup has also moved 49 special needs people to Sunrise Lutheran Church on Shaw Road. For more shelter options see Pierce County Emergency Information.

Here is a list of earlier actions taken by the City of Puyallup on Wednesday, January 7:

8:00 a.m. – Puyallup Emergency Operations Center activated. Citizens with non–lifethreatening emergency should call the EOC Hotline at (253) 770–3336.

9:25 a.m. – Meridian Access Road off of Levy Road is closed for deployment of flood diversion tubes.

9:30 a.m. – The Puyallup EOC has been notified that the Graham Shelter is open – 10118 249th St. E., Graham

11:30 p.m. – The Puyallup EOC has been notified by NOAA that the Puyallup River is expected to rise to 36 feet. Previously the river was expected to rise to 30.3 feet.

12:30 p.m. – The Emergency Management Director is directing certain residents and businesses along East Main to evacuate as soon as possible.

1:00 p.m. - Emergency shelter open at Bethany Baptist Church, 713 South Hill Park Drive and Church of Nazarene.

5:00 p.m. – Church of Nazarene shelter closed due to potential flooding.

Be in touch. Stay in touch.
The Regional Public Information Network is your one–stop resource for news alerts from more than 75 government, utility, health and first–responder agencies serving citizens in King, Pierce and Snohomish counties.

Normally, RPIN public information officers use the Web site and e–alert system to publish news from their agencies only. During a regional emergency, these same public information officers may work through a regional joint information center, or RJIC, to share and coordinate joint messages to the public through RPIN.

Make RPIN part of your routine.
RPIN delivers advance warnings for routine disruptions, such as planned road closures and construction, transit, airport and traffic changes and early warnings for potentially dangerous weather.

RPIN also delivers real–time news for unplanned disruptions and life–threatening emergencies, such as disease outbreaks, environmental hazards, wild fires, earthquakes, terrorism, and tsunami, flooding and severe storm warnings.

Know before it happens!
Keep your family safe. Turn to RPIN for tips on how to prepare before emergencies occur and what to do if they happen. Subscribe to RPIN e–alerts to be notified immediately of breaking news and emergencies via your e–mail and/or mobile wireless devices.

2010 Chile Earthquake
http://www.salvationarmynw.org/news/articles.asp?StoryID=850

Immediate Salvation Army response to devastating earthquake in Chile

Following a devastating 8.8 magnitude earthquake in Chile during the early hours of Saturday morning, Salvation Army emergency Services were immediately mobilized to provide support and comfort. International financial assistance is already on the way. The Salvation Army has had a presence in Chile since 1909 and today offers social services including hospitals, schools for impoverished children and adult rehabilitation.

The immediate response is to provide food, water, first aid kits, emergency packets, blankets, candles and other urgently required supplies. A recently arrived mobile canteen (a donation From The Salvation Army in the United States) is one of the key relief vehicles.

Donors can visit www.salvationarmyusa.org to make a donation to support ongoing relief efforts in Chile. Also, they can text the word "chile" to 52000 to make a one–time $10 donation billed to their cell phone account.

The Salvation Army personnel on the ground has placed tents to house 60 displaced families on the grounds of a Salvation Army center near Concepcion. Salvation Army officers are traveling from Puerto Montt and Osorno, in Southern Chile, to Concepcion to join The Salvation Army emergency relief response team.

The earthquake epicenter was approximately 90 miles North west of the city of Concepción in Southern Chile. This is approximately 350 miles from the capital of Santiago. Nevertheless, according to officials on the ground, the quake was of a 7.0 magnitude in the Santiago metropolitan region.
People have flocked to the streets as numerous aftershocks continue to pummel the country, severely affecting older buildings in the more historical areas of the larger cities.

The Salvationists I met have no unusual skills or training that distinguish them from many others. They do have, though, a commitment to dash in, and remain in, places where the natural instinct would be to flee. They soldier on. ––Kathryn Jean Lopez, Organization Trends February 2002

The Salvation Army's Disaster Services program began 100 years ago in response to a hurricane that devastated Galveston, Texas and has grown into a nation–wide network involving thousands of volunteers and trained personnel. In following with our holistic ministry, we provide services that meet the immediate as well as long term physical, emotional and spiritual needs of disaster victims.

These services include: food, shelter, grief counseling and financial assistance. Our disaster response teams are often the first to appear on the scene of a tragedy and the last to leave, making certain that the needs of all have been met.

Shelters offer protection from cold, snow in King, Snohomish and Kitsap counties

Posted by Jill Kimball

Below–freezing temperatures are once again hitting the Seattle area Monday and Tuesday nights, and King, Snohomish and Kitsap county residents who need shelter from the cold can find it at more than a dozen warming shelters.

According to the National Weather Service, the temperature will dip to 27 degrees Monday night. Snow and a 31–degree low will hit Seattle Tuesday after dark.

The following shelters are open in Seattle:

YWCA Angeline's Center for Homeless Women, at 2030 Third Ave., is open nightly from 9:30 p.m. to 5:30 a.m. It can accommodate up to 30 women.

The King County Administrative Building at 500 Fourth Ave. is open nightly from 9:30 p.m. to 5:30 a.m. and can accommodate up to 50 men.

Seattle City Hall on Fourth Avenue between James and Cherry streets is open nightly starting at 9 p.m. and can accommodate up to 75 people. Call 684–0231 for more information.

The Frye Hotel at Third Avenue and Yesler Street is open nightly until further notice at 8 p.m. and can accommodate up to 25 women. Call 684–0231 for information.

The Rainier Room at Seattle Center at 805 Harrison St. is open Monday evening at 9 p.m. It accommodates both men and women.

In the rest of King County, the following shelters are open:

Crossroads Community Center at 16000 N.E. 10th St. in Bellevue is open whenever the overnight low is expected to drop below freezing, including Monday and Tuesday nights, from 8:30 p.m. to 7:30 a.m. It can accommodate up to 50 people. For more information, call 425–614–8544.

Kent Lutheran Church at 336 Second Ave. S. in Kent will be open from 9 p.m. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights to 7 a.m. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

The Les Gove Building at 1020 Deals Way in Auburn is open from 9 p.m. to 7 a.m. every day until further notice. Call 253–334–3860 for more information.

In Snohomish County, the following shelters are open:

Four Arlington churches are open this week as overnight warming shelters. All four accept people from 8 to 10 p.m. and close at 7 a.m. the following day. Immaculate Conception Church at 1200 E. Fifth St. will be open Monday night. Our Savior's Lutheran Church at 615 East Highland Drive will be open Tuesday and Wednesday nights; Arlington Free Methodist Church at 730 East Highland Drive will be open Thursday and Friday nights; Arlington United Church at 338 N. MacLeod Ave. will be open Saturday night; and Immaculate Conception Church is open again Sunday night. For information, call 360–403–4674.

The Salvation Army at 2525 Rucker Ave. in Everett is open from 8 p.m. Monday to 7 a.m. Tuesday.

A shelter in Lynnwood will be open Monday night. Anyone who wants to stay there should check in at 6:45 p.m. at Lynnwood City Hall, 19100 44th Ave. W, to get transportation to the shelter. It will close at 7 a.m. Tuesday. For more information, call 425–419–7938.

The following shelters in Kitsap County will open at 6 p.m. Monday and Tuesday and close at 7 a.m. Tuesday and Wednesday:

The Coffee Oasis at 822 Burwell St. in Bremerton will accommodate teens only.

St. Paul's Episcopal Church at 700 Callahan Ave. in Bremerton is open to everyone.

First Lutheran Church of Poulsbo at 18920 4th Avenue Northeast in Poulsbo is open to everyone.

□WASHINGTON AND OREGON□

There is possibility of the wildlife moving towards town, and into your neighborhood. Their territories are burning, and their flight instincts will kick in. That means deer, elk, coyote, bear, mountain lion, birds, small mammals, and anything else running around the forests will move toward safety. Bring in your pets and put out buckets of water for them. They will be scared and tired. Give them time to rest. Their world is burning and they have no where to go.

Free Legal Services Available For Flood Victims
Release Date: January 14, 2008
Release Number: 1734–040

LACEY, Wash. –– The Washington State Bar Association (WSBA) has activated a hotline for low–income residents needing legal help to recover from the recent flooding in western Washington. Families and individuals with legal problems caused by the disaster who cannot afford their own lawyer can get free legal advice from volunteer WSBA attorneys.

This free legal assistance is available to low–income individuals and families affected by the flooding of December 1–17 who reside in counties designated to receive Individual Assistance: Clallam, Grays Harbor, King, Kitsap, Lewis, Mason, Pacific, Snohomish, Thurston and Wahkiakum.

The toll–free number is 1–866–519–7099. Call Monday – Friday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

WSBA staff will monitor the line daily. A division lawyer will contact the caller to gather more information and match flood victims with volunteer attorneys.

The WSBA volunteer legal assistance typically includes:

Help with insurance claims (life, medical, property, etc.)
Replacement of wills and other important legal documents lost in the flood
Assistance with home repair contracts and contractors
Counseling on landlord/tenant problems
Advice on eviction or foreclosure problems
Drafting of powers of attorney
Preparation of guardianships and conservatorships
Referring individuals to local and State agencies that may be of further assistance
There are limitations and conditions of disaster legal services. Call the hotline for more information.

FEMA's Individual Assistance program can help eligible applicants with temporary housing assistance; uninsured personal property replacement; medical, dental and funeral expenses caused by the disaster; and other serious unmet needs. To register with FEMA, call 1–800–621–FEMA (3362) or register online at www.fema.gov. The TTY number is 1–800–462–7585.

FEMA coordinates the federal government's role in preparing for, preventing, mitigating the effects of, responding to, and recovering from all domestic disasters, whether natural or man–made, including acts of terror.

Home- and business owners should report storm damage now

CAMP MURRAY, WASH. — Home- and small business owners around the state who have damages from the recent winter weather should file a report with their local emergency management office immediately.

What to report: Home- and business owners
In addition to notifying their insurance company (if they have one), home- and business owners also should report damages to the emergency management agency in the community where their home or business is located. Information to have on hand:

• Name and address of the affected property.
• A description of damage, even if it insured.
• A personal estimate of losses that will be uninsured.
• An estimate of the fair market value of the damaged home or business.

Also to consider for families and individuals:

• If you need housing, food and other basics, notify the American Red Cross chapter in your community.
• In addition to reporting damages, call your insurance agent to check on your coverage.
• Keep records of all clean-up and repair costs and, if possible, document with photographs.

What to report: Business owners only
Small business owners have two kinds of damage to think about—physical (covered above) and economic. The good news is that if five businesses can document economic losses as a result of the adverse weather, the state could qualify for an Economic Injury Disaster Loan (EIDL) Program from the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA).

Business owners who have seen a negative affect on their revenues and ability to pay expenses should consider completing an EIDL worksheet to document the losses. Completed worksheets are submitted to the county emergency management agency where the business is located. Completing the worksheet does not obligate a business owner to apply for an SBA loan. It merely quantifies the economic impact and allows the state to request a SBA Economic Injury Disaster Loan Program for those businesses that need and want it.

The state must certify that at least five small businesses in a disaster area have suffered substantial economic injury and need financial assistance not otherwise available on reasonable terms. The state must specify the counties or other political subdivisions in which the disaster occurred. For this to happen, county emergency managers must submit an assessment of damages in their jurisdiction to the state by Feb. 13.The one-page EIDL worksheet is located at: http://emd.wa.gov/disaster/documents/EconomicInjuryWorksheetnew9-2007.pdf.
